THE PHILOSOPHERS AND THE OERA LINDA BOOK

By Kat the Fryan

This work is dedicated to my good Fryand Scotland Sean for sticking with me through all the craziness on our truth journey. Thank you.

Table of Contents

Part 1- The Age of Reason and the Oera Linda Book 5
(Thomas Paine ~ February 9, 1737-June 8, 1809)

Part 2- On Himmler and the Oera Linda Book 53 (Heinrich Himmler ~ October 7, 1900-May 23, 1945)

Part 3- On Hitler and Christianity 89 (Adolf Hitler ~ April 20, 1889-April 30, 1945)

Part 4- Which Way Western Man Decoded 175
(William Gayley Simpson ~ July 23, 1892-December 31, 1990)

While making this book I learned that the original language of Frya was Diets. And we know the Fryans were Monotheists and looked to Nature for the word of God. Thus, the Fryans were the original Deists. Quite fitting that the clue is perfectly in the name.

DIETS ~ DEIST

The Age of Reason and The Oera Linda Book

I've come full circle on my awakening journey. When I first woke up back in 2009, I watched Zeitgeist, like I'm sure many of you did. That movie raised a lot of questions in my mind regarding religion. I was determined to figure out for myself what was in fact TRUE. If there really was a God, gods, or no god at all. And how did we come to be here? And what was our purpose?

Although I agree with the basic history of religion given in Zeitgeist, I've come to realize that it is corrupt too. Zeitgeist is just another tool of the controllers to keep you in untruths. They do NOT want you to find out the truth about our world and our place in it.

And I do NOT agree with Ball Earth Theory.

My father was an intelligent man. He had a PHD in Philosophy (Philosophy means "lover of wisdom"), and he was an Atheist. So, I thought he was an expert in religion. He told me as a little girl that if he found out I stepped foot in a church he would disown me. It didn't bother me so much then because I really didn't have an opinion, I was Agnostic, but I did trust him that it was a thing to be wary of.

After becoming an adult, and waking up to the truth about 9/11, and finding out that our government really doesn't care about us, and that there IS a group of people trying to take over the world, I wanted to get to the truth about God and this world. It DID bother me then, a whole lot. Politics and religion, the two things that we were never to discuss in society.

And so, I became a Philosopher.

This is the first video I watched in my awakening journey. And my journey down the first rabbit hole began.

I started out by reading books that my father would approve of, by popular atheists, such as Richard Dawkins and his book, The God Delusion, and Christopher Hitchens, and his book, god is Not Great. And for a bit I thought they were right. Dawkins mentioned prayer and how it didn't really help anyone.

But a little while later I did the Emoto Rice Experiment where you give good energy to one jar of rice in water and bad energy to another jar. Well after just a few days the good energy jar smelled like vanilla and was a nice gold color, while the bad energy jar was of a dark murky consistency and smelled rancid. So, I KNEW from this experiment that your energy DOES matter and that the TYPE of energy you send out to the world is most important. And prayer, being good energy, WILL help.

BUT should you be praying for petty things like a new car, or getting that promotion? Or are you ONLY to pray when you are in a life and death situation and there is nothing else you can do? We will see what Paine, Hitler and the Oera Linda Book (OLB) say on this.

EMOTO RICE EXPERIMENT- My actual jars. I said, "Thank you" to the good jar and "You Idiot!" to the bad jar. You can see how the Thank You jar's water is a golden color and the Idiot jar's water is much darker. Also, the rice in the Thank You jar was puffed up while the Idiot jar's rice was broken down. What's interesting about this is that the sun's "rays" enrich us- puffs us up, while the moon's "rays" break us down. One builds up, the other tears down. Two different energies.

In the OLB, the Fryans would first do everything possible to get out of a situation, but once there was nothing else they could do, they then would turn to WRALDA and PRAY for his help!

From the OLB we read, When in dire distress, and when sound advice and good deeds avail to nothing, then call on the spirit of Wralda; but do not appeal to him before you have tried all other means. I tell you with reason and time will prove its truth and that those who give way to discouragement sink under their burdens.

So, you can see why I wasn't convinced about Atheism. I had actual physical proof against Dawkins' claims in MY JARS!

Unfortunately, I couldn't share my discovery with my father because he had subsequently passed away. It saddened me that he died as an Atheist. It must have been hard thinking there is no life after this one and that we just return to the ground and decay.

From there I listened to Dr. Jack Pruett on You Tube and really liked his work. He mentioned Thomas Paine's book The Age of Reason on one of his live chats and so I decided to give it a read.

Let me just say that Pruett was another rabbit hole I went down for a brief period, Today I see many things wrong with his book The Grandest Deception. In addition, I found out that he was good friends with Senator Ron Paul, who is controlled opposition. Pruett died in 2021.

In The Age of Reason, Paine talks of God and His Creation- Nature, and that the Bible is a tool of control and power and not the word of God. This really resonated with me. I have already looked to Nature for the answers to so many things, such as how we should eat, the medicinal benefits of plants and animal foods, where we are meant to live, how animals interact with one another and how we should therefore act. But I got caught up in other rabbit holes in my truth journey and forgot about what I learned from Paine's writings.

That is until present day, AFTER I researched Flat Earth, who really controls our government and is trying to take over the world, my Christian Identity journey, then the OLB, then Table Talk, finding out what Hitler really did think on religion, and learning about Kant, Schopenhauer and Nietzsche. And then, picking up The Age of Reason once again. And THIS time I got it. I truly understand where Paine was coming from and I agree!

I came Full Circle.

I think it was necessary for me to "proofread" Paine when my journey started out so I can see where I am today, the lessons I've learned, and how I am WELL GROUNDED in the TRUTH now.

I will be forever grateful to Paine, the OLB and Adolf Hitler.

I loved how Paine didn't beat around the bush in his thoughts on religion, and especially Christianity.

Thomas Paine~ American Political Activist, Author, Philosopher, Founding Father (1737-1809)

My own mind is my own church.

Immanuel Kant didn't shirk in his thoughts either. The intelligent man will use his powers of reasoning to figure things out and NOT to defer one's reasoning to another.

Immanuel Kant~ German Philosopher (1724-1804)

Enlightenment is man's emergence from his self-imposed nonage. Nonage is the inability to use one's own understanding without another's guidance. This nonage is self-imposed if its cause lies not in lack of understanding but in indecision and lack of courage to use one's own mind without another's guidance. Dare to know! (Sapere aude.) Having the courage to use your own understanding is therefore the motto of the enlightenment. ~ Foundations of the Metaphysics of Morals by Immanuel Kant (Grundlegung zur Metaphysik der Sitten, 1785).

DEIST

Kant was a Deist, although some would like to split hairs and call him a Theist, but the two words are synonymous for most critics. He was alive during the same time frame as Thomas Paine, and both were part of a movement where they wanted people to think for themselves and not go through corrupted church intermediaries to understand God and His Creation.

I found this quote as proof of Paine being influenced by Kant in his Part 2 of The Age of Reason where Paine, Calls attention to the new departure in Theism indicated in a passage corresponding to a famous aphorism of Kant... it is plain that while the earlier work is an amplification of Newtonian Deism, based on the phenomena of planetary motion, the work of 1795 bases belief in God on the universal display of himself in the works of the creation and by that repugnance we feel in ourselves to bad actions, and disposition to do good ones.

Adolf Hitler, whose ideals were profoundly affected by Kant, as well as Kant's predecessors, Schopenhauer and Nietzsche, was also a Deist. He found religion to be a useful tool of devious men to manipulate people into deferring their judgement to them, giving them, the priests, and the Hidden Hand behind them, ultimate power.

Adolf Hitler~ Herr Fuhrer (1889- 1945)

In his writings in Table Talk, we learn that Hitler wanted religion removed from schools, and instead have astronomy, the study of the stars and the universe in its place. He wanted to put observatories in all the big German towns.

From Hitler's Table Talk, If I have an observatory built at Linz, I'll have the following words carved on its front: The heavens proclaim the glory of the eternal.

Observatory in Linz, Germany

Paine was into the stars as well, although he and Hitler followed Newton's views on space. (I think they both were unaware of the deception of ball earth.) The Fryans in the OLB were into the studying of the stars too. Remember that the center of every burgh had a tower. This tower was an observatory, and the highest building in the land. They saw the heavens as a divine place, and that when we die, we travel to our watch star.

In the OLB we read, My burgh lies near the north end of the Liudgarda. The tower has six sides. It is three times thirty feet high: flat on top, with a small house upon it from where they study the stars.

De Plompe Toren, Netherlands

Another well-known person that lived around the same time as Hitler and had similar views, was Arthur Desmond, author of Might is Right, penned under his pseudonym of Ragnar Redbeard.

Arthur Desmond aka Ragnar Redbeard~ English Political Activist, Poet, Author (1859-1929)

In his book, Might is Right, is a very fitting poem showing Desmond too, was a Deist.

Jewish books are for the Jews, and Jew messiahs too. But if you're not of Jewish blood, how can they be for you? To make an idol of a book, is poison for the brain, a dying god upon a cross is reason gone insane. Beware of all Holy books and all the creeds and schools, and every law that man has made and all the golden rules. Laws and Rules imposed on you from days of old renown, are not intended for your good but for your crushing down. Then dare to rend the chains that bind and to yourself be true. Dare to liberate your mind, from all things, old and new. Always think your own thoughts, all other thoughts reject, learn to use your own brain and boldly stand erect.

From the Wiki we learn that, Portions of Might Is Right comprise the vast majority of the Book of Satan in Anton LaVey's 1969 the Satanic Bible, the founding document of the Church of Satan. Though it is no longer included in current printings of the Satanic Bible, early printings included an extensive dedication to various people whom LaVey recognized as influences, including Ragnar Redbeard.

Remember that Anton LaVey was Jewish (Magy), and they take everything good, everything FRYAN, and use it for bad. This is the case with Ragnar's prose.

Anton Szandor LaVey (born Howard Stanton Levey; April 11, 1930 – October 29, 1997) was an American author, musician, and Satanist. He was the founder of the Church of Satan and the religion of Satanism.

But LaVey wasn't the only one to give Deism a bad name. Before him, to my surprise, the Englishman William Blake said many negative things about Deism.

William Blake~ English Poet and Painter (1757- 1827)

In his essay Of Jerusalem to the Deists, Blake writes, You O Deists profess yourselves the Enemies of Christianity; and you are so; you are also the Enemies of the Human Race and of Universal Nature. Man is born a Specter or Satan and is altogether an Evil and requires a New Selfhood continually and must continually be changed into his direct Contrary. But your Greek Philosophy (which is a remnant of Druidism) teaches that Man is righteous in his Vegetated Specter; An Opinion of fatal and accursed consequence to Man, as the Ancients saw plainly by Revelation to the entire abrogation of Experimental Theory, and many believed what they saw, and prophesied of Jesus.

Man must and will have some Religion: if he has not the Religion of Jesus, he will have the Religion of Satan, and will erect the Synagogue of Satan, calling the Prince of this World, God: and destroying all who do not worship Satan under the Name of God. Will anyone say, Where are those who worship Satan under the Name of God! Where are they? Listen! Every Religion that Preaches vengeance for Sins the Religion of the Enemy and Avenger; and not the Forgiver of Sin, and their God is Satan. Named by the Divine Name Your Religion O Deists: Deism, is the Worship of the God of this World by the means of what you call Natural Religion and Natural Philosophy and of Natural Morality or Self-Righteousness, the Selfish Virtues of the Natural Heart. This was the Religio of the Pharisees who murdered Jesus. Deism is the same and ends the same.

So, Blake gives us the "either or" scenario. You have to pick a side. Either you are with Jesus, or you are with Satan. (I wonder if LaVey got his idea to be a Deistic Satanist from Blake's writings?) Funny because the Deists don't believe in Jesus OR Satan! He tries to use fear to scare people away from the truth. Sounds like the same thing the Magy priests have done for hundreds of years. And it WILL work on people that are too lazy to look into it for themselves. They would rather defer their power over to "someone that knows better" than to think for themselves and find the truth.

And don't forget that Thomas Paine was a Founding Father. He was well respected among his peers. If they believed he was a Satanist, immoral in any respect, they wouldn't be associated with him. So, Blake comes out of left field with his "truths".

Founding Fathers of the United States of America

Paine was well read in the Bible. His family were Puritans and took their faith very seriously, as did most during that time. When he wrote Age of Reason, he did so while imprisoned by the Jacobite, Maximilien Robespierre, in a Luxembourg Prison and had to write his arguments regarding the Bible from memory and from a jail cell.

English satirist James Giliray ridicules Paine in his jail cell awaiting sentence of execution from three hanging judges.

Now let's see what Deism really is. I will be taking excerpts out of Thomas Paine's Age of Reason Part 1, and not from Part 2, since it basically carries the same ideas.

The first is a quote from the editor, whose name is not given.

We read, In the opening year, 1793, when revolutionary France had beheaded its king, the wrath turned next upon the King of kings, by whose grace every tyrant claimed to reign. But eventualities had brought among them a great English and American heart-Thomas Paine. He had pleaded for Louis Caper-Kill the king but spare the man. Now he pleaded, -Disbelieve in the King of kings, but do not confuse that idol with the Father of Mankind!

King Louis Caper with his head cut off by the Guillotine during the French Revolution

He saw the exceeding probability that a revolution in the system of government would be followed by a revolution in the system of religion, and that man would return to the pure, unmixed, and unadulterated belief of one God and no more.

We can see here that the pure, unmixed, and unadulterated belief in one God and no more, was the return to the belief of our original ancestors, the Fryans. They were monotheists and looked to God's Creation for all their answers about life and the world in which they lived.

From the OLB we read, Wralda is the only almighty being; because from him all other power is borrowed and returns to him. From him come all crafts and all crafts return to him. Therefore, he alone is the creator, and nothing was created outside of him.

There was every probability, during the months in which he wrote (November and December 1793) that he would be executed. His religious testament was prepared with the blade of the guillotine suspended over him. He was then imprisoned in the Luxembourg on December 28, 1793, and released on November 3, 1794. His liberation was secured by his old friend, James Monroe (afterwards became President of the US), who had succeeded Paine's relentless enemy, Governor Morris, as American Minister in Paris.

James Monroe, 6th President of the United States, (1758 – 1831)

It seems Paine was a threat more for his religious ideals than anything else, because seeing religion for what it really was would cause the powers that be to become the powers that be not.

Hitler said it rather succinctly in Table Talk as well, where he says, I can very well imagine how this collective madness came to birth. A Jew was discovered to whom it occurred that if one presented abstruse ideas to non-Jews would rack their brains to try to understand them. The fact of having their attention fixed on what does not exist must make them blind to what exists. An excellent calculation of the Jew's part. So, the Jew smacks his thighs to see how his diabolic stratagem has succeeded. He bears in mind that if his victims suddenly became aware of these things, all Jews would be exterminated. But, this time, the Jews will disappear from Europe.

Part 1 Chapter 1- The Author's Profession of Faith

Paine writes, It has been my intention, for several years past, to publish my thoughts upon religion; I am well aware of the difficulties that attend the subject, and from that consideration, had reserved it to a more advanced period of life. I intended it to be the last offering I should make to my fellow citizens of all nations, and that at a time when the purity of the motive that induced me to it could not admit of a question, even by those who might disapprove of the work. The circumstance that had now taken place in France, of the total abolition of the whole national order of priesthood, and of everything appertaining to compulsive systems of religion, and compulsive articles of faith, has not only precipitated my intention, but rendered a work of this kind exceedingly necessary, lest, in the general wreck of superstition, of false systems of government, and false theology, we lose sight of morality, of humanity, and of the theology that is true.

Satire Against Paine and His Writings

As several of my colleagues, and others of my fellow citizens of France, have given me the example of making their voluntary and individual profession of faith, I also will make mine; and I do this with all that sincerity and frankness with which the mind of man communicates with itself. I believe in one God, and no more; and I hope for happiness beyond this life. I believe in the equality of man, and I believe that religious duties consist in doing justice, loving mercy, and endeavoring to make our fellow creatures happy. But lest it should be supposed that I believe many other things in addition to these. I shall, in the progress of this work, declare the things I do not believe, and my reasons for not believing them.

I do not believe in the creed professed by the Jewish church, by the Roman church, by the Greek church, by the Turkish church, by the Protestant church, nor by any church that I know of. My own mind is my own church. All national institutions of churches, whether Jewish, Christian, or Turkish, appear to me no other than human inventions set up to terrify and enslave mankind, and monopolize power and profit. I do not mean by this declaration to condemn those who believe otherwise; they have the same right to their belief as I have to mine. But it is necessary to the happiness of man, that he be mentally faithful to himself. Infidelity does not consist in believing, or in disbelieving; it consists in professing to believe what he does not believe. It is impossible to calculate the moral mischief, if I may so express it, that mental lying has produced in society. When a man has so far corrupted and prostituted the chastity of his mind, as to subscribe his professional belief to things he does not believe, he has prepared himself for the commission of every other crime. He takes up the trade of a priest for the sake of gain, and, in order to quality himself for that trade, he begins with a perjury. Can we conceive anything more destructive to morality than this?

Notice that Paine is mentioning ALL THREE Abrahamic Religions. All three were created by the same Magy to deceive and ultimately control the world.

Soon after I had published the pamphlet Common Sense, in America, I saw the exceeding probability that a revolution in the system of government would be followed by a revolution in the system of religion. The adulterous connection of church and state, wherever it had taken place, whether Jewish, Christian, or Turkish, had so effectually prohibited, by pains and penalties, every discussion upon established creeds, and upon first principles of religion, that until the system of government should be changed, those subjects could not be brought fairly and openly before the world; but that whenever this should be done, a revolution in the system of religion would follow. Human inventions and priestcraft would be detected; and man would return to the pure, unmixed, and unadulterated belief of one God, and no more.

Paine was a big threat to the Jew. It is through the Abrahamic religions, and especially their Bible, that they gained power and control over the people. If people realized they didn't need intermediaries, middlemen, and that God can be accessed directly, the religions would fall like a house of cards.

It reminds me of when Flat Earth was "rediscovered" by many in 2015. Once one realized that the big bad sun couldn't send a mass coronal ejection at any time to wipe us out because it was really only 33 miles wide, those same cards fell.

Chapter 2- Of Missions and Revelations

Paine continues, It is curious to observe how the theory of what is called the Christian Church, sprung out of the tail of the heathen mythology. A direct incorporation took place in the first instance, by making the reputed founder to be celestially begotten. The trinity of gods that then followed was no other than a reduction of the former plurality, which was about twenty or thirty thousand. The statue of Mary succeeded the statue of Diana of Ephesus. The deification of heroes changed into the canonization of saints. The Mythologists had gods for everything; the Christian Mythologists had saints for everything. The church became as crowded with the one, as the pantheon had been with the other; and Rome was the place of both. The Christian theory is little else than the idolatry of the ancient mythologists, accommodated to the purpose of power and revenue; and it yet remains to reason and philosophy to abolish the amphibious fraud.

And the Heathen Mythology that Paine spoke of, came out of the Magy religion in the OLB. Before this religion, Fryans were Deists, just like Paine.

Christianity is from the Heathen Religion, which was from the Magy Religion.

Zeitgeist also got this part right. Christianity is just the Magy Pagan religion with a new veneer. It was never the true "religion" of the monotheistic Fryans. Only by the sword did Christianity reach Europe. Hitler was neither Christian nor Pagan and had a firm belief in God in the pragmatic way of the Germans, by using reasoning and their moral compass within.

From Hitler's Table Talk we read, To make death easier for people, the Church holds out to them the bait of a better world. We, for our part, confine ourselves to asking man to fashion his life worthily. For this, it is sufficient for him to conform to the laws of nature. Let's seek inspiration in these principles, and in the long run we'll triumph over religion.

Chapter 7- Examination of the Old Testament

Revelation is a communication of something, which the person, to whom that thing is revealed, did not know before. For if I have done a thing, or seen it done, it needs no revelation to tell me I have done it, or seen it, nor to enable me to tell it, or to write it. Revelation, therefore, cannot be applied to anything done upon earth of which man is himself the actor or the witness; and consequently, all the historical and anecdotal part of the Bible, which is almost the whole of it, is not within the meaning and compass of the word revelation, and, therefore, is not the word of God.

The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse

Whenever we read the obscene stories, the voluptuous debaucheries, the cruel and torturous executions, the unrelenting vindictiveness, with which more than half of the Bible is filled, it would be more consistent that we called it the word of a demon, than the Word of God. It is a history of wickedness that has served to corrupt and brutalize mankind; and, for my own part, I sincerely detest it, as I detest everything that is cruel.

There is not, throughout the whole book called the Bible, any word that describes to us what we call a poet, nor any word that describes what we call poetry. The case is, that the word prophet, to which a later time have affixed a new idea, was the Bible word for poet, and the word prophesying meant the art of making poetry. It also meant the art of playing poetry to a tune upon any instrument of music. We read of prophesying with pipes, tablets, and horns- of prophesying with harps, with psalteries, with cymbals, and with every other instrument of music then in fashion. Were we now to speak of prophesying with a fiddle, or with a pipe and tabor, the expression would have no meaning, or would appear ridiculous, and to some people contemptuous, because we have changed the meaning of the word.

We are told of the greater and the less prophets. They might as well tell us of the greater and the lesser God: for there cannot be degrees in prophesying consistently with its modern sense. But there are degrees in poetry, and therefore the phrase is reconcilable to the case, when we understand by it the greater and lesser poets.

The continually progressive change to which the meaning of words is subject, the want of an universal language which renders translation necessary, the errors to which translations are again subject, the mistakes of copyists and printers, together with the possibility of willful alteration, are of themselves evidences that human language, whether in speech or in print, cannot be the vehicle of the Word of God.—The Word of God exists in something else. Did the book called the Bible excel in purity of ideas and expression all the books now extant in the word, I would not take it for my rule of faith, as being the Word of God; because the possibility would nevertheless exist of my being imposed upon. But when I see throughout the greatest part of this book scarcely anything but a history of the grossest vices, and a collection of the most paltry and contemptible tales, I cannot dishonor my Creator by calling it by his name.

Chapter 8- Of the New Testament

Thus, much for the Bible; I now go on to the book called the New Testament. The New Testament! That is, the new Will, as if there could be two wills of the Creator. Had it been the object or the intention of Jesus Christ to establish a new religion, he would undoubtedly have written the system himself or procured it to be written in his lifetime. But there is no publication extant authenticated with his name. All the books called the New Testament were written after his death. He was a Jew by birth and by profession; and he was the son of God in like manner that every other person is for the Creator is the Father of All.

In fine, everything in this strange system is the reverse of what it pretends to be. It is the reverse of truth, and I become so tired of examining into its inconsistencies and absurdities, that I hasten to the conclusion of it, in order to proceed to something better. How much, or what parts of the books called the New Testament, were written by the people whose names they bear, is what we can know nothing of, neither are we certain in what language they were originally written. The matters they now contain may be classed under two heads: anecdote, and epistolary correspondence.

The reverse of what it pretends to be, exactly! That is exactly what the MAGY have been doing since the time of the OLB. They inverse everything. They take what is good and use it for bad. The Bible has their "method of operation" stamped all over it.

If I owe a person money, and cannot pay him, and he threatens to put me in prison, another person can take the debt upon himself, and pay it for me. But if I have committed a crime, every circumstance of the case is changed. Moral justice cannot take the innocent for the guilty even if the innocent would offer itself. To suppose justice to do this, is to destroy the principle of its existence, which is the thing itself. It is then no longer justice. It is indiscriminate revenge.

Here Paine is talking about how Jesus cannot take the place for the guilty (humanity) because it would destroy the principle of moral justice. That this act is completely absurd and against moral reason and therefore not of God.

It is by his being taught to contemplate himself as an out-law, as an out-cast, as a beggar, as a mumper, as one thrown as it were on a dunghill, at an immense distance from his Creator, and who must make his approaches by creeping, and cringing to intermediate beings, that he conceives either a contemptuous disregard for everything under the name of religion, or becomes indifferent, or turns what he calls devout. In the latter case, he consumes his life in grief, or the affectation of it. His prayers are reproaches. His humility is ingratitude. He calls himself a worm, and the fertile earth a dunghill: and all the blessings of life by the thankless name of vanity. He despises the choicest gift of God to man, the Gift of Reason; and having endeavored to force upon himself the belief of a system against which reason revolts, he ungratefully calls it human reason, as if man could give reason to himself. Yet, with all this strange appearance of humility, and this contempt for human reason, he ventures into the boldest presumptions.

He finds fault with everything. His selfishness is never satisfied; his ingratitude is never at an end. He takes on himself to direct the Almighty what to do, even in the government of the universe. He prays dictatorially. When it is sunshine, he prays for rain, and when it is raining, he prays for sunshine. He follows the same idea in everything that he prays for; for what is the amount of all his prayers, but an attempt to make the Almighty change his mind, and act otherwise than he does? It is as if he were to say- thou knowest not so well as I.

Chapter 9- In What the True Revelation Consists

But some perhaps will say- Are we to have no word of God- no revelation? I answer yes. There is a Word of God; there is a revelation. The Word of God is theCreation We Behold: And it is in this word, which no human invention can counterfeit or alter, that God speaketh universally to man.

It is only in the Creation that all our ideas and conceptions of a word of God can unite. The Creation speaketh an universal language, independently of human speech or human language, multiplied and varied as they be. It is an ever existing original, which every man can read. It cannot be forged; it cannot be counterfeited; it cannot be lost; it cannot be altered; it cannot be suppressed. It does not depend on the will of man whether it shall be published or not; it publishes itself from one end of the earth to the other. It preaches to all nations and to all worlds; and this word of God reveals to man all that is necessary for man to know of God. Do we want to contemplate his power? We see it in the immensity of the creation. Do we want to contemplate his wisdom? We see it in the unchangeable order by which the incomprehensible Whole is governed. Do we want to contemplate his munificence? We see it in the abundance with which he fills the earth. Do we want to contemplate his mercy? We see it in his not withholding that abundance even from the unthankful. In fine, do we want to know what God is? Search not the book called the scripture, which any human hand might make, but the scripture called the Creation.

From Hitler's Table Talk we see he shares Paine's views. We read, Man has discovered in nature the wonderful notion of that almighty being whose laws he worships. Fundamentally in everyone there is this feeling for the Almighty, which we call God (that is to say, the dominion of natural laws throughout the whole universe.) The priests, who have always succeeded in exploiting this feeling, threaten punishment for the man who refuses to accept the creed they impose.

Chapter 10- Concerning God, and the Lights Cast on His Existence and Attributes by the Bible

The only idea man can affix to the name of God, is that of a first cause, the cause of all things. And, incomprehensibly difficult as it is for a man to conceive what a first cause it, he arrives at the belief of it, from the tenfold greater difficulty of disbelieving it. It is difficult beyond description to conceive that space can have no end; but it is more difficult to conceive an end. It is difficult beyond the power of man to conceive an eternal duration of what we call time; but it is more impossible to conceive a time when there shall be no time.

In like manner of reasoning, everything we behold carries in itself the internal evidence that it did not make itself. Every man is an evidence to himself, that he did not make himself; neither could his father make himself, nor his grandfather, nor any of his race; neither could any tree, plant, or animal make itself; and it is the conviction arising from this evidence, that carries us on, as it were, by necessity, to the belief of a first cause eternally existing, of a nature totally different to any material existence we know of, and by the power of which all things exist; and this first cause, man calls God. It is only by the exercise of reason, that man can discover God. Take away that reason, and he would be incapable of understanding anything; and in this case it would be just as consistent to read even the book called the Bible to a horse as to a man. How then is it that those people pretend to reject reason?

Chapter 11- Of the Theology of the Christians and the True Theology

As to the Christian system of faith, it appears to me as a species of atheism, a sort of religious denial of God. It professes to believe in a man rather than in God. It is a compound made up chiefly of manism with but little deism and is as near to atheism as twilight is to darkness. It introduces between man and his Maker an opaque body, which it calls a redeemer, as the moon introduces her opaque self between the earth and the sun, and it produces by this means a religious or an irreligious eclipse of light. It has put the whole orbit of reason into shade. The effect of this obscurity has been that of turning everything upside down and representing it in reverse; and among the revolutions it has thus magically produced, it has made a revolution in Theology.

Hitler put it in a similar way but from a Twentieth Century perspective. From Hitler's Table Talk we read, The heaviest blow that ever-struck humanity was the coming of Christianity. Bolshevism is Christianity's illegitimate child. Both are inventions of the Jew. The deliberate lie in the matter of religion was introduced into the world by Christianity. Bolshevism practices a lie in the same nature, when it claims to bring liberty to men, whereas in reality it seeks only to enslave them. In the ancient world, the relations between men and gods were founded on an instinctive respect. It was a world enlightened by the idea of tolerance. Christianity was the first creed in the world to exterminate its adversaries in the name of love. Its keynote is intolerance.

That which is now called natural philosophy, embracing the whole circle of science, of which astronomy occupies the chief place, is the study of the works of God, and of the power and wisdom of God in his works, and it the true theology. As to the theology that is now studied in its place, it is the study of human opinions and of human fancies concerning God. It is not the study of God himself in the works that he has made, but in the works or writings that man has made; and it is not among the least of the mischiefs that the Christian system has done to the world, that it has abandoned the original and beautiful system of theology, like a beautiful innocent, to distress and reproach, to make room for the hag of superstition.

It is a fraud of the Christian system to call the sciences human inventions; it is only the application of them that is human. Every science has for its basis a system of principles as fixed and unalterable as those by which the universe is regulated and governed. Man cannot make principles; he can only discover them.

It is from the study of the true theology that all our knowledge of science is derived; and it is from that knowledge that all the arts have originated.

It is only by contemplating what he calls the starry heavens, as the book and school of science, that he discovers any use in their being visible to him, or any advantage resulting from his immensity of vision. But when he contemplates the subject in this light, he sees an additional motive for saying, that nothing was made in vain; for in vain would be this power of vision if it taught man nothing.

Chapter 12- The Effects of Christianism on Education

As a matter of distinct consideration, the outrage offered to the moral justice of God, by supposing him to make the innocent suffer for the guilty, and also the loose morality and low contrivance of supposing him to change himself into the shape of a man, in order to make an excuse to himself for not executing his supposed sentence upon Adam; putting, I say, those things aside as a matter of distinct consideration, it is certain that what is called the Christian system of faith, including in it the whimsical account of the creation- the strange story of Eve, the snake, and the apple- the amphibious idea of a man-god, the corporeal idea of the death of a god- the mythological idea of a family of gods, and the Christian system of arithmetic, that three are one, and one is three, are all irreconcilable, not only to the divine gift of reason, that God has given to man, but to the knowledge that man gains of the power and wisdom of God by the aid of the sciences, and by studying the structure of the universe that God has made.

The setters up, therefore, and the advocates of the Christian system of faith, could not but foresee that the continually progressive knowledge that man would gain by the aid of science, of the power and wisdom of God, manifested in the structure of the universe, and in all the works of creation, would militate against, and call into question, the truth of their system of faith; and therefore it became necessary to their purpose to cut learning down to a size less dangerous to their project, and this they effected by restricting the idea of learning to the study of dead languages. They not only rejected the study of science out of the Christian schools, but they persecuted it; and it is only within about the last two centuries that the study has been revived.

The 'dead languages' that Paine mentions are Latin and Aramaic. The study of languages in the Germanic family is actually very revealing. We find how they all related and have the same origin language of Diets- God's language.

Giordano Bruno was burned at the stake for going against the Vatican's views on Astronomy

Christianity- The Age of Ignorance

Later times have laid all the blame upon the Goths and Vandals, but, however unwilling the partisans of the Christian system may be to believe or to acknowledge it, it is nevertheless true, that the age of ignorance commenced with the Christian system. There was more knowledge in the world before that period, than for many centuries afterwards; and as to religious knowledge, the Christian system, as already said, was only another species of mythology; and the mythology to which it succeeded, was a corruption of an ancient system of theism. (Note by Paine: It is impossible for us now to know at what time the heathen mythology began; but it is certain, from the internal evidence that it carries, that it did not begin in the same state or condition in which it ended. All the gods of that mythology, except Saturn, were of modern invention. The supposed reign of Saturn was prior to that which is called the heathen mythology, and was so far a species of theism that it admitted the belief of only one God. Saturn is supposed to have abdicated the government in favor of his three sones and one daughter, Jupiter, Pluto, Neptune, and Juno; after this, thousands of other gods and demigods were imaginarily created, and the calendar of gods increased as fast as the calendar of saints and the calendar of courts have increased since.)

So, you can see here that Paine KNEW we were MONOTHEISTS in the beginning. That only later did we get corrupted by the Magy priests. They started modestly with only a few 'gods' but it was working so well they added more and more. Then these just put on new clothes and became the saints. Also note that the Christians put the blame on the Goths and Vandals! Goth means God, and they and the Vandals were known as the MOST moral people of their time!

From Heinrich Himmler's Voice of Our Ancestors we read, I think of how the French-speaking monks came from Switzerland to convert our forefathers, the Goths and the Vandals. Even their deadly enemies, the Romans said: "Where the Goths are, there virtue rules. And where the Vandals are, there even the Romans become chaste. And to such men the commandments from Sinai were offered as guiding lights for their lives! Can one understand why these men laughed when they heard those commandments, which demanded that they not commit acts they never would have dreamed of committing? Can one understand that they raised their swords in wrath when the monks told them that they were "born in sin"- these best of the Goths, whose very name means "The Good Ones"?

Heinrich Himmler's Voice of Our Ancestors, written under the Pseudonym Wulf Sorensen.

It is owing to this long interregnum of science, and to no other cause, that we have now to look back through a vast chasm of many hundred years to the respectable characters we call the Ancients. Had the progression of knowledge gone on proportionably with the stock that before existed, that chasm would have been filled up with characters rising superior in knowledge to each other; and those Ancients we now so much admire would have appeared respectably in the background of the scene. But the Christian system laid all wasted; and if we take our stand about the beginning of the sixteenth century, we look back through that long chasm, to the times of the Ancients, as over a vast sandy desert, in which not a shrub appears to intercept the vision to the fertile hills beyond.

Chapter 13- Comparison of Christianism with Religious Ideas

The true deist has but one Deity; and his religion consists in contemplating the power, wisdom, and benignity of the Deity in his works, and in endeavoring to imitate him in everything moral, scientifically, and mechanical.

Chapter 16- Application of the Preceding to the System of the Christians

The persons who first preached the Christian system of faith, and in some measure combined with it the morality preached by Jesus Christ, might persuade themselves that it was better than the heathen mythology that then prevailed. From the first preachers the fraud went on to the second, and to the third, till the idea of its being a pious fraud became lost in the belief of its being true; and that belief became again encouraged by the interest of those who made a livelihood by preaching it. But though such a belief might, by such means, be rendered almost general among the laity, it is next to impossible to account for the continual persecution carried on by the church, for several hundred years, against the sciences, and against the professors of science, if the church had not some record or tradition that it was originally no other than a pious fraud, or did not foresee that it could not be maintained against the evidence that the structure of the universe afforded.

Chapter 17- Of the Means Employed in all Time, And Almost Universally, to Deceive the Peoples

Having thus shown the irreconcilable inconsistencies between the real word of God existing in the universe, and that which is called the word of God, as shown to us in a printed book that any man might make, I proceed to speak of the three principal means that have been employed in all ages, and perhaps in all countries, to impose upon mankind. Those three means are Mystery, Miracle, and Prophecy. The first two are incompatible with true religion, and the third ought always to be suspected.

Mystery

With respect to Mystery, everything we behold is, in one sense, a mystery to us. Our own existence is a mystery: the whole vegetable world is a mystery. We cannot account how it is that an acorn, when put into the ground, is made to develop itself and become an oak. We know not how it is that the seed we sow unfolds and multiplies itself, and returns to us such an abundant interest for so small a capital. The fact however, as distinct from the operating cause, is not a mystery, because we see it; and we know also the means we are to use, which is no other than putting the seed in the ground. We know, therefore, as much as is necessary for us to know; and that part of the operation that we do not know, and which if we did, we could not perform, the Creator takes upon himself and performs it for us. We are, therefore, better off than if we had been let into the secret, and left to do it for ourselves. But though every created thing is, in this sense, a mystery, the word mystery cannot be applied to moral truth, any more than obscurity can be applied to light. The God in whom we believe is a God of moral truth, and not a God of mystery or obscurity. Mystery is the antagonist of truth. It is a fog of human invention that obscures truth, and represents it in distortion. Truth never envelops itself in mystery; and the mystery in which it is at any time enveloped, is the work of its antagonist, and never of itself.

Man does not learn religion as he learns the secrets and mysteries of a trade. He learns the theory of religion by reflection. It arises out of the action of his own mind upon the things which he sees, or upon what he may happen to hear or to read, and the practice joins itself thereto.

Miracle

Since then appearances are so capable of deceiving, and things not real have a strong resemblance to things that are, nothing can be more inconsistent than to suppose that the Almighty would make use of means, such as are called miracles, that would subject the person who performed them to the suspicion of being an imposter, and the person who related them to be suspected of lying, and the doctrine intended to be supported thereby to be suspected as a fabulous invention. Of all the modes of evidence that ever were invented to obtain belief to any system or opinion to which the name of religion has been given, that of miracle, however successful the imposition may have been, is the most inconsistent. For, in the first place, whenever recourse is had to show, for the purpose of procuring that belief (for a miracle, under any idea of the word, is a show) it implies a lameness or weakness in the doctrine that is preached. And, in the second place, it is degrading the Almighty into the character of a show-man, playing tricks to amuse and make the people stare and wonder.

If we are to suppose a miracle to be something so entirely out of the course of what is called nature, that she must go out of that course to accomplish it, and we see an account given of such a miracle by the person who said he saw it, it raised a question in the mind very easily decided, which is, - Is it more probable that nature should go out of her course, or that a man should tell a lie? We have never seen, in our time, nature go out of her course; but we have good reason to believe that millions of lies have been told at the same time; it is, therefore, at least millions to one, that the reporter of a miracle tells a lie.

The most extraordinary of all the things called miracles related in the New Testament, is that of the devil flying away with Jesus Christ, and carrying him to the top of a high mountain; and to the top of the highest pinnacle of the temple, and showing him and promising to him all the kingdoms of the world. How happened it that he did not discover America? Or is it only with kingdoms that his sooty highness has any interest.

Prophecy

As Mystery and Miracle took charge of the past and the present, Prophecy took charge of the future, and rounded the tenses of faith. It was not sufficient to know what had been done, but what would be done. The supposed prophet was the supposed historian of times to come; and if he happened, in shooting with a long bow of a thousand years, to strike within a thousand miles of a mark, the ingenuity of posterity could make it point-blank; and if he happened to be directly wrong, it was only to suppose, as in the case of Jonah and Ninevah, that God had repented himself and changed his mind. What a fool do fabulous systems make of man! It has been shewn, in a former part of this work, that the original meaning of the words prophet and prophesying has been changed, and that a prophet, in the sense of the word as now used, is a creature of modern invention; and it is owing to this change in the meaning of the words, that the flights and metaphors of the Jewish poets, and phrases and expressions now rendered obscure by our not being acquainted with the local circumstances to which they applied at the time they were used, have been erected into prophecies, and made to ben to explanations at the will and whimsical conceits of sectaries, expounders, and commentators. Everything unintelligible was prophetical, and everything insignificant was typical. A blunder would have served for a prophesy; and a dish-clout for a type.

Upon the whole, Mystery, Miracle, and Prophecy, are appendages that belong to fabulous and not to true religion. They are the means by which so many Lo here's! and Lo there's! have been spread about the world, and religion has been made into a trade. The success of one imposter gave encouragement to another, and the quieting salvo of doing some good by keeping up a pious fraud protected them from remorse.

Who are the ones who made religion into a trade? The traders of course, the middle men, from the middle east, other wise known as the Magy.

Prophet ~ Profit

Traitor ~ Trader

Recapitulation

Having now extended the subject to a greater length than I first intended, I shall bring it to a close by abstracting a summary from the whole. First, that the idea or belief of a word of God existing in print, or in writing, or in speech, is inconsistent in itself for the reasons already assigned. These reasons, among many others, are the want of an universal language; the mutability of language; the errors to which translations are subject, the possibility of totally suppressing such a word; the probability of altering it, or of fabricating the whole, and imposing it upon the world.

Secondly, that the Creation we behold is the real and ever existing word of God, in which we cannot be deceived. It proclaims his power, it demonstrates his wisdom, it manifests his goodness and beneficence.

Thirdly, that the moral duty of man consists in imitating the moral goodness and beneficence of God manifested in the creation towards all his creatures. That seeing as we daily do the goodness of God to all men, it is an example calling upon all men to practice the same towards each other; and, consequently, that everything of persecution and revenge between man and man, and everything of cruelty to animals, is a violation of moral duty.

CREATOR ~ CREATION ~ CREATURES

I trouble not myself about the manner of future existence. I content myself with believing, even to positive conviction, that the power that gave me existence is able to continue it, in any form and manner he pleases, either with or without this body; and it appears more probable to me that I shall continue to exist hereafter than that I should have had existence, as I now have, before that existence began.

From Hitler's Table Talk we read, The elements of which our body is made belong to the cycle of nature; and as far our soul, it's possible that it might return to limbo, until it gets an opportunity to reincarnate itself. But it would vex me if everybody wanted to have done with life.

It is certain that, in one point, all nations of the earth and all religions agree. All believe in a God. The things in which they disagree are the redundancies annexed to that belief; and therefore, if ever an universal religion should prevail, it will not be believing anything new, but in getting rid of redundancies, and believing as man believed at first. Adam, if ever there was such a man, was created a Deist; but in the meantime, let every man follow, as he has a right to do, the religion and worship he prefers.

Hitler believed to have a universal religion is to go back to the ORIGINAL religion, Deism, believing in a Creator, and that his word is his Creation.

So, you can see Paine, through REASON, made a very strong argument for God and what his Word truly is. I have a sense of peace now in knowing I have reached what I believe to be the truth about God and this world. Our purpose here is to learn, be moral and upright individuals, and by knowing that we are going through cycles on Wralda's wheel. We are in the Iron Age and ready for a reset so we can be in the glorious Golden Age (Aryan Age) once again so our people can heal. Like the Fryans, like Paine, like Hitler, all had a faith in what will become of us after we leave this world. That this isn't the end of our journey, just one cog in it. But even with this "knowing" we must make the most of life given to us by Wralda, however hard it may be. The upright man, and woman, will struggle until their last breath. Hail Wralda! And much love to Thomas Paine, Adolf Hitler, and all Fryans in their noble struggle for our people.

ON HIMMLER AND THE OERA LINDA BOOK

Before I discovered the Oera Linda Book (OLB) I was researching Christian Identity (CI). Many in the CI community purported that Hitler and the National Socialists were Christians and that is why they had Gott Mit Uns put on their belt buckles. That the war they fought was between Christian Europe and Communist Russia. But from my new understanding I would say the war was actually fought between the Fryans and the Magy. Just like from the days of old. It is an ongoing war, and because many of our people have been brainwashed by the Magy, we fought our own people in both World Wars. And what I found since, regarding Hitler's beliefs, and the National Socialists, is that under Himmler, they WERE researching the OLB, making trips to Tibet to rediscover the lands that the Geertmanna resided in for hundreds of years, as well as other locations. I do believe that Gott Mit Uns put on their belt buckles, was for the one God, Wralda. So, to prove this, I wanted to share with you quotes from Himmler himself, as well as a writing that is purported to be by him titled Voice of Our Ancestors. Then you can decide for yourselves. As for me, I know in my heart that Hitler and the National Socialists knew they were FRYANS, the free people and so lived free and died brave.

Heinrich Himmler, (October 7, 1900 – May 23, 1945) Reichsleiter, 2nd in rank only to Hitler

1935

Written after Hitler took power. During a time when Germany was thriving. The people were so happy, unemployment was unheard of, homelessness was a thing of the past, a good quality of life was at hand.

Voice of our Ancestors

Authored by Heinrich Himmler under his pen name Wulf Sorensen.

There they hang on the wall, one hundred ninety-six little plaques in oval, gilded frames. And there are still far fewer than there ought to have been. All the frames in the upper rows show only a name with a couple of dates on white paper.

But in the lower rows they become alive. The portraits begin about the time of the Thirty Years War. They are fine miniatures, carefully painted with a pointed brush on ivory, which has long since yellowed.

One cannot but think of the difficulty the artist must have had in capturing those stern, proud features with his soft, marten-hair brush. All of the white ruffled collars, the lace, the puffed sleeves and on the gentlemen, the jabots have a frivolous effect on these portraits dating from the beginning of the eighteenth century. Ladies? Gentlemen? No, indeed! In spite of the velvet and silk there is not a lady nor a gentleman among them. They are all women and men – and that says far more than the gentleman of today.

For they, there on the wall, living again in their portraits – were free! This is what we have come to, that we must banish our ancestors to pictures or vital statistics on the wall in order to give them a faint presence in our dim memories. Ancestors? People today do not even know the birth dates and death dates of their own parents. Of course, they are written down somewhere. It is a wonder if one knows even a little about his grandfather, not to mention his great-grandfather. As for great-grandfather, one does not think about him at all, as if he had never existed.

ANCIENT GERMANY AND THE IMPORTANCE OF MYTHS:

Earlier – much earlier – things were different. That was before words had become but mere merchandise, used to concoct lies, when a man still lived by his word; then it was not necessary to write down and record one's ancestors. That was a time when the living flow of blood from son to father, from father to grandfather and great-grandfather and great-greatgrandfather still had not been choked off. It had not yet sunk, as it has today, so deep beneath all of the alien values within mind and soul, that most of us can no longer hear its rustle, even in the stillest hour. Once the whole past dwelt in the hearts of the living. And from this past the present and the future grew upward like the strong limbs of a healthy tree. And today? They laugh at the fables of our Folk. They do not even understand them. Nevertheless, that which remains with us from the Once upon a time of our fables serves as a reminder, a finger showing us the way back into the millennia of our great past.

You believe that we have no use for what is past and gone? Nonsense! The man in whose breast the Once upon a time of his race is no longer awake – has no future which truly belongs to him. How timely would be the appearance of a man who would teach us again the meaning of our fables and show us that our struggle for the freedom of the earth which has borne us was, also, the struggle of our ancestors a hundred and a thousand years ago!

The man born to show Germany how to struggle for the freedom of the earth-

THE FOLK TALE SNOW WHITE AS AN ALLEGORY ABOUT GERMANY'S PAST:

The Evil Queen- The Roman Empire

Did you know that when you read about Snow White and the Wicked Queen who came over the mountains, that those mountains she had to cross each time she came to kill Snow White were the Alps, and that the Queen came from Rome, the deadly enemy of everything Nordic? Think about the Queen's Daily query: "Mirror, mirror on the wall, who is the fairest of them all?" When you think of this saying think about Rome, which could not rest until everything Nordic, bright and joyful was exterminated, and only darkness remained – dark like the wicked queen in the fairy tale, so that she could be the fairest in all the land, after everything White was dead.

That which came over the southern mountains to us tolerated no peers. Everything had to kneel before it and kiss its feet.

FIRST CHRISTIAN INVASION OF GERMANY:

Rome binding the Nordic Spirit

When the queen came over the Alps the first time, dressed as a peddler from a distant land, she offered Snow White a bewitched corset – bewitched because it was alien. Then she pulled the laces so tight that Snow White fainted and fell. The emissaries of Rome bound the Nordic spirit in the suffocating bonds of alien concepts and deceitful words. But the queen's ruinous plan did not succeed. The dwarves – the good spirits of the Folk – came and freed Snow White. The Fryans crushed the Roman emissaries who tried to break the strength of our people with their doctrines of misery and servitude. For nearly a thousand years the Nordic tribes struggled against the poison from Sinai, which gradually fouled their blood.

ALLEGORY OF CHARLEMAGNE'S CHRISTIAN CONQUEST OF SAXONS:

And when the vain queen again asked her mirror, the answer was: "... but Snow White, over the seven mountains with the seven dwarves is a thousand times fairer than you." Driven by her restless jealousy, the queen came over the snowy wall of the Alps with a new deception. She offered Snow White a magnificent glittering comb, the most exotic thing she had ever seen. The Holy Roman Empire diverted the Nordic will-of-action away from its natural course; one after another, Nordic leaders have gone off to Rome and the consequence has been turmoil and Roman law in our land, which has enchained our Nordic pride. It began with Karl, the eternally cursed Frank, murderer of Saxons. From Aller to Verdun, the blood of the most noble or our people is on his hands. In recognition for his deeds, the Roman priests bestowed upon Karl the title of The Great. Silent forever are the lips of our Folk who named this wretched Frank, Karl the Saxon slayer.

Despite this, the Nordic spirit remained unbroken; the wicked queen still was not the fairest in the land.

King Charlemagne, Karl the Saxon Slayer, Killer of Fryans

ALLEGORY OF CHRISTIAN SPIRITUAL POISON CONQUERING ALL OF GERMANY:

Poisoned Apple- Nordic rejection of our own true nature

And so, for a third visit she came and presented Snow White with a rosy-cheeked, but poisoned apple. The first bite stuck in Snow White's throat and caused her to faint as if dead. This apple symbolized the rejection of our own nature, the abandonment of tribal ways.

"As if dead," the fairy tale says, acknowledges the enormous strength which slumbers in our people, recognizing that one day will come the great hour, when that strength will mightily throw off the chains of Sinai. Has it yet come, this long-awaited hour?

Snow White is but one of the hundreds and hundreds of age-old Nordic tales which remind us, with as many different images, of the difficulties, the oppression and the deep wisdom of our ancestors.

And as Rome cracked its whip over our land, mercilessly annihilating every genuine manifestation of our own nature, our wise forebears wove into these tales, using colorful symbols and allegory, a legacy of our heritage.

PERVERSION OF THE HISTORICAL RECORD BY THE CHURCH

The Roman Church falsified Fryan Tales and Sagas

But Rome's influence extended over our tales and sagas, falsifying them, giving them new meaning and made advantageous to Roman domination. Thus, it was that our people no longer could understand the voice of our ancestors, that we went astray these many centuries, becoming more and more alienated from our own ways and enslaved to Rome, and thus to Judah.

THE INNER VOICE OF OUR ANCESTORS

Goths and Vandals- the most upright men and women

Only he who bears his own soul, living and burning in his breast, is an individual – a master. And he who abandons his own kind is a slave. The key to freedom lies within us! Now we must hearken again to the voice of our ancestors and protect our essence from alien influences, protect that which wants to grow out of our own souls. Stronger than any army is the man who wields the power which resides within him!

Reflectively, I look over the long rows of my ancestors. The last members reach so far back that hardly more than a name and a date on a sheet of paper remain. Yet their voices come alive in my blood, because their blood is my blood.

I think of how the French-speaking monks came from Switzerland to convert our forefathers, the Goths and the Vandals. Even their deadly enemies, the Romans said: "Where the Goths are, there virtue rules. And where the Vandals are, there even the Romans become chaste."

And to such men the commandments from Sinai were offered as guiding lights for their lives! Can one understand why these men laughed when they heard those commandments, which demanded that they not commit acts they never would have dreamed of committing? Can one understand that they raised their swords in wrath when the monks told them that they were born in sin – these best of the Goths, whose very name means The Good Ones?

Cannot one understand the unspeakable contempt with which these noble men regarded those who promised them a reward in heaven for abstaining from doing things which, according to their own nature, were beneath the dignity even of animals?

To such men the commandments were brought; men infinitely superior in human dignity and morality than the monks who brought them. For countless generations they had lived far above the moral plateau on which the commandments from Sinai then operated. Thousands of years before the time of the Christ the monks claimed to represent, our ancestors had sown the seeds of culture and civilization throughout the world on their fruitful voyages and wanderings.

THE ANCIENT GERMAN RELIGION VERSUS THE CHRISTIAN RELIGION:

The Wheel (YULE- JUL), given to the Fryans, which they used for the first numbers and letters.

When I contemplate the small portraits and see in their firmly composed faces the expressions of my ancestors, which compel no more notice of these times, it seems as if we have descended from a high, high ladder – a ladder which we must yet again climb. Nowadays, it is seldom that we can even appear to be like they were. They were on intimate terms with All Father (Wralda) and did not need to call on halo-wearing intermediaries when they wished to speak to him. And even then, they did not know how to beg; they were too strong, too proud and too healthy for supplication.

Blessings prayed for are not true blessings! They wanted nothing of gifts; either they already had everything they wanted or, if they lacked something, they got it for themselves. Their creed was a saying as brief as a wink and as clear and deep as a mountain stream: DO RIGHT AND FEAR NO ONE!

As for their religion, there was no necessity to put it into words, which suited a people who were naturally frugal with their words anyway. They carried their spiritual consciousness deep within their souls; it served them like a compass needle which always steers a ship on its proper course. (Known in the OLB as the sacred word Eva)

Was that not a better religion than one which must be written down in a thick book, lest it be forgotten – and which one cannot properly understand until a priest comes and interprets what is written there? And even then, an act of faith is required to believe that this intricate interpretation is correct.

In their day, faith grew from the blood, and it was knowledge.

Today it must be learned, for it is an alien faith, unable to strike roots in our blood. It is dogma and doctrine which none can know and which most of us silently renounce, because it is contrary to nature and reason. Tell me – have we become better since taking on this new religion? A great wordless sorrow resides in the breast of most of us, a boundless sense of homelessness, because the way of our ancestors lives on eternally in our Nordic blood like a dream.

We want, once again, to be free of sin – like our ancestors were. We are tired of being humble and small and weak and all the other things demanded of us by a god who despises his own creations and looks on the world as a den of corruption. We want to be proud again, and great and strong, and to do things for ourselves!

LOST CONNECTION TO THE ANCIENT GERMANIC BLOOD AND SPIRIT:

How different are those faces there on the wall from the faces of today! Only if one looks very closely does one still find a trace of that clarity of the features in the present generation.

What lived so dominantly in our ancestors that it showed in their faces has disappeared back into our blood to dream. That is why faces so often deceive us today. Many a person whose hair color and eye color come from the south, still have the greatest part of their blood from Nordic fathers. And many who appear forgotten by the last two thousand years bear their bright hair and grey or blue eyes only as a deceptive mask, for their blood bears no trace of their fathers from the Northland. The one has only the appearance of the alien and retains his Nordic blood. The other has taken the blood of the alien and retains his Nordic face as an illusory mask. Which is better?

Today, one must look into a person's eyes and see whether or not they are still firm, shining and keen.

The soul is illuminated through the eyes, and it does not deceive. There were many a rebel among those there on the wall, and men who left home; many had refused to bend to those with power. They could not go crooked, these fellows. They preferred poverty abroad over submission at home. But they did not stay poor for long. Those who went abroad followed the restless stream of their blood, which gave them no rest until they had found themselves; rejecting that which was foreign to them and flowing into the bloodstream of their fathers and so became conscious links in the chain of ancestors, closing the great kindred circle.

When one of these came home again – and they all came home – he had become a calm, complete man. It is hard to describe this quality of completeness. If others are babbling in confusion, and such a man utters softly only a couple of words, then all the others will understand and become quiet and attentive. And such a man does not ask questions; others ask him! Look at their eyes; just as they mastered life, so they stood on intimate terms with death.

THE GERMAN MAN'S FEARLESS VIEW OF DEATH:

To them death was life's trusted companion. Those same eyes show up among them even in the most recent generations. There is one of them; Erik was his name, and he fell at Kemmel. The steel helmet on his head seems to be a part of him. His mouth is a hard, straight line. But in his twenty-year-old eyes twinkles a silent laugh. And with this laugh, foreign to his mouth, and a wink, saluting with his fist against his breast, beckoning as he steps past, Erik greeted death. I cannot imagine this Erik, with bent knee and plaintive voice, begging some god up in the clouds for mercy and help. This is the way I picture him: leaping up from a crouch and with a fierce shout, plunging his great sword into a charging enemy – then, still in the same leap, being struck by an arrow and collapsing back to the ground with his final thought, "I gave my best for Germany!" Erik seized the bitter cup with a proud laugh and drank it down in a single drought without a grimace. And he likely rapped the cup with a fingernail, so that all could hear it was empty.

He did not pray, Father, let this cup pass from me. He reached out and seized it for it himself, for he knew... everything necessary is good! Beneath Erik's portrait is his motto, written in his own firm, clear hand: Let a man be noble, benevolent, loyal and good.

THE ALIEN VALUES OF THE HEBREW COMMANDMENTS:

Does that not say far more than those commandments Moses had issued to the depraved rabble in the desert, in order to make that horde grasp the rudiments of humanity?

The Commandments were appropriate for that Hebraic bunch. Even the Egyptians had driven them out of their lands. Even as slaves the Hebrews were too wicked and infected Egyptian life. The Hebrews – the chosen people of God! It is ludicrous that anyone take it seriously. A commandment presupposes a transgression. One can recognize from the mere necessity for such commandments (which demand nothing more than the barest behavior required to claim the designation human beings) to what kind of creatures they had been given creatures truly entitled to claim no more than a resemblance to human beings.

To the men of the North these commandments were a slander, an unforgivable insult to their sacred blood.

WITTEKIND, SAXON CHIEF WHO FOUGHT AGAINST CHRISTIANITY AND ROME:

Wittekind was Saxon Chief who led resistance against Charlemagne, King of the Holy Roman Empire, who forced Christianity on the German people. Wittekind was symbolic of faith in Wralda and all out resistance against domination.

So, there rose out of the burning indignation of the Nordic blood a Wittekind, who returned again and again to lead his people into battle against the doctrines from Sinai. For these teachings are a deadly poison to our blood. You ask – when will Wittekind return no more? Hearken: Wittekind will die only with the last Northman!

So long as a single Aryan lives. Wittekind is alive and the world is not safe from him!

THE REMAINING GERMAN PEOPLES:

Seventy million Aryans on this glorious earth are more than enough for anything that comes from Sinai. The last remnant who are still pure will still be poised when swords resound on shields and the bugles sound for the last, great battle of this wretched millennium.

He who slumbers still, whose blood is dull and sour, no glory for him! He will be thoughtlessly trampled underfoot by the valiant who rush into battle down every street of Aryan homelands.

An ancient custom among our kind has remained alive even to the present day in most parts of our Northland. There was a time when it seemed that this practice, handed down to us from our forefathers, would die out. But it has been revived – and the time is at hand when all our great and beautiful people will again recognize the significance of this custom and be made sound by it.

THE POWER OF A NAME FOR THE ANCESTORS:

Our ancestors gave to each child a powerful name, full of joy and vital energy. Actually, they only lent him this name. And it became a shining hope for the child, far ahead of him on his life's course.

The child bore this name in his soul like his most precious treasure, for it was to him both a goal and a sacred responsibility.

This name strengthened the child's soul as he developed into a conscious, mature individual.

When the child had become a youth, the elders of the kindred gathered for a celebration, at which they decided whether or not the developed character of the young man suited the name which had been given to him. If the man and the name were found to be in harmony, then his name was given to him for life. Otherwise, the young man chose a suitable name for himself one which characterized his nature. So it came to be that our ancestors were like their names and their names like them. And so their name carried weight like a rune-carved sword, like their word and a handshake, like yea and nay.

In Christian times our ancestors were compelled by the new law from abroad to adopt still another name; it was written down in the church register, primarily for the benefit of the census taker. The authorities were obliged to write the living heathen name of a man beside his characterless Christian name in his register, lest it become nothing but a list of phantoms.

In those times the most upright men and the proudest women sprung forth from our race.

I step closer to the rows of pictures and read the names. The oldest are Helge, Fromund, Meinrad, Markward, Ran, Waltari, Eigel, Asmus, Bjoern. Peculiar names, are they not? They are names born from the great language of our people. There is nothing foreign in them, no spurious sound. They ring true to the ear. These names taste of the salty sea, of the heavy, fruitful earth, of air and sunshine – and of the homeland. Do you notice that?

A few will notice – but all too few. Their own language has become foreign to them and has nothing more to say to them. After these first rows our ancestors began to name their sons Gottlieb, Christian, Farchgott, Leberecht, Christoph (which mean: God-lover, Christ-worshiper. Godfearer, Righteous-liver, Christ-carrier) ... Still later came the names Paulus, Johannes, Petrus, Christophorus, Korbinianus, Stephanus, Karolus. By those times our forefathers had no other names. Do you feel how something has been broken in these men, how they have become alienated from their own nature? Do you feel how steeply the ladder descends?

A destiny is locked up in the transformation of these names. It is not the destiny of an individual or of a clan, but of a whole people – our Folk. But then something strange happened. Those who had been named Karolus and Paulus by their fathers suddenly regarded these names as annoying, alien, unsuitable, ridiculous.

And now comes the generation that went into the Great War. The names with little iron crosses behind the dates on which they fell – a mere 20 or even fewer years from their birth dates, read: Jochen, Dieter, Asmus, Erwin, Walter. Roland, Georg... These are the names we still have today.

And what are the names of our youngest, those who carry their names into the third millennium after the time of Nordic self-forgiveness? Gerhardt, Hartmut, Deitrich, Ingo, Dagwin, Guenther, Hellmut, Gemot, Dagmar, Ingeborg, Helga... Has the Great War done this? The names tell the story.

THE TIME OF THE NORDIC SELF-FORGIVENESS

THE REMAINING HEATHENS:

A few men wear priestly garments. But the painter has given us a clue. And whoever is able to find this clue can see how little or how much the strong heart of the man is darkened by the shadow of the black robes he wears.

The paintings are all bust portraits, nevertheless in one of them the artist shows a hand. It is a strong, sinewy hand, of the sort which could steer a ship through a storm.

The black book in his hand looks like a frivolous toy. Such a hand does not bless an enemy; it crushes him. His name is Frith. That is a strange name for a priest. Frith means -peace robber. Another portrait shows a man with grey, windswept hair. He has a hawkish nose and in his eyes one perceives unlimited vision. Did Ran really bow his head in remorse, repentance and humility? Did he really despise the world and place his confidence in a power other than his own?

I know why fate ordained that these men must wear the black robes; had it not been for them, there would be far fewer heathens in the North today; without them there would be many more who would have exchanged their own image of God for an alien one and would have grown weary of their own strength and the world; and many more would have been seduced by the alien doctrine into becoming its slaves and forgetting their own blood.

They are true saints, for they have preserved their healthy inner selves, despite the priests' cassocks. They fought the enemy with his own weapon. People called them HEATHENS. A few were so proud of this title that they incorporated it into their names, as one might don a precious jewel. For the heathen is one who remains true to himself and his kind, whose blood flows pure in his veins. And this pure blood regards the world with neither the hateful sneer of Sinai or the weak knees of Nazareth. It bears divinity, pure, clear and beautiful in its red stream, so long as the race endures. None of these men has ever sought God. One does not seek that which dwells in one's own soul.

None of these men has ever been torn with doubt about the divine. Only he who betrays the divinity in himself and offers his soul to an alien god knows such doubt. Doubt is eternal where there is the eternal alien, and thereby the eternal unknown. The Christian is an eternal doubter.

Can any man be loyal, who is disloyal to himself? Can any man be great, who is consumed with a longing to return to dust? Can any man be strong, who loves weakness? Can any man be proud, who wanders along in humility? Can any man be pure, who regards himself born in sin? Can any man be happy in this world, who despises the world? And can any man bear the Creator in his soul, who despises divine Creation?

What a strange god you Christians have, who created you upright, but who commands you to crawl to him on your knees!

We heathens do not beg to our Creator; it would be an insult to the divinity in our souls.

Nor do we heathens come to the Creator to complain. We do not proclaim our failures to the world and least of all not to the Creator. We seek to overcome our faults and to grow.

Our way is not complaining, but anger – and first of all anger against ourselves. Nor do we repent, we heathens, because we cannot be cowardly; we have the courage to stand by our deeds. Why have you Christians made the name Heathen an insult? You should not peddle your pettiness in the streets, for it permits people to see that the love you are commanded to display is bound up with hate, and that the forgiveness your religion requires of you is burdened with your desire for vengeance. Only the envious stoop to insults.

We see your envy and are ashamed for you, since many of you are still brothers of our blood.

There was a time when it was a disgrace to be a Christian. But then you began to conquer the masses and so you were able to turn the tables and make virtue a disgrace. Then you labeled us the strange ones and called us heathens. We have remained strange, despite your insults. We will never be a mass or a herd. Do you know that there are, also, many among you who are strange as we are? Why do you not throw away the beggar's rags which cover the noble garments of your manhood?

Are you ashamed to be strange? Afraid to be called heathens? When you Christians have finished burying your god in the sky – come to us; we heathens will again show you the Creator. And do not think we have settled accounts with you Christians. We weigh silently – but we do not weigh with false weights.

We do not deceive the God in us, since we do not deceive ourselves. And as we have weighed justly, so have we calculated, so we would be reckoned with justly by God for our souls You see, we do not repent, since we have nothing to repent. Our value lacks nothing. We retained and preserved our whole worth and now you weigh! And when you have weighed, calculated and evaluated, ask your envious spirit how much you have lost. He who has lost nothing of his worth is without envy – and without hatred for us heathens.

The petty man hates whatever is superior to him, while the great man admires it. The petty man pities whatever is beneath him, while the great man scorns it, if it merits his scorn, or he helps it up.

THE NEXT GENERATION OF GERMANS:

There in his cradle lies my son, reaching, reaching gleefully toward his ancestors' portraits on the wall.

This tiny, laughing bundle of life is the next step of the future of my race. I was the last step. He is the next. And behind me I see the path of my race passing back through the distant millennia until it is dimmed by the mist of time – for the generations which came before the earliest on the wall are, also, real. My race's entire path through time I do not know – but I do know that I live and that I am only a link in the chain in which no link must fail, so long as my people live. Otherwise, I never would have been. For generations a parchment-bound book has been passed down through our family I open it and inscribe a yellowed page for my son: "Your life is not of this day and not of tomorrow. It is of the thousand years which came before you and the thousand years to come after you. During the thousand years before you, your blood was purely preserved, so that you would be who you are. Now you must preserve your blood, so that all of the generations of the next thousand years will honor you and thank you.

RECONNECTING TO THE COLLECTIVE UNCONSCIOUS OF THE GERMAN FOLK:

That is the meaning of life, that divinity, awakens in the blood. But only in pure blood does it live!

Of whom have I spoken? Of my ancestors? They are only a symbol of the Folk of which I am a living part.

To whom have I spoken? To my son? My son is only a part of my Folk. The wisdom of a thousand generations slumbers in you. Waken it and you have found the key which will open the doors of your truest aspirations. Only he who esteems himself is worthy of being a man. Only he is a man who bears the living past and future in himself, for only he is able to stand above the present hour. And only he who is master of the present is successful; he alone is fulfilled. As only in fulfillment is divinity. Thus, sayeth the Voice of our Ancestors.

June 9, 1942

Seven years later, at a time when the outcome of the war was uncertain, we can see that Himmler still kept his views on the OLB and Christianity and was more determined than ever to help his fellow Germans break from this foreign desert religion.

Speech to top leaders of the SS, June 9, 1942, Berlin. This speech was given on the same day as Heydrich's funeral in Berlin, an event that clearly concentrated Himmler's mind on his top priorities in life.

We will have to deal with Christianity in a tougher way then hitherto. We must settle accounts with this Christianity, this greatest of plagues that could have happened to us in our history, which has weakened us in every conflict. If our generation does not do it then it would I think drag on for a long time. We must overcome it within ourselves. Today at Heydrich's funeral I intentionally expressed in my oration from my deepest conviction a belief in God, a belief in fate, in the ancient one as I called him- that is the old Germanic word: Wralda.

We shall once again have to find a new scale of values for our people: the scale of the macrocosm and the microcosm, the starry sky above us and the world in us, the world that we see in the microscope. The essence of these megalomaniacs, these Christians who talk of men ruling this world, must stop and be put back in its proper proportion. Man is nothing special at all. He is an insignificant part of this earth. If a big thunderstorm comes, he can do nothing about it. He cannot even predict it. He has no idea how a fly is constructed-however unpleasant, it is a miracle- or how a blossom is constructed. He must once again look with deep reverence into this world. Then he will acquire the right sense of proportion about what is above us, about how we are woven into this cycle.

Then, on a different plane, something else must happen; we must once again be rooted in our ancestors and grandchildren, in this eternal chain and eternal sequence. By rooting our people in a deep ideological awareness of ancestors and grandchildren we must once more persuade them that they must have sons. We can do a very great deal. But everything that we do must be justifiable vis-à-vis the clan, our ancestors. If we do not secure this moral foundation which is the deepest and best because the most natural, we will not be able to overcome Christianity on this plane and create the Germanic Reich which will be a blessing for the earth. That is our mission as a nation on this earth. For thousands of years it has been the mission of this blond race to rule the earth and again and again to bring it happiness and culture.

Source: Nazism: A History in Documents and Eyewitness Accounts, 1919-1945 by J. Noakes and G. Pridham, Schocken Books, Inc, New York, First American Edition 1990, Page 498

Notice Himmler is aware of the Macrocosm and the Microcosm, which is an esoteric study. And he mentions "on this plane" which is an odd thing to say unless you know that the earth is flat. In addition, he mentions wanting to be a blessing to the earth and the megalomaniacs who want to rule it, implying the Nazis wanted to do nothing of the sort. And, most importantly, he knows that the creator is Wralda, and not some made up god in a desert religion.

1943

During the height of the war...

In speech to senior naval officers (1943):

... above us is an infinite wisdom. The Teutons had a beautiful expression for it: Wralda, the ancient. We may dispute how it can be revered and how in earthly terms it can be broken down into cults and varieties. Source: "Heinrich Himmler: A Life" by Peter Longerich, page 266

Atheism is the only world, or religious view that is not tolerated within the SS... I have not tolerated an atheist in the ranks of the SS. Every member has a deep faith in God, in what my ancestors called in their language Wralda, the ancient one, the one who is mightier than we are.

April 17, 1945

Even when their defeat was imminent, Himmler never wavered in his faith of Wralda, and that the German people shall not perish from the face of the earth.

In last letter to his family (April 17, 1945): The Most-Ancient ('Uralte': overold-one) will protect us and particularly the brave/good German people and not let us perish.

ON HITLER AND CHRISTIANITY

I want to begin by explaining a little of my truth journey so far and why I decided to read Table Talk for myself. I wanted to know first-hand what Hitler said and not rely on what others told me he said. And I wanted to get to the bottom of Hitler's views on Christianity.

Prior to reading Table Talk certain things already weren't adding up.

When you study the life of Adolf Hitler, you will find out that he had a memorial grove built for the 4,500 brave men under Wittekind, that were beheaded by Charlemagne, in October 782 AD at the Massacre of Verden. The reason being that they wouldn't convert from their native Germanic "Paganism" to Christianity. The following year, as proof of Charlemagne's fanatic resolve to FORCE the remaining Saxons into Roman Catholicism, he issued a legal code, called the Capitulatio de Partibus Saxoniae, which included MORE beheadings for any Saxon who refused to convert.

Why would Hitler honor these men if he was a Christian? Honor Pagans that were beheaded by a CHRISTIAN king?

The Sachsenhain, a Memorial Grove built under Hitler's orders in Verden, for the Fallen Germans Who Valiantly Defied the Christians

WITTEKIND or WHITE KIN: The name of a principal king in the Saxon's war against Charlemagne. Some render Wittekind as "White Child"; but it was originally written in the Latin as Witikindus, which would translate as, "very celebrated or known." All are quite fitting.

Wittekind, King of the Saxons, defeated by Charlemagne (Karl the Saxon Slayer), and to save the remainder of his people, submits to him and acknowledges him as the Holy Roman Emperor

I was also told that one proof of Hitler being a Christian was that he had Gott Mit Uns put on his soldiers' belt buckles. But wouldn't he put Jesus Mit Uns if he was Christian? And if he was instead a Pagan, wouldn't he put Gotter Mit Uns? Which is Gods in the plural? He did have God in the singular put on the belt buckles, so I would say Hitler was a MONOTHEIST, a belief in ONE Creator, but not necessarily a Christian.

So let's delve into Hitler's conversations and see if we can find more clues as to his opinion on Christianity.

Table Talk is a collection of dictations by Hitler's private secretary Martin Bormann from Hitler's candid discussions over meals with guests.

Now I'm sure many of you have heard of this book. And you have also most likely heard that it is a forgery. Where else have we heard of books being forgeries?

Let's see, there is The Protocols of the Learned Elders of Zion. But when we read that book, we see that all the items in it have come true or are coming true as we speak. So, I wouldn't say that book is a forgery. That book is one of their playbooks.

Any other books considered forgeries?

Oh yes, The Oera Linda Book (OLB) has also been called a forgery. I wonder why? Could it be because it gives the true history and philosophy of the Fryan Race? And that this history sheds light on the Magy who are the Jews of today? That book is also not a forgery. Many good scholars have gone through and verified its authenticity.

Well Table Talk is no different. They claim this book is a forgery because they want you to believe Hitler was a Christian. This fits their agenda. But what Hitler actually does is expose Christianity for what it truly is and exposes the fact that the Jews are behind it.

So, there are things in this book that Hitler discusses that might rub some of you the wrong way, but you have to remember that Hitler was from a different generation and not so politically correct as someone from present day. (He was less brain-washed.) Also, he says things that many of us are thinking but just not brave enough to articulate. He was a free-spoken man, and his conversations are brutally honest. In them you can't deny the love he shows for his people. You also will see what a lover of the arts he was, lover of beauty, and above all lover of the natural world.

But for this discussion I want to mainly focus on Hitler's views on religion, and Christianity in particular. He is a philosopher with a keen eye for observation and I've come away with a better understanding of the world in which we live, and our place in it, thanks to Adolf Hitler.

Martin Bormann, Hitler's Private Secretary, with Hitler at the Bergdorf

So, let's begin.

Night of 11th-12th July 1941

I think the man who contemplates the universe with his eyes wide open is the man with the greatest amount of natural piety: not in the religious sense, but in the sense of an intimate harmony with things.

Man has discovered in nature the wonderful notion of that Almighty being whose law he worships. Fundamentally in everyone there is this feeling for the Almighty, which we call God (that is to say, the dominion of natural laws throughout the whole universe). The priests, who have always succeeded in exploiting this feeling, threaten punishments for the man who refuses to accept the creed they impose.

The priests, who have always succeeded in exploiting this feeling, says it all. I always felt distrust of them, that they were just finding ways to take our money for their own gain-being the middle men.

He continues, When one provokes in a child a fear of the dark, one awakens in him a feeling of atavistic dread. Thus this child will be ruled all his life by this dread, whereas another child, who has been intelligently brought up, will be free of it.

Hitler is of course implying here that the priests teach children that they will burn in hell if they don't conform to the view of the Church. This is a hard one to break for most people, even as adults, because it affects a primal instinct in our being, one of self-preservation.

He continues, It's said that every man needs a refuge where he can find consolation and help in unhappiness. I don't believe it! If humanity follows that path, it's solely a matter of tradition and habit. That's a lesson by the way, that can be drawn from the Bolshevik front. The Russians have no God, and that doesn't prevent them from being able to face death. We don't want to educate anyone on atheism.

So, from this we know Hitler is NOT an atheist. He didn't want to educate his people on atheism, and so, he had the words "God with us" WITH each man, put on his belt buckle.

Night of 17th-18th July 1941

In the long run, National Socialism and religion will no longer be able to exist together.

The ideal solution would be to leave the religions to devour themselves, without persecutions.

But in that case we must not replace the Church by something equivalent. That would be terrifying! It goes without saying that the whole thing needs a lot of thought. Everything will occur in due time. It is a simple question of honesty, that's what it will finally boil down to.

We can see Hitler believes in God, but NOT in religion.

He continues, in the same night, In England, the status of the individual in relation to the Church is governed by considerations of State. In America, it's all purely a matter of CONFORMISM. The German people's special quality is patience; and it's the only one of the peoples capable of undertaking a revolution in this sphere. It could do it, if only for the reason that only the German people have made moral law the governing principle in action.

Remember, from the OLB, how the Gertmanna (the Germans) lived thousands of years in the foreign land of India, but came back, with their race, culture, language and laws intact. They abided by the moral laws within their hearts, placed there by Wralda.

From the writings of Frethorik on the new arrivals of Fryans to the motherland in the OLB we read: The Gertmannen I can readily pass by. I have not had much to do with them, but as far as I have seen they have mostly retained their language and customs. I cannot say that of the others.

Arminius defeated the Romans in Teutoburg Forest, precipitating Rome's permanent withdrawal from Germania. (18BC – 21AD)

And in America it IS purely a matter of conformism. How pious are people living here today? Not very. Most don't even attend church. But say you are not a Christian and you become an outcast. Your fellow Americans will look down on you, as if you are less, with disdain and pity. Christianity is truly the religion of intolerance.

And here we have some hard-hitting truths from Hitler, The heaviest blow that ever-struck humanity was the coming of Christianity, Bolshevism is Christianity's illegitimate child.

Both are inventions of the Jew. The deliberate lie in the matter of religion was introduced into the world by Christianity.

Bolshevism practices a lie of the same nature, when it claims to bring liberty to men, whereas in reality it seeks only to enslave them. In the ancient world, the relations between men and gods were founded on an instinctive respect. It was a world enlightened by the idea of tolerance. Christianity was the first creed in the world to exterminate its adversaries in the name of love. Its keynote is intolerance.

Christianity's keynote is INTOLERANCE.

The same night, he continues, Without Christianity, we should not have had Islam. The Roman Empire, under Germanic influence, would have developed in the direction of world-domination, and humanity would not have extinguished fifteen centuries of civilization at a single stroke.

Let it not be said that Christianity brought man the life of the soul, for that evolution was in the natural order of things.

Hitler makes it clear that he believes Christianity and Bolshevism are TWO SIDES OF THE SAME COIN. So, when people say World War Two was really a war between Christianity and Bolshevism that is a LIE. World War Two was really about FREEING humanity from slavery.

Night of 21st-22nd July 1941

It's certain that Luther had no desire to mold humanity to the letter of the Scriptures. He has a whole series of reflections in which he clearly sets himself against the Bible. He recognizes that it contains a lot of bad things.

But Luther had the merit of rising against the Pope and the organization of the Church. It was the first of the great revolutions.

Martin Luther, a German Priest, best known for his thesis against the Catholic Church, which caused the Protestant Reformation (1483-1546)

Night of 23rd September 1941

The elements of which our body is made belong to the cycle of nature; and as for our soul, it's possible that it might return to limbo, until it gets an opportunity to reincarnate itself, but it would vex me if everybody wanted to have done with life.

To make death easier for people, the Church holds out to them the bait of a better world. We, for our part, confine ourselves to asking man to fashion his life worthily. For this, it is sufficient for him to conform to the laws of nature. Let's seek inspiration in these principles, and in the long run we'll triumph over religion.

Hitler believed we are to make the best of THIS world. He also believed in reincarnation.

He continues, But there will never be any possibility of National Socialism's setting out to ape religion by establishing a form of worship.

It's one ambition must be scientifically to construct a doctrine that is nothing more than an homage to reason.

Our duty is to teach men to see whatever is lovely and truly wonderful in life, and not to become prematurely ill-tempered and spiteful. We wish fully to enjoy what is beautiful, to cling to it- and to avoid, as far as possible, anything that might do harm to people like ourselves.

Enjoy nature. Enjoy this world.

Kraft Durch Fruede ~ Strength Through Joy

Hitler actually made a campaign called Strength Through Joy (Kraft Durch Fruede) to give the Volk a better life. He wanted them to be happy, to enjoy nature, the arts and to have a chance of leisure, to take holiday cruises to the Mediterranean.

Hitler lounging on one of the Volk's Cruise Ships

If today you do harm to the Russians, it is so as to avoid giving them the opportunity of doing harm to us. God does not act differently. He suddenly hurls the masses of humanity on to the earth, and he leaves it to each one to work out his own salvation. Men dispossess one another, and one perceives that, at the end of it all, it is always the stronger who triumphs. Is that not the most reasonable order of things? If it were otherwise, nothing good would ever have existed.

God gave humanity FREE WILL.

Under Natural Law, the strong will survive. The strong, in the end, IS Frya, but we have to go through this struggle to fully understand this in the end.

The OLB shares a similar philosophy. In it we read: Frya has brought us to the path and the carrier, that is Time, must do the rest. For all calamities there is counsel and remedy to be found, but Wralda wills that we should seek it ourselves, in order that we may become strong and wise. If we will not do that, he leaves us to our own devices, in order that we may experience the results of wise or foolish conduct.

If we did not respect the laws of nature, imposing our will by the right of the stronger, a day would come when the wild animals would once again devour usthen the insects would eat the wild animals, and finally nothing would exist on earth but the microbes.

Night of 27th-28th September 1941

The Church has been able to profit by this conception of life. It proclaims that the poor in spirit- and the other poor, too- will go to heaven, whilst the rich will pay with eternal sufferings for the blessing of earthly existence. The Church is moved to sy this by the tacit contract between the priests and the possessors, who joyfully leave the Church a little money so that it may go on encouraging the poor to grovel.

The OLB says a similar thing. We read about the cunning of the Church: Although they knew that Jesus had taught that men should regulate and control their passions, they taught that men should STIFLE their passions, and that the perfection of humanity consisted in being as unfeeling as the cold stones. In order to make the people believe that they did as they preached, they pretended poverty; and that they had overcome all sensual feelings, they took no wives. But if any young girl had made a false step, it was quickly forgiven: the weak, they said, were to be assisted, and to save their souls men must give largely to the CHURCH.

10th October 1941, Midday

Christianity is a rebellion against natural law, a protest against nature. Taken to its logical extreme, Christianity would mean the systematic cultivation of the human failure.

Hitler was a follower of NATURAL Law, that was his church.

14th October 1941, Midday

An educated man retains the sense of the mysteries of nature and bows before the unknowable. An uneducated man, on the other hand, runs the risk of going over to atheism (which is a return to the state of the animal) as soon as he perceives that the State, in sheer opportunism, is making use of false ideas in the matter of religion, whilst in other fields it bases everything on pure science.

Atheism is a return to the state of the animal.

Absence of God

So it's not opportune to hurl ourselves now int a struggle with the Churches. The best thing is to let Christianity die a natural death. A slow death has something comforting about it. The dogma of Christianity gets worn away before the advances of science. Religion will have to make more and more concessions. Gradually the myths crumble. All that's left is to prove that in nature there is no frontier between the organic and the inorganic.

So, Hitler believed that Christianity would die a natural death as man realized the lies of the priests and the truths of our world through reason. He was fighting not only Communism and the Jew, but the Church. A hard task at hand. As Nietzsche would say, this is classic Higher Man versus Mass Man. Mass man is winning today.

He continues, Nobody has the right to deprive simple people of their childish certainties until they've acquired others that are more reasonable.

And with the dumbing down of all the races, most would now be considered "simple people."

Indeed, it's most important that the higher belief should be well established in them before the lower belief has been removed. We must finally achieve this. But it would serve no purpose to replace an old belief by a new one that would merely fill the place left vacant by its predecessor.

It seems to me that nothing would be more foolish than to re-establish the worship of Wotan. Our old mythology had ceased to be viable when Christianity implanted itself. Nothing dies unless it is moribund. At that period the ancient world was divided between the systems of philosophy and the worship of idols. It's not desirable that the whole of humanity should be stultified= and the only way of getting rid of Christianity is to allow it to die little by little.

So here we have proof that not only was Hitler NOT a Christian, he most certainly was NOT a Pagan either. He was a believer of Natural Law. Of turning to nature for answers on the Creator. This is the same concept of believing in Wralda. Believing in Wralda and His World.

Wralda ~ World

The OLB also discusses the man, Odin, who was a Fryan General. He betrayed his people and allowed himself to be beguiled by the Magy and their promises of power and worship.

In the OLB we read upon Odin's death: His reign lasted seven years, and then he disappeared. The Magy said that he was taken up by their gods and that he reigned from there over them, but our people laughed at what he said.

Wotan, otherwise known as Odin, was a mortal man, a general under Frya's service, who betrayed his people and became a god of the Magy.

He continues, Science cannot lie, for it's always striving, according to the momentary state of knowledge, to deduce what is truth. When it makes a mistake, it does so in good faith. It's Christianity that's the liar. It's in perpetual conflict with itself.

Of course, Hitler is a little naïve on this point. We know that Heliocentrism was brought to us by Nicolaus Copernicus. That Isaac Newton put forth his nonsensical laws of Gravity. And that rascal Albert Einstein presented us with his bogus Theory of Relativity. These "scientists" and many others have been duping the public ever since. Science SHOULDN'T lie, but we know that the Jews, and their cronies, will lie about everything to their advantage.

Nicolaus Copernicus and his bogus Heliocentric Theory (Feb. 19, 1473-May 24, 1543)

One may ask whether the disappearance of Christianity would entail the disappearance of the belief in God. That's not to be desired. The notion of divinity gives most men the opportunity to concretize the feeling they have of supernatural realities. Why should we destroy this wonderful power they have of incarnating the feeling for the divine that is within them? The man who lives in communion with nature necessarily finds himself in opposition to the Churches. And that's why they're heading for ruin- for science is bound to win.

I especially wouldn't want our movement to acquire a religious character and institute a form of worship. It would be appalling for me, and I would wish I'd never lived, if I were to end up in the skin of a Buddha!

So Hitler is saying here, like great Fryans before him, such as Athena/Minerva, that he would be APPALLED if he were made into a god after his death.

Buddha with ancient swastika symbol

As for the men close to me, who, like me, have escaped from the clutches of dogma, I've no reason to fear that the Church will get its hooks on them.

It would be safe to assume that the men closest to Hitler, Himmler, Goebbels, Rosenberg, Hess and Goehring, were all free form religious dogma.

We'll see to it that the Churches cannot spread abroad teachings in conflict with the interests of the State. We shall continue to preach the doctrine of National Socialism, and the young will no longer be taught anything but the truth.

The truth will set you free. Unfortunately, it was a steep climb. Not only did Hitler have to fight off the Jews, but the Church as well. Because the Church were one of the biggest deceivers and THEY didn't want to lose their power and control over the people as well.

Here is a National Socialist pamphlet explaining the Laws of Nature as Hitler wanted.

Night of 17th October 1941

The precept that it's men's duty to love one another is theory- and the Christians are the last to practice it! A Negro baby who had the misfortune to die before a missionary gets his clutches on him, goes to Hell! If that were true, one might well lament that sorrowful destiny: to have lived only three years, and to burn for all eternity with Lucifer!

Night of 19th October 1941

The reason why the ancient world was so pure, light and serene was that it knew nothing of the two great scourges: the pox and Christianity.

Christianity is a prototype of Bolshevism: the mobilization by the Jew of the masses of slaves with the object of undermining society. Thus one understands that the healthy elements of the Roman world were proof against this doctrine.

Yet Rome today allows itself to reproach Bolshevism with having destroyed the Christian churches! As if Christianity hadn't behaved in the same way towards the pagan temples.

We know today that many Christian churches were built OVER pagan temple sites! What hypocrisy!

Ancient Rome

21st October 1941, Midday

Originally, Christianity was merely an incarnation of Bolshevism the destroyer. Nevertheless, the Galilean, who was later called Christ, intended something quite different. He must be regarded as a popular leader who took up his position against Jewry. Galilee was a colony where the Romans had probably installed Gallic legionaries, and it's certain that Jesus was not a Jew. The Jews, by the way, regarded him as the son of a whore- of a whore and a Roman soldier.

The decisive falsification of Jesus's doctrine was the work of St. Paul. He gave himself to this work with subtlety and for purposes of personal exploitation. For the Galilean's object was to liberate his country from Jewish oppression. He set himself against Jewish capitalism, and that's why the Jews liquidated him.

Paul of Tarsus (his name was Saul before the road to Damascus) was one of those who persecuted Jesus most savagely.

When he learned that Jesus's supporters let their throats be cut for his ideas, he realized that, by making intelligent use of the Galilean's teaching, it would be possible to overthrow this Roman State which the Jews hated. It's in this context that we must understand the famous "illumination". Think of it, the Romans were daring to confiscate the most sacred thing the Jews possessed, the gold piled up in their temples! At that time, as now, money was their god.

Prophets ~ Profits

On the road to Damascus, St. Paul discovered that he could succeed in ruining the Roman State by causing the principle to triumph, of the equality of all men before a single God- and by putting beyond the reach of the laws his private notions, which he alleged to be divinely inspired. If, into the bargain, one succeeded in imposing one man as the representative on earth of the only God, that man would possess boundless power.

The ancient world had its gods and served them. But the priests interposed between the gods and men were servants of the State, for the gods protected the City. In short, they were the emanation of a power that the people had created. For that society, the idea of an only god was unthinkable. In this sphere, the Romans were tolerance itself. The idea of an universal god could seem to them only a mild form of madness – for, if three peoples fight one another, each invoking the same god, this means that, at any rate, two of them are praying in vain.

Nobody was more tolerant than the Romans. Every man could pray to the god of his choice, and a place was even reserved in the temples for the unknown god. Moreover, every man prayed as he chose, and had the right to proclaim his preferences.

St. Paul knew how to exploit this state of affairs in order to conduct his struggle against the Roman State. Nothing has changed: the method has remained sound. Under cover of a pretended religious instruction, the priests continue to incite the faithful against the State.

From this writing we can infer that Hitler believed the writers of the Bible were speaking of real events and real people. But we know, as Hitler did, that the Jews are master deceivers and wouldn't stop their treachery with this book. If he had a chance to study the OLB, he would probably notice the similarities between the "Bible stories" and actual events that happened in the journeys of the Fryan people. He would also see that there was a "Christ" or "Krishna" three hundred years prior to the era of this Christ, who was made into a god upon his death in India. No where does the OLB mention this Jesus Christ of the Mediterranean, an area that they colonized, did frequent trade with, and knew very well. If he was such an important man, God incarnate, living during the 1st century AD, the Fryans would have surely written about him in their memoirs.

From the OLB on Jesus we read: Sixteen times a hundred years after Atland was submerged (593 BC), something happened which nobody had contemplated. In the heart of Findasland, upon a mountain, lies a plain called Kasamyr (Cashmere). There a child was born whose mother was the daughter of a king and whose father was a high priest. In order to hide the shame they were obliged to renounce their own blood. Therefore, he was taken out of the town to poor people. As the boy grew up, nothing was concealed from him, so he did all in his power to acquire wisdom. His intellect was so great that he understood everything that he saw or heard. The people regarded him with respect, and the priests were afraid of his questions.

His first name was Jesus, but the priests, who hated him, called him Fo, that is, false: the people called him Krisen, that is, shepherd: and his Fryan friend called him Buda (Buddha) because he had a treasure of wisdom in his head, and in his heart a treasure of love.

Fo ~ False

Fo ~ Foe ~ Enemy

Christ ~ Krishna ~ Krisen ~ Shepherd

The religious ideas of the Romans are common to all Aryan peoples. The Jew, on the other hand, worshiped and continues to worship, then and now, nothing but the golden calf.

The Jewish religion is devoid of all metaphysics and has no foundation but the most repulsive materialism. That's proved even in the concrete representation they have of the Beyond- which for them is identified with Abraham's bosom.

It's interesting to note that in the OLB it speaks of the Golden Calf as well. The Magy mentioned here, are the precursors to the Jews of today. We read: The leading men and their sturdy sons crawled to the unchaste Finnish girls; and their own daughters, led astray by this vile example, allowed themselves to be charmed by the handsome Finnish lads to the ridicule of their degenerate parents. When the Magy got sniff of this he took the most attractive of his Finns and Magyar AND PROMISED THEM COWS WITH GOLDEN HORNS TO LET THEM BE TAKEN IN BY OUR PEOPLE IN ORDER TO SPREAD HIS DOCTRINES. His people did even more. Children disappeared, were taken away to Uppsala, and after they had been brought up in his filthy doctrines, were sent back.

~ Adela 559 BC

It's striking to observe that Christian ideas, despite all St. Paul's efforts, had no success in Athens. The philosophy of the Greeks was so much superior to this poverty-stricken rubbish that the Athenians burst out laughing when they listened to the apostle's teaching. But in Rome St. Paul found the ground prepared for him. His egalitarian theories had what was needed to win over a mass composed of innumerable uprooted people.

Remember, from the OLB, that the Athenians were FRYANS, our people. The Romans were already a mixed breed by that time. So, our ancestors were NOT DUPED by the Magy back then.

Rome was Bolshevized, and Bolshevism produced exactly the same results in Rome as later in Russia.

It was only later, under the influence of the Germanic spirit, that Christianity gradually lost its openly Bolshevistic character.

It became, to a certain degree, tolerable. Today, when Christianity is tottering, the Jew restores to pride of place Christianity in its Bolshevistic form.

Germany's Ideal Future under the Leadership of the Bolsheviks- Death and Destruction

The Jew believed he could renew the experiment. Today, as once before, the object is to destroy nations by vitiating their racial integrity. It's not by chance that the Jews, in Russia, have systematically deported hundreds of thousands of men, delivering the women, whom the men were compelled to leave behind, to males imported from other regions. They practiced on a vast scale the mixture of races.

As you can see here, what Hitler mentions is EXACTLY what they are doing today with the implementation of the Kalergi Plan. If Hitler only knew how bad things could get. I think even he would be shocked.

Coudenhove Kalergi was a mixed breed himself. Having an Austrian father and a Japanese mother.

Anti-Miscegenation is also mentioned in the OLB. We read of the Burgh Matron's advice about Lyda or Finda wanting to marry one of Frya's children: Should any of them desire one of your daughters as a wife, and she is willing, explain to her, her foolishness: but if she still wants to follow her suitor, let her go in peace. If your son wishes for a daughter of theirs, you must do the same as with your daughter: but neither the one nor the other may ever return, for they would introduce foreign morals and customs, and if these were accepted by you, I could no longer watch over you.

He continues, In the old days, as now, was the destruction of art and civilization.

The Bolsheviks of their day, what didn't they destroy in Rome, in Greece and elsewhere? They've behaved in the same way amongst us and in Russia.

One must compare the art and civilization of the Romans- their temples, their houses- with the art and civilization represented at the same period by the abject rabble of the catacombs.

In the old days, the destruction of the libraries. Isn't that what happened in Russia? The result: a frightful leveling down.

The Ancient Library of Alexandria

Didn't the world see, carried on right into the Middle Ages, the same old system of martyrs, tortures, faggots? Of old, it was in the name of Christianity. Today, it's in the name of Bolshevism.

Yesterday, the instigator was Saul: the instigator today, Mordochai.

Saul has changed into St. Paul, and Mordochai into Karl Marx. By exterminating this pest, we shall do humanity a service of which our soldiers can have no idea.

Paul- Jewish Christianity, Marx- Jewish Bolshevism, again, two sides of the same coin.

Karl Marx, aka Moses Mordechai Levy, Doing the Hidden Hand

24th October 1941, Evening

Religion is in perpetual conflict with the spirit of free research. The Church's opposition to science was sometimes so violent that it struck off sparks.

The Church, with a clear awareness of her interests, had made a strategic retreat, with the result that science has lost some of its aggressiveness.

The present teaching in schools permits the following absurdity: at 10 am the pupils attend a lesson in the catechism, at which the creation of the world is presented to them in accordance with the teachings of the Bible; and at 11 am they attend a lesson in natural science, at which they are taught the theory of evolution. Yet the two doctrines are in complete contradiction. As a child, I suffered from this contradiction and ran my head against a wall. Often I complained to one or another of my teachers against what I had been taught an hour before- and I remember I drove them to despair.

Cognitive Dissonance ~ Holding two opposing beliefs at the same time. The intelligent man knows that one, or both, must be untrue. Hitler knew.

Today, we know that these two opposing views are both wrong. All humanity didn't come from Adam and Eve, and all humanity didn't evolve from apes. From the OLB, we get the story from our ancient ancestors, their belief in where humanity came from. We learn that originally there were THREE mothers, that represented the three main races on earth, white, brown and black. The white mother was named Frya, the brown was Finda, and the black was Lyda. Each tribe was always a SEPARATE seed.

From the OLB we read: After the twelfth Yule festival she (earth) gave birth to three maidens: Lyda out of glowing, Finda out of hot, and Frya out of warm dust. When the last came (Frya), Wralda breathed his spirit upon her in order that men should be bound to him.

Frya, Finda and Lyda

Later that night, he continues, When one says that God provokes the lightning, that's true in a sense; but what is certain is that God does not direct the thunderbolt, as the Church claims. The Church's explanation of natural phenomena is an abuse, for the Church has ulterior interests. True piety is the characteristic of the being who is aware of his weakness and ignorance. Whoever sees God only in an oak or in a tabernacle, instead of seeing Him everywhere, is not truly pious. He remains attached to appearances- and when the sky thunders and the lightning strikes, he trembles simply from fear of being struck as punishment for the sin he's just committed.

25th October 1941, Evening

What a certificate of mental poverty it was for Christianity that it destroyed the libraries of the ancient world! Graeco-Roman thought was made to seem like the teachings of the Devil. "If thou desires to live, thou shalt not expose thyself unto temptation." Bolshevism sets about its task in the same way as Christianity, so that the faithful may not know what is happening in the rest of the world.

The same task is being done to us today in the digital world. Alternative views are being purged from YouTube, Bitchute, X and the internet in general. Books that tell the truth about World War Two are being removed, and the ones that are available are at prices out of reach for most people.

Christianity set itself systematically to destroy ancient culture. What came to us was passed down by chance, or else it was a product of Roman liberal writers. Perhaps we are entirely ignorant of humanity's most precious spiritual treasures.

Who can know what was there? The Papacy was faithful to these tactics even during recorded history. How did people behave, during the age of the great explorations, towards the spiritual riches of Central America? In our parts of the world, the Jews would have immediately eliminated Schopenhauer, Nietzsche and Kant.

If the Bolsheviks had dominion over us for two hundred years, what works of our past would be handed on to posterity? Our great men would fall into oblivion, or else they'd be presented to future generations as criminals and bandits.

We ARE fortunate to still be able to get the writings of men of truth such as Hitler, Himmler, and Nietzsche. But it is a struggle to sift through all the propaganda and lies put out there to even get to their works. It takes perseverance and dedication to get to the truth.

German philosophers, Immanuel Kant, Arthur Schopenhauer, & Friederich Nietzsche

Or else they'd be presented to future generations as criminals and bandits. Who comes to mind as the most villainized man on earth? Adolf Hitler himself.

I don't believe at all in the truth of certain mental pictures that many people have of the Roman emperors. I'm sure that Nero didn't set fire to Rome. It was the Christian-Bolsheviks who did that, just as the Communists set fire to Paris in 1871 and the Communists set fire to the Reichstag in 1932.

Great Fire of Rome, 64 AD

Here we see that Hitler KNEW who was behind the Reichstag Fire.

Communist Set Reichstag Fire, 1932

I wasn't aware of the Paris Fire of 1871, but when we do a search for it we find that the Commune of Paris, was an insurrection against the French government from March 18 to May 28, 1871. It occurred in the wake of France's defeat in the Franco-German War and the collapse of Napoleon III's Second Empire (1852–70).

Commune of Paris Fire of 1871 (Commune~Communists)

The Jews do love their fires, don't they? Like the Great London Fire of September 1666.

September 1666, London Bridge on fire during the Great Fire of London.

And their Firebombing of Dresden just after the last entries of Table Talk from Feb. 13 – Feb. 15, 1945.

They love their fires.

Dresden Bombing 1945

Hitler also mentions Nero. Looking up Nero we find that he is known as one of Rome's most infamous rulers, notorious for his cruelty and debauchery. So, we know the OPPOSITE would most likely be the truth; that Nero was PRO- Fryan, PRO- Aryan, and so they have to spread lies about him as well.

Emperor Nero, 37-68 AD

Methods of persuasion of a moral order are not an effective weapon against those who despise the truth- when we have to deal with priests, for example, of a Church who know that everything about it is based on lies, and who live by it. They think me a spoil-sport when I rise up in their midst; indeed, I am going to spoil their little games.

Hitler knew he was a threat to the Church, as did they. He was fighting Communism and the Church at the same time, just with the Church in a more subtle way.

5th November 1941, Evening

Where we have a philosopher, they have a Talmudistic pettifogger. What for us is an attempt to get to the bottom of things and express the inexpressible, becomes for the Jew a pretext for verbal juggleries. His only talent is for masticating ideas so as to disguise his thought. He has observed that the Aryan is stupid to the point of accepting anything in matters of religion, as soon as the idea of God is recognized.

With the Aryan, the belief in the Beyond often takes a quite childish form; but this belief does represent an effort towards a deepening of things. The man who doesn't believe in the Beyond has no understanding of religion. The great trick of Jewry was to insinuate itself fraudulently amongst the religions with a religion like Judaism, which in reality is not a religion. Simply, the Jew has put a religious camouflage over his racial doctrine. Everything he undertakes is built on this lie.

Rabbi Stephen Wise center, with Albert Einstein- two complete fraud peddlers.

11th November 1941, Evening

I've always defended the point of view that the Party should hold itself aloof from religion. We never organized religious services for our supporters. I preferred to run the risk of being put under the ban of the Church or excommunicated. The Church's friendship costs too dear. In case of success, I can hear myself being told that it's thanks to her. I'd rather she had nothing to do with it, and that I shouldn't be presented with the bill! Russia used to be the most bigoted State of all. Nothing happened there without the participation of the Orthodox priests. That didn't prevent the Russians from getting beaten.

It seems that the prayers of a hundred forty million Russians were less convincing, before God, than those of a smaller number of Japanese. It was the same thing in the first World War. Russian prayers had less weight than ours. Even on the home front, the cowls proved incapable of ensuring the maintenance of the established order. They permitted the triumph of Bolshevism.

The man of today, who is formed by the disciples of science, has likewise ceased taking the teaching of religion very seriously. What is in opposition to the laws of nature cannot come from God. Moreover, thunderbolts do not spare churches.

Although one does not aim at seeking for truth, it is a kind of philosophy which can satisfy simple minds.

Everything is finally a matter of the feeling man has of his own impotence. In itself, this philosophy has nothing pernicious about it. The essential thing, really, is that man should know that salvation consists in the effort that each person makes to understand Providence and accept the laws of nature.

What repulsive hypocrisy that arrant Freemason, Roosevelt, displays when he speaks of Christianity! All the Churches should rise up against him-for he acts on principles diametrically opposed to those of the religions of which he boasts.

Hitler closed all the Masonic Lodges in Germany. He knew this organization ruled by secrecy, headed by the Jews, was being used against him. Roosevelt was a Freemason AND A Christian- which says a lot.

20th November 1941

If the mental picture that Christians form of God were correct, the god of the ants would be an ant, and similarly for the other animals.

Night of 1st December 1941

The toad knows nothing of his previous existence as a tadpole, and our own memory serves us no better as regards to our previous state. That's why I have the feeling that it's useful to know the laws of nature- for that enables us to obey them.

To act otherwise would be to rise in revolt against Heaven. If I can accept a divine Commandment, it's this one: "Thou, shalt preserve the species." The life of the individual must not be set at too high a price. If the individual were important in the eyes of nature, nature would take care to preserve him. Amongst the millions of eggs a fly lays, very few are hatched out- and yet the race of flies thrives.

Capitalism is an economic system that supports the individual, National Socialism is an economic system that supports the Volk, the whole tribe. The ignorant out there will then say, it's just the same as Communism. I reply with an emphatic NO. In National Socialism, the government works for the benefit of the VOLK. In Communism, the VOLK work for the government. It's a completely inverse system. One brings freedom and joy, unity in the tribe, the other makes men slaves to a small few who run the government, bringing misery and despair to the people.

So, if we are to follow nature, National Socialism would be the closest economic system to what is represented in the natural world. Hitler's system.

Protestantism has the warmth of the iceberg. The Catholic Church, that still has its thousand years of experience and has not lost contact with its Jewish origins, is obviously more adroit. She permits the orgies of Carnival, firstly because she is powerless to prevent them, and secondly because she recaptures the sinner on Ash Wednesday. By picturing to him the suffering of Hell, she succeeds in inciting him to be properly generous. After periods of repentance, there's room for relaxation!

Carnivale in Cologne, Germany

13th December 1941, Midday

The war will be over one day. I shall then consider that my life's final task will be to solve the religious problem. Only then will the life of the German native be guaranteed once and for all.

I don't interfere in matters of belief. Therefore, I can't allow churchmen to interfere with temporal affairs. The organized lie must be smashed. The State must remain the absolute master.

Mussolini had the additional problem of the Vatican in his backyard. He had to contend with the church all the more.

What is this God who takes pleasure only in seeing men grovel before Him? Try to picture to yourselves the meaning of the following, quite simple story. God creates the conditions for sin. Later on He succeeds, with the help of the Devil, in causing man to sin. Then He employs a virgin to bring into the world a son who, by His death, will redeem humanity! I can imagine people being enthusiastic about the paradise of Mahomet, but as for the insipid paradise of the Christians! In your lifetime, you used to hear the music of Richard Wagner. After your death, it will be nothing but hallelujahs, the waving of palms, children of an age for the feeding bottle, and hoary old men.

The man of the isle pays homage to the forces of nature. But Christianity is an invention of sick brains; one could imagine nothing more senseless, nor any more indecent way of turning the idea of the Godhead into a mockery. A Negro with his taboos is crushingly superior to the human being who seriously believes in Transubstantiation.

The Eucharist as the Body of Christ

The OLB warned our people to be aware of these Magy priests and Christianity. In it we read: This doctrine, which requires the priests to possess no further knowledge than to speak deceitfully, and to pretend to be pious while acting unjustly, spreads from east to west, and will come to our land also.

By what would you have me replace the Christians' picture of the Beyond? What comes naturally to mankind is the sense of eternity and that sense is at the bottom of every man. The soul and the mind migrate, just as the body returns to nature. Thus, life is eternally reborn from life. As for the "why?" of all that, I feel no need to rack my brains on the subject. The soul is unfathomable.

If there is a God, at the same time He give man life, He gives him intelligence. By regulating my life according to the understanding that is granted me, I may be mistaken, but I act in good faith.

Man judges everything in relation to himself. What is bigger than himself is big, what is smaller is small. Only one thing is certain, that one is part of the spectacle. Everyone finds his own role.

When all is said, we have no reason to wish that the Italians and Spaniards should free themselves from the drug of Christianity. Let's be the only people who are immunized against the disease.

14th December 1941, Midday

Kerrl, with the noblest of intentions, wanted to attempt a synthesis between National Socialism and Christianity. I don't believe the thing's possible, and I see the obstacle in Christianity itself.

Hanns Kerrl, Reichsminister of Church Affairs

I think I could have come to an understanding with the Popes of the Renaissance. Obviously, their Christianity was a danger on the practical level- and, on the propaganda level, it continued to be a lie. But a Pope, even a criminal one, who protects great artists and spreads beauty around him, is nevertheless more sympathetic to me than the Protestant minister who drinks from the poisoned spring.

Pure Christianity- the Christianity of the catacombs- is concerned with translating the Christian doctrine into facts. It leads quite simply to the annihilation of mankind. It is merely whole-hearted Bolshevism, under a tinsel of metaphysics.

Night of 28th-29th December 1941

If I have an observatory built at Linz, I'll have the following words carved on its front: "The heavens proclaim the glory of the eternal."

Johannes Kepler Observatory, Linz

7th January 1942, Evening

Everything about the behavior of American society reveals that its half Judaized, and the other half negrified.

Night of 16th-17th January 1942

Every year, about Christmas, the children rig themselves out in terrifying masks- a survival of a period when people thought that in this way they could chase away evil spirits. Bad spirits gather in wild and desolate regions!

This belief in evil spirits was brought about by the Magy. The Fryans had no such need for superstition.

From the OLB we read: The priests are the only masters; they call themselves Magyar, and their headman is known as Magy. He is high priest and king in one. The rest of the people are of no account, and under their rule. These people do not even have a name but we call them Finna because although their festivals are all melancholic and bloody, they are so formal that we are inferior to them in this respect. They are not to be envied, though, because they are slaves to their priests and much more to their creeds. They believe that evil spirits are everywhere and enter into people and animals, but of Wralda's spirit they know nothing.

27th January 1942, Midday

But for the coming of Christianity, who knows how the history of Europe would have developed? Rome would have conquered all Europe, and the onrush of the Huns would have been broken on the legions. It was Christianity that brought about the fall of Rome- not the Germans or the Huns.

What Bolshevism is achieving today on the materialist and technical level, Christianity had achieved on the metaphysical level. When the Crown sees the throne totter, it needs the support of the masses.

It would be better to speak of Constantine the traitor and Julian the Loyal than of Constantine the Great and Julian the Apostate. What the Christians wrote against the Emperor Julian is approximately of the same caliber as what the Jews have written against us. The writings of the Emperor Julian, on the other hand, are products of the highest wisdom. If humanity took the trouble to study and understand history, the resulting consequences would have incalculable implications. One day ceremonies of thanksgiving will be sung to Fascism and National Socialism for having preserved Europe from a repetition of the triumph of the Underworld.

Notice mainstream history teaches us the OPPOSITE of truth again and again.

Emperor Julian, 331AD - 363AD

Night of 3rd-4th February 1942

There are towns in Germany from which all joy is lacking. I'm told that it's the same thing in certain Calvinistic regions of Switzerland. In Trier and Freiburg, women have addressed me in so ignoble a fashion that I cannot make up my mind to repeat their words. It's on such occasions that I become aware of the depth of human baseness. Clearly, one must not forget that these areas are still feeling the weight of several centuries of religious oppression.

Johannes Calvin~ John Calvin, reformer and founder of Calvinism

Near Wurzburg, there are villages where literally all the women were burned. We know of judges of the Court of the Inquisition who gloried in having had twenty to thirty thousand "witches" burned. Long experience of such horrors cannot but leave indelible traces upon a population.

Note that these would be White European Women- Fryans. What a despicable religion that would torture and murder our own on the whim of the Church.

In Madrid, the sickening odor of the heretic's pyre remained for more than two centuries mingled with the air one breathed. If a revolution breaks out again in Spain, one must see in it the natural reaction to an interminable series of atrocities.

One cannot succeed in conceiving how much cruelty, ignominy and falsehood the intrusion of Christianity has spelled for this world of ours. The misdeeds of the people of Rome, having seen them at work, always knew exactly the worth of the Popes before whom Christendom prostrated itself. For centuries, no Pope died except by the dagger, poison or the Po.

I see the Pope as just another mob boss.

I can very well imagine how this collective madness came to birth. A Jew was discovered to whom it occurred that if one presented abstruse ideas to non-Jews, the more abstruse these ideas were, the more the non-Jews would rack their brains to try to understand them. The fact of having their attention fixed on what does not exist must make them blind to what exists. An excellent calculation of the Jew's part. So the Jew smacks his thighs to see how his diabolic stratagem has succeeded. He bears in mind that if his victims suddenly became aware of these things, all Jews would be exterminated. But, this time, the Jews will disappear from Europe.

The world will breathe freely and recover its sense of joy, when this weight is no longer crushing its shoulders.

What a different world we would have had today if Hitler won. Compare it to what is going on right now. Which would you choose?

8th February 1941, Midday

We shouldn't be able to go on evading the religious problem much longer. If anyone thinks it's really essential to build the life of human society on a foundation of lies, well, in my estimation, such a society is not worth preserving. If, on the other hand, one believes that truth is the indispensable foundation, then conscience bids one intervene in the name of truth and exterminate the lie.

17th February 1942, Midday

The sensational event of the ancient world was the mobilization of the underworld against the established order. This enterprise of Christianity had no more to do with religion than Marxist socialism has to do with the solution of the social problem. The notions represented by Jewish Christianity were strictly unthinkable to Roman brains.

The gods, for the Romans, were familiar images. It is somewhat difficult to know whether they had any exact idea of the Beyond. For them, eternal life was personified in living beings, and it consisted in a perpetual renewal. Those were conceptions fairly close to those which were current amongst the Japanese and Chinese at the time when the Swastika made its appearance amongst them.

It was necessary for the Jew to appear on the scene and introduce that mad conception of a life that continues into an alleged Beyond! It enables one to regard life as a thing that is negligible here below- since it will flourish later, when it no longer exists. Under cover of a religion, the Jew has introduced intolerance in a sphere in which tolerance formerly prevailed.

Amongst the Romans, the cult of the sovereign intelligence was associated with the modesty of a humanity that knew its limits, to the point of consecrating altars to the unknown god.

The Jew who fraudulently introduced Christianity into the ancient world- in order to ruin it- re-opened the same breach in modern times, this time taking as his pretext the social question. It's the same sleight-of-hand as before. Just as Saul was changed into St. Paul, Mordechai became Karl Marx.

Peace can result only from a natural order. The condition of this order is that there is a hierarchy amongst nations. The most capable nations must necessarily take the lead. In this order, the subordinate nations get the greater profit, being protected by the more capable nations.

When I first woke up and was looking into the Jewish influence on the world, I thought that the Jew fed America's economy and that was why we were a rich nation. But I ended up realizing that it is not due to the influence of the Jew, instead it is due to the type of person, namely, the industrious, inventive people of Frya that make a country first world. No matter where Fryans go, no matter how little resources they have, it is the people of Frya that make the country great. Look at a nation like Mexico, who has a ton of natural resources at its disposal and still can't get its people out of poverty. Or South Africa, as another example, which was a desert, and would have remained so, if only peopled by Lydans, but the Fryans came and turned it into a veritable Eden.

You can see in the model South Africa is listed as third world, that is because Lyda NOW rules there and the economy is in a steep decline.

So yes, I agree with Hitler that there IS a natural order of things when it comes to Wralda's people.

It is Jewry that always destroys this order. It constantly provokes the revolt of the weak against the strong, of bestiality against intelligence, of quantity against quality. It took fourteen centuries for Christianity to reach the peak of savagery and stupidity. We would therefore be wrong to sin by excess of confidence and proclaim our definite victory over Bolshevism.

The more we render the Jew incapable of harming us, the more we shall protect ourselves from this danger. The Jew plays in nature the role of a catalyzing element. A people that is rid of its Jews returns spontaneously to the natural order.

And since Hitler ended up losing this war, the Jew is harming us by every means possible today. We have reached the peak of debauchery and stupidity. We need a reset to get us back to the natural order of things.

In 1925 I wrote in Mein Kampf (and also in an unpublished work) that world Jewry saw in Japan an opponent beyond its reach. The racial instinct is so developed amongst the Japanese that the Jew realizes he cannot attack Japan from within. He is therefore compelled to act from the outside. It would be to the considered interests of England and the United States to come to an understanding with Japan, but the Jew will strive to prevent such an understanding. I gave this warning in vain.

A question arises, does the Jew act consciously and by calculation, or is he driven on by his instinct? I cannot answer this question.

Night of 20th-21st February 1942

Man seizes hold, here and there, of a few scraps of truth, but he couldn't rule nature. He must know that, on the contrary, he is dependent on Creation. And this attitude leads further than the superstitions maintained by the Church.

Christianity is the worst of the regressions that mankind can ever have undergone, and it's the Jew who, thanks to this diabolic invention, has thrown him back fifteen centuries. The only thing that would be still worse would be victory for the Jew through Bolshevism. If Bolshevism triumphed, mankind would lose the gift of laughter and joy. It would become merely a shapeless mass, doomed to greyness and despair.

The priests of antiquity were closer to nature, and they sought modestly for the meaning of things. Instead of that, Christianity promulgates its inconsistent dogmas, within it intolerance and persecution. It's the bloodiest conceivable.

Kepler lived at Linz, and that's why I chose Linz as the place for our observatory. His mother was accused of witchcraft and was tortured several times by the Inquisition.

Johannes Kepler, like Hitler, believed that Earth was a planet and that it revolved around the sun. We have to remember that we grew up with Ball Earth and Heliocentrism as well, and until it came on our radar as something we needed to look into, most of us didn't question this.

Kepler Saving His Mother from a Witch Trial

The same thing is happening to music as is happening to beauty in a world dominated by the shavelings- the Christian religion is an enemy to beauty. The Jew has brought the same trick upon music. He has created a new inversion of values and replaced the loveliness of music by noises. Surely the Athenian, when he entered the Parthenon to contemplate the image of Zeus, must have had another impression than the Christian who must resign himself to contemplating the grimacing face of a man crucified.

Imagine if Hitler could hear the music of today, Rap, Hip Hop and boy bands. He would have thought Jazz and Rock-N-Roll bad, but no, it had gotten much worse. He is right that music has sunk so low because of the Jewish influence.

Since my fourteenth year I have felt liberated from the superstition that the priests used to teach. Apart from a few Holy Joes, I can say that none of my comrades went on believing in the miracle of the eucharist.

The only difference between then and now is that in those days I was convinced one must blow up the whole show with dynamite.

26th February 1942, Midday

I realize for my own part, that if I were offered the choice between nakedness on this earth (with the compensation of supreme happiness in the world beyond) and an earthly paradise, I certainly wouldn't choose to sing Hallelujahs until the end of time.

In virtue of what law, divine or otherwise, should the rich alone have the right to govern? The world is passing at this morning through one of the most important revolutions in human history. We are witnessing the final somersaults of Christianity. It began with the Lutheran revolution.

The revolutionary nature of that rebellion lies in the fact that until then there had been only one authority, on both the spiritual and the temporal level, that of the Pope- for it was he who delegated temporal power. Dogma cannot resist the ceaselessly renewed attacks of the spirit of free inquiry. One cannot teach at ten o'clock in the morning truths which one destroys in the eleven o'clock lesson.

Martin Luther

What is ruining Christianity today is what once ruined the ancient world. The pantheistic mythology would no longer suit the social conditions of the period. As soon as the idea was introduced that all men were equal before God, that world was bound to collapse.

Hitler knew all men were NOT created equal. Just like in nature. The Border Collie has supreme intelligence and agility over the Pug. Man can still have an amicable relationship; with each knowing its proper place in nature's design. Then ALL races prosper.

27th February 1942, Midday

Why doesn't God give everybody the possibility of understanding truth? Every man of average culture knows that at this precise moment the Catholic religion is of interest to just one tenth of the population of the glove. He's astonished, too, that Providence, which has willed all that, can allow so many religions, all true from the point of view of those who practice them, to compete for the faith of the faithful. He knows, too, thanks to the view in depth that history enables him to take, that the Christian religion interests only those living in a tiny period of the life of mankind.

God made men. But thanks to original sin we are men in the image of our world, earning our bread in the sweat of our brow.

Again here, Hitler is giving his opinion based on his premise that the Bible is true as to "original sin". If he read the OLB, he would have seen that we have Eva in our hearts and that we were NOT born as sinners.

From the OLB we read: The word EVA is too sacred for common use, therefore men have learned to say EVIN. EVA means that knowledge which is implanted in the breast of every man in order that he may know what is right and wrong, and by which he is able to judge his own deeds and those of others; that is to say, if he had been well and not badly brought up.

And "earning our bread at the sweat of our brow" is Natural Law. It is the same way for all creation.

For five thousand years, God impassively contemplated the spectacle of which He is the author. Then one day He decided to send upon earth His only son. You remember the details of that complicated story! Those who don't believe should, it seems have faith imposed on them by force. If God is truly interested in men being enlightened, one wonders why He resorts to torture for that purpose.

While we're on the subject, let's add that, even amongst those who claim to be good Catholics, very few really believe in this humbug. Only old women, who have given up everything because life has already withdrawn from them, go regularly to church. All that's dead wood- and one shouldn't waste one's time in concerning oneself with such brains.

In the trade union formed by the Church, many of the members have tangible interests to defend, and see no further.

Notice Hitler comparing the Church with Trade Unions. One of the first things he did as Fuhrer was to abolish the Jew run Trade Unions that were there only to undermine any true change for the workers. Same for the Church, they are there to undermine any change that would be beneficial to the people because it would be detrimental to the Church.

Why should men fight to make their point of view triumph, if prayer should be enough? In the Spanish struggle, the clergy should have said: "We defend ourselves by the power of prayer." But they deemed it safer to finance a lot of heathens, so that Holy Church could save her skin.

If I'm a poot devil and die without having had time to repent, I'm all right. But if, as a preliminary, I can dispose of ten marks to the Church's benefit, my affairs appear in a more favorable light. And is that what God would have wanted? That little country girls and simple working men should be set dancing to that tune, that's a thing that can be explained.

Absolutions- AB is another word for God, As in "Ordo AB Chao". Meaning "out of", yes, but also short for God as we are told in Morals and Dogma. The A- alpha and B- beta or end. So ABsolution is GODsolution. This GOD solution is to pay up? When MONEY and GOD go hand-in-hand that can only be the workings of the Jew. And we do know that the Pope's bankers are Jewish. And we also know that the Pope wears a Jewish Yarmulke.

When it comes to art we have ABstract. Which is also another Jewish invention- Abstract Art. Hitler was into real art, not shapes on a canvas or paint splashings.

But that intelligent men should make themselves accomplices to such superstitions, and that it's because of these superstitions, and in the name of love, that hundreds of thousands of human beings have been exterminated in the course of history- that is something I cannot admit. I shall never believe that what is founded on lies can endure forever. I believe in truth. I'm sure that, in the long run, truth must be victorious.

It's probably that, as regards religion, we are about to enter an era of tolerance. Everybody will be allowed to seek his own salvation in the way that suits him best. The ancient world knew this climate of tolerance. Nobody took to proselytizing.

Instead, because Bolshevism won, we are in an era of complete INtolerance. Every type of group is pitted against every other type of group. Race against race, gender against gender, religion against religion, political party against political party, vegans against meat eaters, and on and on....

If I enter a church, it's not with the idea of overturning idols. It's to look for, and perhaps to find, beauties in which I'm interested.

It would always be disagreeable for me to go down to posterity as a man who made concessions in this field. I realize that man, in his imperfection, can commit innumerable errors- but to devote myself deliberately to error, that is something I cannot do. I shall never come personally to terms with the Christian lie. In acting as I do, I'm very far from the wish to scandalize. But I rebel when I see the very idea of Providence flouted in this fashion.

It's a great satisfaction for me to feel myself totally foreign to that world. But I shall feel I'm in my proper place if, after my death, I find myself, together with people like me, on some sort of Olympus.

I shall be in the company of the most enlightened spirits of all times.

I adopted a definite attitude on the 21st March, 1933 when I refused to take part in the religious services, organized at Potsdam by the two Churches, for the inauguration of the new Reichstag.

I've never concerned myself, in the Party, with learning to which Church the men around me belonged, or did not belong. But if I were to die today, it would shock me to know that there's a single "sky-pilot" within a radius of ten kilometers around me. The idea that one of these fellows could bring me the slightest help would by itself make me despair of Providence.

As far as I'm concerned, I act accordingly to my convictions. I don't prevent anyone from praying silently, but I rebel against all blasphemy. So let nobody waste prayers on me that I shall not have asked for. If my presence on earth is providential, I owe it to a superior salvation of souls, and I find it really too cruel. I admit that one cannot impose one's will by force, but I have a horror of people who enjoy inflicting suffering on others' bodies and tyranny upon others' souls.

Our epoch will certainly see the end of the disease of Christianity. It will last another hundred years perhaps. My regret will have been that I couldn't, like whoever the prophet was, behold the promised land from afar.

We are entering into a conception of the world that will be a sunny era, an era of tolerance. Man must be put in a position to develop freely the talents that God has given him.

What is important above all is that we should prevent a greater lie from replacing the lie that is disappearing. The world of Judaeo-Bolshevism must collapse.

31st March 1942, At Dinner

If the German people is the child of ancient philosophy and Christianity, it is so less by reason of a free choice than by reason of a compulsion exercised upon it by these triumphant forces. In the same way, in Imperial times, it was under the empire of compulsion that the German people engineered its fusion beneath a Christianity represented by a universal church- in the image of ancient Rome, which also inclined to universality.

4th April 1942, Midday

The fact that the Japanese have retained their political philosophy, which is one of the essential reasons for their successes, is due to their having been saved in time from the views of Christianity. Just as in Islam, there is no kind of terrorism in the Japanese State religion, but, on the contrary, a promise of happiness.

This terrorism in religion is the product, to put it briefly, of a Jewish dogma, which Christianity has universalized and whose effect is to sow trouble and confusion in men's minds.

It's obvious that, in the realm of belief, terrorist teachings have no other object but to distract men from their natural optimism and to develop in them the instinct of cowardice.

9th April 1942, At Dinner

It is very curious that devout Christians like the British and the Americans should, despite their constant and fervent prayers, receive such a series of hidings from the pagan Japanese! It rather looks as if the real God takes no notice of the prayers offered day and night by the British and the Americans, but reserves His mercies for the heroes of Japan.

It is not surprising that this should be so, for the religion of the Japanese is above all a cult of heroism, and its heroes are those who do not hesitate to sacrifice their lives for the glory and safety of their country.

The Christians, on the other hand, prefer to honor the Saints, that is to say, a man who succeeds on one leg for years at a time, or one who prefers to lie on a bed of thorns rather than to respond to the smiles of inviting maidens. There is something very unhealthy about Christianity.

Another peculiarity of the Christian faith, as it is taught by the Catholic Church, is that it is a school of pessimism rather than of optimism. The Japanese religion, on the contrary, rouses men to enthusiasm by the promise it holds of the rewards in the Hereafter, while the unfortunate Christian has no prospect before him but the torments of Hell. Such pessimism has a marked effect. Even a child of three can be made to acquire terror of mind which will remain with him for the whole of his life. We all know many grown-up people who are nervous in the dark, simply because they had been told in their childhood that a bogeyman, a robber or the like, lurked in the shadows.

It is no less difficult to eradicate these childish inhibitions than it is to free the human soul of that haunting terror of Hell which the Catholic Church impresses on it with such vigor during its most tender years. A man possessed of a minimum of intelligence who takes the trouble to ponder over these questions has no difficulty in realizing how nonsensical these doctrines of the Church are.

For how, he must ask himself, can a man possibly be put on a spit, be roasted and tortured in a hundred other ways when, in the nature of things, his body had no part in the resurrection?

And what nonsense it is to aspire to a Heaven to which, according to the Church's own teaching, only those have entry who have made a complete failure of life on earth!

It won't be much fun, surely, to have to meet again there all those whose stupidity, in spite of the biblical tag "blessed are the humble of heart", has already infuriated one beyond endurance on this earth! Imagine, too, how tremendously attractive a Heaven will be to a man, which contains only women of indifferent appearance and faded intellect!

Only those, we are told, with the minimum of sin shall enter through the gates of Heaven; now, in spite of the fact that the burden of sin must inevitably grow heavier with each successive year, I have yet to meet a priest anxious to leave this life as quickly, and therefore with a light a burden, as possible! But I could name many a Cardinal of sixty and over who clings most tenaciously to life on this sinful earth.

When one examines the Catholic religion closely, one cannot fail to realize that it is an almost incredibly cunning mixture of hypocrisy and business acumen, which trades with consummate skill on the deeply ingrained affection of mankind for the beliefs and superstitions he holds.

It is inconceivable that an educated priest should really believe all the nonsense that the Church pours out; a proof there, to my mind, is the fact that the priests themselves always try to confuse the issue on the subject of the swindle of dispensations, and avoid whenever possible any discussion of the subject.

In spite of these obvious faults and weaknesses, there are nevertheless a large number of intelligent people who preserve their faith in the Church.

They believe that man requires some species of brake on his activities and that, in spite of its many shortcomings, the Church represents the best deterrent that at present exists.

The pity is that people who reason in this manner appear to forget that the Church does not strive to propagate its teachings by reason and gentle persuasion, but by force and threat.

This is certainly not my idea of education. It is moreover obvious that, had the Church followed solely the laws of Love, and had she preached Love alone as the means of instilling her moral precepts, she would not have survived for very long.

She had therefore always remained faithful to the ancient maxim that the right hand must not know what the left hand does, and has bowed to the necessity of imposing her moral principles by means of the utmost brutality, not hesitating even to burn in their thousands men and women of merit and virtue.

The right hand not knowing what the left hand is doing, not only reminds me of the "hidden hand" of the Magy masons, but also the white pope and black pope.

White Pope- notice he's on the right, he handles the "good", Black Pope- on the left, he is the henchman. White Pope you can see his hands, Black Pope doing the Hidden Hand.

Similar to Hitler's beliefs in the deceptive nature of the Church, in the very first chapter of the OLB, we are warned of the same.

It reads: Beloved Heirs, for the sake of our dear forefathers, and for the sake of our dear freedom, I beg you a thousand times, Oh beloved, never let the eye of a monk glance over these writings. They speak sweet words, but they secretly tamper with everything that relates to us Fryans.

To gain rich endowments they conspire with puppet kings. These knew that we are their greatest enemies because we speak to their people of liberty, rights, and the duties of rulers. Therefore, they seek to destroy all that we derive from our forefathers, and all that is left of our old customs.

Oh Beloved, I have been in their courts. If Wralda wills it and do not strengthen us, they will altogether exterminate us. Written at Liudwerd. (In the) Eight hundredth and third year by the Christian concept. ~ Liko, surname Overa Linda.

We ourselves are today much more humane than the Church.

We obey the Commandment: Thou shall not kill, by catching and executing a murderer; but the Church, when the executive power lay in her hands, crucified, quartered and did him to death with indescribable torture.

Maintenance of the nation's morale is a task which the statesman can accomplish just as well as any Church. All he had to do is to incorporate in the law of the land all the moral beliefs of the healthy elements of the people and then to support those laws uncompromisingly with the authority of force.

5th May 1942, Midday

To those among them who, in their enthusiasm for the regeneration of our nation, go too far and hail me as a Prophet, a second Mohammed or a second Messiah, I can only retort that I can find no trace of any resemblance in myself to a Messiah.

But he sure comes close, if there ever was one.

5th June 1942, Midday

It is a great pity that this tendency towards religious thought can find no better outlet than the Jewish pettifoggery of the Old Testament. For religious people who, in the solitude of winter, continually seek ultimate light on their religious problems with the assistance of the Bible, must eventually become spiritually deformed. The wretched people strive to extract truths from these Jewish chicaneries, where in fact no truths exist. As a result they become embedded in some rut of thought or other and, unless they possess an exceptionally common-sense mind, degenerate into religious maniacs.

It is deplorable that the Bible should have been translated into German, and that the whole of the German people should have thus become exposed to the whole of this Jewish mumbo-jumbo.

So long as wisdom, particularly of the Old Testament, remained exclusively in the Latin of the Church, there was little danger that sensible people would become the victims of illusions as the result of studying the Bible. But since the Bible became common property, a whole heap of people have found opened to them lines of religious thought which-particularly in conjunction with the German characteristic of persistent and somewhat melancholy meditation- as often as not turned them into religious maniacs. When one recollects further that the Catholic Church has elevated to the status of Saints a whole number of madmen, one realizes why movements such as that of the Flagellants came inevitably into existence in the Middle Ages in Germany.

From the Wiki, There are prominent Christians who have practiced self-flagellation. Martin Luther, the Protestant Reformer, self-flagellated among other ascetic practices during his early years as an Augustinian friar (although he later condemned such practices).

As a sane German, one is flabbergasted to think that German human beings could have let themselves be brought to such a pass by Jewish filth and priestly twaddle, that they were little different from the howling dervish of the Turks and the Negroes, at whom we laugh so scornfully. It angers one to think that, while in other parts of the globe religious teachings like that of Confucius, Buddha and Mohammed offers an undeniably broad basis for the religious-minded. Germans should have been duped by a theological exposition devoid of all honest depth.

When one seeks reasons for these phenomena, one is immediately struck by the extent to which the human brain reacts to external influence. A child, for example, who in its very early years has been frightened with the threat of a bogeyman in the dark, will frequently fear entering a dark room, a cellar or the like; among women a fear of this nature inculcated in early youth often persists for a lifetime. On the other hand, there are dangers which, not ever having come to his notice, a man completely ignores. A child living in an area exposed to bombing and to whom the dangers of an enemy air attack as a noisy firework display and will not as a rule show the slightest sign of fear.

The essential conclusion to which these considerations lead me is that we must do everything humanly possible to protect for all time any further sections of the German people from the danger of mental deformity, regardless of whether it be religious mania or any other type of cerebral derangement. For this reason I have directed that every town of any importance shall have an observatory, for astronomy has been shown by experience to be one of the best means at man's disposal for increasing his knowledge of the universe and thus saving him from any tendency towards mental aberration.

Hamburg-Bergedorf Observatory

4th of July 1942, At Dinner

When Charlemagne was kneeling in prayer in St. Peter's, Rome, at Christmas in the year 800, the Pope, giving him no time to work out the possible effects of so symbolic an action, suddenly bent down and presto! Popped a golden crown on his head!

By permitting it, the Emperor delivered himself and his successors into the hands of a power which subjected the German Government and the German people to five hundred years of martyrdom.

Today, as always, there are responsible people to be found who are careless enough to allow a crown of gold to be popped on to their heads, and one cannot exaggerate the enormous effects which such an action, seemingly trifling at the time, can later produce.

1st August 1942, Evening

The Church has succeeded in striking a very pretty balance between life on earth and in the Hereafter. On earth, they say, the poor must remain poor and blessed, for in Heaven the earthly rich will get nothing and the unfortunate poor on earth believe them!

I think Hitler would agree on what the OLB said on this topic. Here we learn of a Jesus (Buddha) who lived 300 years before the Jesus of the Bible. The Magy priests manipulated the people after his death, turning him into a god.

From the OLB we read: Although they knew that Jesus had taught that men should regulate and control their passions, they taught that men should STIFLE their passions, and that the perfection of humanity consisted in being as unfeeling as the cold stones. In order to make the people believe that they did as they preached, they pretended poverty; and that they had overcome all sensual feelings, they took no wives. But if any young girl had made a false step, it was quickly forgiven; the weak, they said, were to be assisted, and to save their souls men must give largely to the CHURCH.

And Hitler continues: Christianity, by adhering to a conception of the Beyond which is constantly exposed to the attacks of unceasing progress, and by binding it so closely to many of the trivialities of life which may at any moment collapse, is ripening mankind for conversion to materialistic Bolshevism. And that is a terrible tragedy. Man will lose all sense of proportion, and once he considers himself to be the lord of the universe, it will be the end of everything.

16th May 1944, Evening

In the Great Hall of the Linz Library are the busts of Kant, Schopenhauer and Nietzsche, the greatest of our thinkers, in comparison with whom the British, the French and the Americans have nothing to offer. His complete refutation of the teachings which were a heritage from the Middle Ages, and of the dogmatic philosophy of the Church, is the greatest of the services of which Kant has rendered to us. It is on the foundation of Kant's theory of knowledge that Schopenhauer built the edifice of his philosophy, and it is Schopenhauer who annihilated the pragmatism of Hegel. I carried Schopenhauer's works with me throughout the whole of the first World War.

So, Hitler would have been aware of the Hegelian Dialectic being used so often against humanity today.

From him I learned a great deal. Schopenhauer's pessimism, which springs partly, I think, from his own line of philosophical thought and partly from subjective feeling and the experiences of his own personal life, has been far surpassed by Nietzsche.

Friedrich Nietzsche, 1844-1900

Night of 29th-30th November 1944

Jesus was most certainly not a Jew. The Jews would never have handed one of their own people to the Roman courts; they would have condemned Him themselves. It is quite probably that a large number of the descendants of the Roman legionaries, mostly Gauls, were living in Galilee, and Jesus was probably one of them. His mother may well have been a Jewess.

Jesus fought against the materialism of his age, and, therefore, against the Jews.

Notice here that at no time does Hitler think of Aryans as a Tribe of Israel. He mentions Jesus being an Aryan Galilean that came with the Romans. So, he would have come from Europe NOT from Israel. Christian Identity would probably take Hitler's comments here and skew them to their own theory, but it really doesn't work. Again, Hitler is giving his interpretation from the presumption that what is written in the Bible is true. If he had a chance to study the OLB than I think he would come to a very different conclusion on Jesus.

Paul of Tarsus, who was originally one of the most stubborn enemies of the Christians, suddenly realized the immense possibilities of using, intelligently and for other ends, an idea which was exercising such great powers of fascination. He realized that the judicious exploitation of this idea among non-Jews would give him far greater power in the world than would the promise of material profit to the Jews themselves. It was then that the future St. Paul distorted with diabolical cunning the Christian idea. Out of this idea, which was a declaration of war on the golden calf, on the egotism and the materialism of the Jews, he created a rallying point for slaves of all kinds against the elite, the masters and those in dominant authority.

The religion fabricated by Paul of Tarsus, which was later called Christianity, is nothing but the Communism of today.

Bormann intervened, Jewish methods, he said, have never varied in their essentials. Everywhere they have stirred up the plebs against the ruling classes. Everywhere they have fostered discontent against the established power. For these are the seeds which produce the crop they hope later to gather.

Everywhere they fan the flames of hatred between peoples of the same blood. It is they who invented class-warfare, and the repudiation of this theory must therefore always be an anti-Jewish measure. In the same way, any doctrine which is anti-Communist, any doctrine which is anti-Christian, ipso facto, be anti-Jewish as well.

French Revolution- Class Warfare Instigated by the Jews. Marie Antoinette, Queen of France, was Unjustly Beheaded by their Manipulation. (She NEVER said, let them eat cake!)

The National Socialist doctrine is therefore anti-Jewish in excelsis, for it is both anti-Communist and anti-Christian. National Socialism is solid to the core, and the whole of its strength is concentrated against the Jews, even in matters which appear to have a purely social aspect and are designed for the furtherance of the social amenities of our own people.

The Fuhrer concluded: Burgdorf has just given me a paper which deals with the relationship between Communism and Christianity. It is comforting to see how, even in these days, the fatal relationship between the two is daily becoming clearer to the human intelligence.

It WAS becoming clearer in 1944, but is it still today? With their propaganda machines working 24/7 ever since, the people today are even more brainwashed. They can't see what a good righteous man Hitler was. They are blind to the truth about Christianity. How will we ever be able to fight back when almost ALL of our people are stupefied?

Remember, Christianity IS Bolshevism, as Hitler tried to warn us. That means your Judeo-Christian neighbor is a Bolshevist, your Mormon neighbor is a Bolshevist, your Christian Identity neighbor is a Bolshevist, and your Atheist neighbor is a Bolshevist!

We already knew that Antifa were Communist Bolshevists, but did you ever suspect that their opponents, the Christians, were Bolshevists too?

Jewish Christianity versus Jewish Bolshevism. They do really work both sides. What is the solution? Pick neither. Rise above the dogma of religion. See the world for what it truly is. Make an appeal to reason. Break the programming and become a free sovereign being. Only then can we truly fight our enemies with all guns blazing.

So, it should be quite clear from Hitler's own words, that he was NOT a Christian. I hope this has dispelled that myth for you. It has for me. He had a philosophy most aligned with the Monotheist belief in Wralda that was our ancient ancestor's view on Creation- that is abiding by Natural Law.

I hope he is looking down from his Watch Star rooting us on...

Heil Hitler and Hail Frya!

WHICH WAY WESTERN MAN? DECODED

Although I was interested in what William Gayley Simpson had to say, it was no small task to keep reading his book until the end. Simpson seemed to have more luxury of time back then, or it could just be the pace of society in those days, combined with his university days writing college papers, but he made sure to explain particular points with THOROUGH evidence.

Today we are in a such a fast-paced world. Attention spans are at a minimum, and many times we are torn between various tasks performed simultaneously, so it makes it much harder to find the time to focus and read. Certain chapters made my eyes gloss over with boredom. And I had an aversion to a few things he said on particular topics, especially on women and marriage, things I found immoral and strongly disagree with, and so, I also became suspicious of him. But I kept reading and by the time I got to the last chapters that suspicion dissipated, even of those I still differed in opinion in some measure. I realized he really did care for our people and tried to offer the best solution to the problem at hand.

William Gayley Simpson first wrote Which Way Western Man? in 1948 and then revised it in 1973. What I like about this is that, if you are truly seeking the truth, with each new revelation, you do have to go back and revise some of your earlier beliefs. I do this with my own work. What is profound to me is that what Simpson wrote over fifty-two years ago, RINGS TRUE TODAY. He is one we could rightfully call a Seer. He saw the trend of where we were headed and unfortunately, hit the nail on the head.

So, let's go through the book together with no better place to start than the beginning.

To my reader, Simpson remarks, You may find in this book ideas or ideals that at first hearing strike you as abhorrent. They may clash with what you have long believed to represent the highest in human experience or cherish as too holy to be questioned. Or you may find yourself chilled by conclusions that I reach or remedies that I press that you think are too drastic. But I would remind you that the disintegration of our whole society is far advanced, that the time allowed us for action is short, and that the peril hanging over us is-FEARSOME. Extreme emergencies may require extreme measures. Our need is for men of courage (and women) with independence of mind to set aside all taboos, men who will search and reassess the entire experience of our people with discernment and with insight, and will then have the resolution and the dedication to apply to the solution of our problems all the light and the fullest wisdom to which their search has led them- even though it cost them their lives.

As long ago as 1920, I perceived that Western civilization was dying, said Simpson.

Expansion and Contraction of the White Man's Conquests

All we have to do is reflect on the EXPANSION and then CONTRACTION of the White Man's conquests to know this is true. We started out on our adventures mapping the whole world- establishing colonies in Athens, Persia, India, Africa, and sailing over to America, both North and South, Canada, Australia and New Zealand. Today we have pulled out of India, pulled out of our colonies in Africa, we closed most of our bases in Asia, and now the White countries remaining are seeing an influx of non-Fryans, we are losing those too.

Simpson reflects, I must find ground that I had reason to believe I could stand on, ground that I was sure would support me.

This is so critical! This is why so many people are confused and frustrated in their search for truth. They are NOT grounded and run off of their imagination instead. Then they get mad when you share uncomfortable truths with them. If they really desire the truth, they will have to READ these books for themselves and get GROUNDED. Simpson grew up in the age before the internet, so if he wanted to learn the truth about our world, he had to read the ACTUAL books. That is the same thing WE need to do today.

We already know the internet is monitored and scrubbed to stifle our voices and push their narrative. Type in a Google search for "2021 Riots" and see what comes up. Notice there are NO photos of BLM Riots, only the staged Capitol event. Pushing a particular narrative. So why wouldn't they push their narrative on other taboo topics that we research?

Only the staged Capitol riot appears.

The Undying Purpose: The Ennobling of Man

So, Simpson begins his book by giving us a glimpse of what a young naïve lad he was, wanting to make the world a better place. Viewing the world just as our programmers wanted him to, just as many of us did, before we woke up. He studied to be a minister at Union Theological Seminary and graduated three years later Magna Cum Laude. He was offered a prestigious position at the college church in Bryn Mawr, Pennsylvania, but turned that down after reading Sabatier's Life of St. Francis. That book so strongly affected him that in 1920 he decided to live AS St. Francis, giving up all of his worldly possessions, and moving to the negro section of Wallington, New Jersey.

Simpson said, I was penniless, and with little more than the clothes I was wearing, and some tools to work with, I went back to the town in which I had had my church, there to do my labor as a gift and to learn to depend for my own needs, no matter where I might be, on what people wanted to give me.

A young Simpson, in Wallington, New Jersey

Simpson and a few like-kind men made a shanty on land donated to them next to the town dump. They would work from sun-up to sun-down helping anyone in need in the community. But, he continues, by the summer of 1929, however, my faith in the course I had been following began to break down. I saw that a pure heart and will was NOT of itself enough. The needs of my mind and a certain realistic COMMON SENSE began to reassert themselves. Moreover, I was finding myself deeply moved by what I read in Nietzsche's Zarathustra. Thus, I came to be so shaken with uncertainty that I could not go on. I left Wallington, never to return, and my Franciscan venture of faith came to a complete end.

It's ironic that I just watched a series on Netflix a few days, ago, Season 3 of The Sinner, and it was all about a crazy white man influenced by Nietzsche. Of course they distort Nietzsche's philosophy, just like they do of other brilliant Whites, in hopes that we believe the propaganda and not look further into the writings of these Higher-Men who can enlighten us.

Simpson further states, I am very well aware that the very name "Nietzsche" is a definite roadblock in the minds of many. But I judge that, as a rule, this is not because such people have read him firsthand, or with any degree of thoroughness. Rather it is that Nietzsche's name has been blackened, and his teaching misrepresented by those who lacked the insight and comprehension to appreciate what he was about, or by those who had reason to hate all he stood for.

BY THOSE WHO HAD REASON TO HATE ALL HE HAD STOOD FOR. I wonder who those people are?

The Continuing Search from St. Francis to Nietzsche

After nine years of serving others, he became completely disenchanted with his work.

Simpson reflects, I began to feel that to a to too large an extent I had been under Jesus' spell. That it was spiritual suicide to walk in the steps of any man, let alone Jesus and that it became a hindrance to realizing and fulfilling my own life.

Inherent within him was a desire to be with men of like-kind.

Even when I had struggled hardest to make myself equal with the lowest and least, at the bottom of my quest had been my desire to find those who had 'eyes to see and ears to hear'. My willingness any longer to hold myself stripped for others' sake, to call nothing of my own, to give anything I had to anyone who might want it, was now undermined by my clearing perception that men are by no means equal, that many of them were not even MY equal.

We know that the Communist Agenda being pushed on us today is all about Equalitarianism. They push that ALL MEN are equal. This isn't true. No amount of help can lift up a low IQ person to someone that is high IQ. You are either born with it or not. And we know through the study of race that the different races have different IQ levels. That is not racist. That is the truth. God made man with different brain capacities as he did with the animals.

Despite their friendliness, precious few of the people about us had any interest in our presence among them deeper than the opportunity we afforded to get good work done for little or nothing.

Simpson saw that by lowering himself to help the low, was bringing him down to their level. It wasn't lifting them up in any way. That he was not fulfilling the purpose that was inherent in him to aspire to.

In addition to the low, he knew he would get grief from his peers.

Yet, I foreknew that people would turn away from me if I gave up my Franciscan way of life, especially the Church people. And, to their minds, to turn away from their ideals might well have seemed a descent to lower ideals or an abandonment of all ideals. That their Christianity might be a sickness, and that my sloughing it off might be a precursor to convalescence and a sign of hope and new life, that of course rarely occurred to them.

I know the feeling! And I'm sure many of you do too. I was only into Christian Identity for a few months, but when I left, I garnered more hatred from Christians than I ever had from any other people. They think I am totally lost now. They can't fathom that what might be the issue here is Christianity itself. They don't dare turn their eyes to that option.

The Issue is Christianity Itself.

Simpson further explains, It is no less than a crime against life when the superior is sacrificed to the inferior, a crime that is in no wise mitigated nor its effects alleviated when the sacrifice is made by a man's own free will and choice. He goes on, Our belief in equality, likewise was a betrayal of life- I should say, rather, of quality of life. Where all are believed equal, the voice of the superior man is drowned in the roar of the mob, and taste tends to gravitate to the level of the gutter. This is happening all over America. Furthermore, wherever this belief in equality spreads, there goes a disbelief in the importance of heredity, of blood.

Jesus Tribute and Reappraisal

Simpson starts this chapter with part of a poem by William Blake called The Everlasting Gospel.

The Vision of Christ that thou dost see, Is my vision's greatest enemy. Thine has a great hook nose like thine; Mine has a snub nose like to mine. Thine is the friend of all Mankind, Mine speaks in parables to the blind. Thine loves the same world that mine hates, Thy heaven-doors are my hell-gates... Both read the Bible day and night, But thou reads black where I read white.

Although Simpson walks away from Christianity, he still believes that Jesus was real and tries to fit Jesus into his new world view. I did this too at first with Jesus and the Bible when reading The Oera Linda Book and I had quite a few comments from people trying to do these incorporating gymnastics as well. But in the end, I realized it doesn't work because out of the two books, one is made up, while the other is real. One frees us from mental slavery, while the other keeps us in bondage to the hooked-nose masters.

Bart (William Gayley) Simpson with Jesus

Boldly Stand Erect~ Arthur Desmond

Arthur Desmond's poem is much more fitting than Blake's. He writes, Jewish books are for the Jews, and Jew Messiahs, too. But if you're not of Jewish blood, how can they be for you? To make an Idol of a book, is poison for the brain, a dying God upon a cross is reason gone insane. Beware of all Holy books and all the creeds and schools, and every law that man has made and all the golden rules. "Laws" and "Rules" imposed on you from days of old renown, are not intended for your "good" but for your crushing down. Then dare to rend the chains that bind and to yourself be true. Dare to liberate your mind, from all things, old and new. Always think your own thoughts, all other thoughts reject; learn to use your own brain and boldly stand erect.

Parable of the Wheat and the Tares

Simpson makes an excellent observation of Christianity using The Parable of the Wheat and the Tares.

He writes, The Church has been the great enemy of the Life of man. In the parable, the Sower sowed seed in his field, hoping that it would grow each according to its kind, in fulfillment of the shape and color and strength it bore within itself. But in the night an enemy came and sowed tares in the field. But the tares were not so bad as what the Church had done to the field. With the tares the seed could at least struggle. Some of it might come to be what it was meant to be. But the Church has sterilized the soil so that nothing would grow at all- so that even the weeds grow sickly. The Church has taken away his struggle, without which there is no growth, no fulfillment. It has not, as it were, told the seed that it was a life-and-death necessity to struggle- to get its own roots deep down into the soil, to food and drink, and to force its tender shoots up towards the sky, to sun and air. On the contrary, it has told the seed that all this costly and painful labor has been done for it, by another (Jesus), and that if only the seed would accept this as fact and rest in it, eventually it would be transplanted to another garden and be miraculously transformed into full-grown and perfect flowers. But there isn't any other garden. Regardless of locale, all life is one. So that the net result is that the garden remains barren and bare. The seed, which might have come to every sort of flower and fruit, comes to nothing. It rots in the ground. And it was this that made Nietzsche to declare that the two greatest stupefiers of the Western world have been alcohol and Christianity.

Make something of your life! Don't be duped into doing NOTHING here and waste the precious gift that God has given you.

Jesus in Retrospect

Simpson concludes that Jesus and his teachings are actually detrimental to our health and survival.

He states, This is the fate to which any people expose itself that follows Jesus, century after century, in his disregard of the physical, of the Earth, of diet, sex, beauty, breeding and the Doctrine of the Thoroughbred. IT UNFITS THEM FOR SURVIVAL. He was so set on the fruits that he forgot the roots, and in the end roots decide. Without healthy roots the best plants die. Jesus' exclusive emphasis on the so-called spiritual is pernicious and ruinous. This is revealed, and proved, for more than any but a very few people today realize, by the decadence so marked in this Western world of ours, which has longest and most clearly been exposed to Jesus' teaching. WE ARE MARKED FOR EXTINCTION.

Through Jesus and Christianity, hand-in-hand with Democracy, and its mob rule, we see that, The suffrage has been pushed down ever deeper into the social mass until now every ignoramus, nitwit and trifler can have his share in determining the direction of the people... For men are NOT equal. And the best SHOULD rule. And when a people prevent their rule, the end is destruction.

A people's religion should come out of its own blood... Jesus was a Jew, and therefore in his religion Oriental...Jew and Nordic belong to two different worlds. And never the twain shall meet.

Religion DID come out of our people's own blood in the beginning. And we DID have a DIRECT relationship with the Creator, no middle man needed. Who is the epitome of the middle man? The one who wears the Yarmulke, in religion, in trade, in the media and in the money system.

The Middle Man- Jesus the Jew

When people of this blood (Aryan blood) begin to show symptoms of Communism, it can have only one meaning: somehow their resistance has been so lowered that they have become the victims of a virulent infection. And this is what I finally have to declare, the influence of Jesus upon our life to be, whether at its worst, as it comes from the Church, or at its best as it flows from his teaching itself, it is an alien, Oriental, Jewish infection. All through the centuries it has meant our weakening, our sickening, our self-betrayal. Indeed, from the beginning it virtually implied and actually involved our gradual enslavement to values, to ideals and to means that violated our instincts. Invariably and inevitably, if any people give up the religion of its own creation to take up the religion of an alien people, it surrenders its independence and to a considerable extent its identity. For our people to have adopted Christianity was to yield up their life to the direction of the Jews. Jesus was a Jew by adoption if not by blood. The Bible is Jewish from cover to cover. The Jew Marcus Eli Ravage actually bragged of the "proven control of our whole (Aryan) civilization by the Jewish Gospels," and concluded triumphantly, "No conquest in history can even remotely compare with this clean sweep of our conquest of you (Aryans).

The Meaning of Nietzsche for the Modern World

His on concern behind everything he said (Nietzsche), was for quality of human life... For him it was never enough that mankind should merely go on: he must go up...The Superman is one who seeks to create beyond himself. The Beyond-Man, will be above and beyond anything we know of as human now.

Stalin usurped Nietzsche's teachings of the Ubermensch. Stalin means "Man of Steel" or "Superman". As they do, they take the advice meant for OUR people and use it against us.

Auf Deutsch: STAHL MANN- STEEL MAN- STALIN- MAN OF STEEL

For Nietzsche, the only proper, or certainly the primary, object of any society was the production of the largest possible number of superior men. Produce great men and put them at the helm, and their wisdom will make your society stable, enduring and happy; and their creative powers, as seers, philosophers, artists and the like, will make your society significant and its name glorious.

Blinded to the fact that human life is of very unequal worth, we actually sacrifice the MORE valuable to the LESS valuable. In our folly we burden the sound and the capable among us with the support and care of a colossal load of human wreckagemillions of morons, feeble-minded, insane, criminals, and all sorts of the hopelessly incurable who can never come to anything whatever. Moreover, the feeble-minded are notoriously prolific. The cost of carrying all this load is prodigious, and it is growing. If we do not soon reverse the present process the land will at last be possessed by those unable even to take care of themselves. We are following the path of national and RACIAL SUICIDE.

Who does the burden fall to for all of these generational welfare abusers? How about the flood of illegal immigrants coming in? Whose burden is it? It is on the backs of the hard-working Mass-Man, but even more so on the hard-working backs of Higher-Man, making it almost impossible for him to come out from under that burden and raise up our society.

Nietzsche hated with a profound hatred all the Equalitarian doctrines, Democracy along with Socialism and Communism. In his eyes they were the great levelers, the great enemies of all quality of life, and of all higher men. They leveled, and they leveled downward.

Nietzsche condemned Christianity. He linked it with alcoholism as one of "the two great European narcotics." He condemned Christianity for exactly the same reason that Jesus condemned the Pharisees- as an enemy of life. He condemned it because it diverted attention from, and poisoned belief in, strong and beautiful life here an now on the Earth. But above all, he condemned it as a gospel by which the weak shall inherit the Earth- the weak, sickly, the mediocre... The malady, of which the whole White man's world is dying, is Christianity.

An Added Faculty of Perception

More species are known to have degenerated, or to have become altogether extinct, than to have survived or advanced. And loath though we may be to admit the fact, it would seem that man is no exception to the forces that operate in the rise and fall of other forms of life.

During our modern times the Pygmy in South Africa and the Aborigine in Tasmania have gone extinct.

Our world today is dying, in large part, because for so long we either have not produced superior men or have not heeded them. The hour has come now, once more, when we must build as the ancients built; we must recognize that men are not equal, and set the god-men apart, and yield them reverence. This we must do for the sake of our very existence... It will ensure that the race not only goes on but goes up.

Two distinct races, one invented numbers, writing, the wheel, cars and airplanes... the other... nothing.

In 1864, roughly one hundred years prior to Simpson's writing, Richard Lee wrote in his The Extinction of Races, a very different view of the future, one in which followed Natural Law, Wralda's Law. One in which the White Man followed his destined path in this world.

Lee writes, Between the White and the Colored populations of which we speak there are not even degrees of civilization. The man who now wanders free through the unknown wilds of Australia represents nothing. Not only has he not advanced in moral development since the first formation of his species, but he has actually retrograded.

There are not even the traditions of past renown among his ancestors to arouse those inspiring emotions which should stimulate him to preserve the existence and identity of his race; and even where, as in the Maori or Polynesian, a certain pride of birth and dignity still cling, there is no bond, certainly not one of nationality, to secure them from the inevitable effects which greater moral power, under such circumstances, seems intended to produce. Rather then, we must regard it as only an illustration of humanity, in its crudest form, shrinking and passing away before a phase of humanity enlightened with intelligence, and endowed with vast intellectual superiority. It is the lesser light destroying the darkness, and though a great brilliancy should ages hence appear, it will still continue to burn, mellow and made more luminous through the accumulated experience of time.

What happened between Lee's time and Simpson's to our people? Today you wouldn't dare speak of the inequality of races. Everyone Tom, Dick and Harry has a voice. They use our white names, but the faces are now Black, Brown and Yellow.

Australian Aborigine Giving a Ted Talk

Reorientation to Social Problems

Mass-Man versus Higher-Man

Simpson cleverly explains the difference between Mass-Man and Higher-Man using a Body Analogy.

He writes, The very basis of the structural organization of all the higher forms of life is DIFERENTIATION. All cells serve the life of the whole organism, true, but they serve very different functions. The welfare of the whole depends upon each one's doing faithfully and efficiently and unquestioningly the task that has fallen to it, but whereas some have a part in serving the organism as eyes, ears, brain, and the like, others function in the process of elimination, and still others as feet, merely to carry the load of the organism, to get it hither and yon, as its brain and instinct may direct. Each has a sense of worth that comes from knowing itself indispensable to the life of the whole, apart from which it could not exist, and each is provided for as essential to the whole, but, indisputably, some are high and some are low, some give orders and others obey them.

No better example of the Body Analogy coming to life was in Hitler's Germany. All the people came together as a whole. All performed the essential tasks so that Germany's great men could lift them up and take them out of poverty and despair. Hitler would visit the manual-labor workers, building the roads, the factory workers, the ship builders. He let them know how much he appreciated them, that they were in large part the reason why the life of Germans improved so immensely in only a few short years. They enabled Higher-Man to have the freedom and time to create. In only a few short years, through their genius brains and resources available within the country, they invented synthetic rubber, the high-speed Autobahn, jet airplanes, the V-2 rocket and the helicopter, and an inexpensive car called the People's Wagon- the Volkswagen. While the rest of the world suffered in the Great Depression, Germany thrived. In large part due to their functioning as a healthy "body".

The qualities that I should place absolutely first are those by which alone a man can climb out of the seemingly changeless, ever-sucking abyss of unthinking, unaspiring, undifferentiated Mass-Man and attain unto a life of his own, inwardly rooted and inwardly directed. I do not entirely identify the inert mass with "working people", though doubtless they constitute a very large proportion of it. But to my mind a man of any class is, and must be, Mass-Man until he has learned to break his dependence on others. He must cease to be content to float like a cork on the current of life. His primary dissatisfaction must be not with others, not with his environment, not with an economic or political system, but above all with himself. He must have come to a vision of life ahead of where he stands and must want to ever outgrow what he is that he may give his bones and his flesh to his vision. He must, therefore, be one whose very nature it is to risk himself and to spend himself, even unto exhaustion, for the sake of what he most loves and believes in.

And the weapon-what has been the chief weapon to this end? Oh, of course, when it was time for it, when it was deemed expedient, force has been used. But against the strong and the noble this was hardly the most effective weapon, for they were rarely to be daunted by threat of force. Besides, there was another weapon, which was for use all year round, in time of peace as in time of war, was a weapon effective beyond all others, against any and every sort of person but especially against the strong and noble. This was the poison contained in the little word "selfish". If that could somehow be made palatable, perhaps by a very sweet coating of a sure "reward in heaven," for "humility," for "meekness," perhaps the strong, noble man might be induced to take it. And having taken it, he would be slowly, almost imperceptibly, poisoned against himself and against his strong nature, until he was ashamed of it, and, striving to renounce it for the sake of what was declared virtue and to escape the threatened pains of hell or the certain pains of present opprobrium, he would get down and walk through life on his knees, and thus make himself small-like the rest-like the herd.

"Selfish" has changed to the word "Racist" today.

Our Giants are tied down by Lilliputians.

The Inevitable Foundations of Any Sound Society

The only end worthy to be the primary object of any people's existence is, as I think, to produce the largest possible number of truly superior men- of robust health, overflowing energy, unspoiled instinct, mind powerful to both analyze and create, and, above all, of that integrated, masterful personality and elevated spirit that ever characterizes the truly noble man... The quality of its top ten percent must constantly be maintained if it is ever to amount to anything, or even long to survive.

When the common people seize the helm and undertake to steer affairs in their own interest, all they can do, all they ever have done, ultimately, is to run the ship aground, and be forced in the end to return the command to One or a Few. Democracy, that is, a government set up by the people as a whole and controlled, directly or indirectly, by the majority of the citizens- something our Founding Fathers were careful to see that we did NOT get, which probably we never have had and certainly do not have now- stands revealed in the light of history as the most fragile, the most corrupt, the most short=lived, and the least fruitful of all forms of government.

People today, who only get a brief study of history at school, and only the history that our controllers WANT us to know, skewed by them, have no idea how empires, countries, rise and fall. It was a COMMON occurrence in the past. We are NOT invincible, as we are brought up and taught to believe. America WILL fall. Not only will she fall but fall much sooner than many other great empires.

Roman, Greek, Russian and British Empires...

When the superior ten percent rule, on the other hand, depends every people's entire cultural significance- and even its VERY EXISTENCE. Moreover, wherever there is solidarity in a people, as there is in every true people, in every great people, the masses find a compensation for their limited circumstances in the achievements of their great men. Since they know that without their labor and devotion their great men could hardly have done their work, they feel, and they feel justly, that the achievements of their great men are in substantial part their own achievements. Because they too belong, because they know themselves to be indispensable, indeed to be the very foundation of the whole society, they also share the glory.

And that is why Hitler was so loved by his people. HE gave them purpose. They belonged and knew they were an integral part in lifting up their country.

The Fallacy and Failure of Popular Government

The stark fact is that even we as a people, are already very near the end of our run- not merely the United States but the whole White man's world, and the White man himself. The two world wars were a "roaring plunge into barbarism." We long ago moved into an era of mass-deception, wholesale betrayal, and naked brute force, in which aristocratic values will be regarded increasingly as a luxury few can afford. We shall soon be locked in a struggle for sheer survival and shall hardly escape catastrophe. Perhaps Russia will continue to avoid direct open confrontation with us, but if so, we shall only the more certainly be maneuvered into yet a third world war in which the Communist-instigated and Communist-led colored hordes of virtually the entire Earth will press upon us from every side, and at the same time our defense will be sabotaged and paralyzed by Communist traitors planted at key points within our walls. Sooner or later, in one way or another, our gates will be forced and our city put to the torch and sword. Our civilization will go up in flames, and the proud White man who created it, who for long thought himself (and virtually was) invincible, will have to bend the neck to a yoke in order to live.

I just read recently that Christianity is now the Minority religion in the UK. And we know that Christianity, even though it is not truly the White Man's religion, IS associated WITH the White Man. And so, by saying Christianity is now the Minority, is in fact saying that the WHITE MAN is now a minority in his own lands. We are literally on the precipice now, with nowhere to run.

White Man on the edge of a cliff.

We are now about to pass into eclipse. The blackest hour in our history is almost upon us. But even in the hours of my darkest brooding over the onrushing tragedy I am sustained by a hope-perhaps even a faith-that no possible conquest of the White peoples will ever permanently break their strength. Into their humiliation and their agony, they will carry their most ancient traditions, the glory of their past, and their memories of the days when their whole world was shaped by their deep instinctive belief in the superior man, and their destinies guided by the noblest and strongest among them. In time, thus, they will awake to a realization of the mistakes that brought them low, and at last see clearly that one of the most ruinous of these was THE DOCTRINE OF HUMAN EQUALITY, and the practice of popular government that grew out of it. And as their vision clears and their faith returns, they will spit upon, THE DOCTRINE OF HUMAN EQUALITY their contempt and disgust, and in their new-found strength rise up to grapple with their conqueror and overthrow him. And then, as they once again lift their eyes to the heights, new heights, higher than they ever looked to before, and begin to cast about them to set their course, they will vow ever to search out the best men among them to be their leaders.

The Blackest hour IS upon us NOW. They are flooding us with everything Black. From movies like Wakanda, and Black Adam, to hiring Blacks in almost all the news anchor and news reporter positions, putting in Black politicians, all Black British sporting teams, to all the Black Models in commercials on the internet and in print, to replacing European History with Black History, to flooding our countries with the Blackest of Black from Africa into our lands. It's upon us NOW- the Blackest hour. Fear of a Black Planet in White Lands- all courtesy of the Jews.

Who is Behind Democracy?

Inverted Monarchy

Democracy is "inverted Monarch" which suggests a pyramid stood on its apex... The trader, the middle-man, the commercial man, who uses his hands only to turn over deal after deal and out of each one to squeeze money- above all, the financiers and big bankers, whose aim is even to make money out of nothing, and who, have perfected means for doing precisely this on a colossal scale and doing it invisibly withal- these men, whom aristocratic societies have commonly placed low, if not at the very bottom, our democracy has allowed to come to the top.

The Nature of Higher-Man

We must remind ourselves that it is precisely men of the loftiest spirit and supreme creative powers who are LEAST free to do what they feel like. For them, life has no meaning and grows stale in their mouths, except as they live FOR something, something rare and lofty and beyond themselves. Theirs, as I conceive it, is the only real liberty- the liberty of the man who is most completely possessed by what he is.

YOU are most likely Higher-Men and Women. To be so awake, to grasp the ideas of Nietzsche, to break all the programming from birth, puts you in a position to go beyond what you are and feel true liberty.

On the Uselessness of Voting Today

The ballot represents such a comminution of political power, even to its vanishing point, that I can but hold it in contempt. In view of the control of the political machines by Wall Street or some similar clique with interests quite contrary to the good of the country as a whole, and because, as a result of the total electoral process, the men put up for office are usually so mediocre that no man of wisdom and character would care to be "represented" by any one of them, I have gradually come to feel that voting is about as useful as casting a chip into a puddle. Disraeli spoke of "that fatal drollery called representative government." Certainly, to give people the idea that they are free because they have the ballot is nothing less than fraud. Rather is the feeling of freedom thus engendered a means by which their essential slavery is hid from their eyes and the more securely fastened upon them. Behind this camouflage, a Plutocracy- one of the nastiest and basest of all forms of government- has been able to make the people its unwitting accomplice in their own degradation and in the most wanton and unprecedented exploitation of the natural resources upon which our entire future as a nation depends.

What really surprises me is that so many so-called awake people are STILL fooled by elections. They think that Trump is basically their Messiah, when all they have to do is a little digging to see what a charlatan he is. BOTH sides are controlled and have been for a very long time. We did have good Presidents in the Founding Fathers as well as Jackson and Lincoln, but all the modern ones were bought, paid for and controlled to our detriment. Trump married a Tranny (Melania~ I am Male) and wears ORANGE tanning spray to prove his allegiance. His massive debts were paid by the small hat Sheldon Adelson, in turn Trump moved the US Embassy from Tel Aviv to Jerusalem. They then put Trump on their special Temple Coin along with Cyrus, their other hero, who freed the Jews from Babylon.

Sheldon Adelson and his wife have paid millions of dollars of Trump's debts off. Who was another politician who had millions of dollars in debt paid off by small hats? Winston Churchill. (Here doing the V for victory, the 22 of the Tarot, the Fool card.)

In the end, my examination of THE DOCTRINE OF EQUALITY forces me to the conclusion that at bottom it is nothing but the envious and resentful cry of the inferior man against the superior, the battle cry by which he would rally other inferior men to his standard, and not only overthrow the rule of the superior but abolish all recognition of superiority, and thus establish a world favorable to those who are now weak, ugly, dull, and generally botched. It is basically a cry of insurrection.

Bastards and Broken Things, like in Game of Thrones where the little man is the wisest...

and the cripple takes the Throne.

They even have a Broken Thing for the ones that prefer science to Christianity. Stephen Hawking was the modern-day Oracle.

Bastards and Broken Things, where the weak, infirmed and disabled rise to the top. She is made to feel good about her choice.

Past the Point of No Return

The tyranny of the few over the many is always subject to limits; that of the many over the few has none. ~ Dermot Morrah

No matter where Jesus stands in the matter, this idea that every man has great worth and that society must be ordered in constant remembrance of it and slavish regard for it, is one of the doctrines that make Christianity the enemy, even the archenemy, of the highest end of man... Any belief about a Hereafter or a Beyond that does not somehow exalt, enrich, and strengthen life here and now is our deadly poison. And any in our midst who are enticed by it and misled by it are our deadly foes. This is basic... The noble values of the warrior gave way to the diseased values of the priest. Time and again (if not always in the end), they have succumbed to the machinations of the priest, or of a merchant and the banker.

And considerable evidence indicates that MOSCOW is as much under the control of the Money Power as is Washington DC... The end aimed at is the overthrow of the nationhood of every country, one by one, and the herding of its people, like so many cattle, through the wide gate of the United Nations, into the corral of a world government, where they can the more surely, efficiently, and safely be milked... Man's fate hinges on his ability to find some means by which to BREAK THE MONEY POWER. Under Democracy of course there isn't an answer.

Vladimir Putin with the true rulers of Russia. He is doing the masonic diamond sign for 33, telling us who is really in control.

Beware of those on the internet and elsewhere that try to convince you that somehow Putin is a good guy and that the Jews left Russia. The truth is that the Jews took over Russia with their Bolshevik Revolution and they've been there ever since. They want the West to think that Communism died, and that Perestroika is a Russian idea, bringing Democracy to the East. But Communism, run by the Jews, never went away. They just went from Overt (which wasn't working fast enough for them) to Covert. A good book to read on the topic is New Lies for Old by Anatoliy Golitsyn.

My coldly realistic examination of our present predicament compels me to think that we have passed the point of no return and shall have to suffer our way through the hideous fate planned for us. But his will in time run its course, for the seeds of the Money Power's undoing are in itself, and they will bring forth a rebellion so universal and so fierce that in the end the usurping tyrants will be swept into the sea. And then, when the peoples of the Earth, freed at last from the vampire that has been living on their blood, address themselves to the task of building anew their several nationhood's and states, they will need to remember the historical evidence that their surest, oftenest tried and best proved protection against a renascent Money Power is a King, a King whose first duty shall be to see that no power, whether by hook or by crook, is ever allowed even to question, let alone to trespass upon, that right and power in which their sovereignty is concentrated-their right and their power to issue their own money free of all debt and obligation.

It could be a King, but it could be a Dictator as well. One like Hitler, who came from more humble roots. Higher-Man isn't just in the upper class. He can be from any class. In the days of The Oera Linda Book, the rulers were elected by the people. And they had three-year terms, except for the Burgh Matron, whose position was for life like the Judges on the Supreme Court. The Aristocracy came about because a King got too comfy in his rule and married off all his children to the powerful families in neighboring lands. Friso comes to mind. He might have been a good ruler at the time, but there was no guarantee that his family members could rule as well as he. As Nietzsche says, Higher-Man needs to earn his position through his own struggle. One who is born into a family to rule doesn't earn anything. He is just given and this is what makes decadence and service to self. Hitler earned his way up.

But as far as we are concerned, we Americans, we modern White men of Western civilization, among us it is not going to get started- not as any form of social organization- not in our day. OUR chance to build THIS way has GONE. The whole tradition has been thoroughly destroyed. OUR way to a new aristocracy lies through chaos. We shall first have to become ashes before the phoenix of a new nobility shall arise in our midst. But if the world holds together, there will at last be those, a few, always a few, who will again start the old long climb toward the heights and again lay out the road to a world in which superiority of every sort shall thrive. In the meantime, there is work enough for us Aryan men to do.

A reset IS needed so that this web of enslavement can fall both physically and mentally. I think of Elon Musk's Star LINK which is so eerily familiar to the Terminator's Sky NET. And with people being injected with foreign particles that enhance the signal connecting THEM to that LINK. So that there is no escape. The only true escape is from having the whole system come crashing down. In the meantime, though, there IS work enough for us to do. Wake up as many of our people as you can. So that the ones that make it through won't make the same mistakes again.

ELON~LONE~ONE~LUCIFER

Elon is an anagram for LONE. ELON~LONE, Lone as in ONE, the One, Lucifer. Musk means Scrotum and he does appear to be a FTM.

Toward an Understanding of Women

Male and female are the opposite poles of creation. Man and Woman are an expression of this on the human plane. Life for each sex is fullest and richest, and the life of society most healthy, when these polar differences are maintained. But it is not a matter of equality or inequality. Women are greater in some ways, men greater in others... The sexes are complementary... in Nature's total economy together they round out a perfect whole.

Man has been the warrior and wanderer, fighting, loving and exploring, while the woman has lived at home and cared for the children... today everywhere young women have been made to think that they ought to want what they do not really want at all, to look down upon what in their hearts they long for the most.

The feminist woman is poisoned with the idea that to be a man is more desirable then to be a woman, and that to distinguish oneself in what has been man's field is more admirable and socially more important than to be a great mother and homemaker, or that power behind the throne which a wife can be in the life of a man.

A Burgh Matron was her OWN power. She never desired to be a man. Vestal Virgins were HIGHER-Women. Simpson must never have had a woman in his life that was very wise. Women can be seers, philosophers, thinkers too.

In the beginning it was the Burgh Matrons, women, who the community, including the Kings, went to for advice. She was the wise one, that people would come to solve their disputes, to give advice and guidance on strategic actions of war and in dealing with people outside of Frya's lands. So, I don't agree with Simpson that women need to be BEHIND the throne of her man, they can sit side-by-side, just as a King and Queen would. Yes, they have different roles, but the roles have equal power and are complimentary- two halves of a whole.

Nietzsche said it best, Of Man there is little here: therefore, do their women masculinize themselves. For only he who is man enough will SAVE THE WOMAN in Woman. Simpson added, To have true women again, we must first have real men. In Frya's land the women WERE women, but if they had to pick up the sword to save their people they would. Such as Adela did when her family was ambushed.

Simpson also attempts to make the case that women should marry young, in their teens, marry a man at least ten years older, and have her first child before she turns twenty. This is where Simpson and I part in our views. It reminds me of Satanism where they treat the child as a young adult. And with the Abrahamic religions that say it's okay to marry a child and to even have sex with the girl. No way. We have morals written in our hearts and there is no way my heart tells me that this would ever be okay. Women are too immature in their teens, and it would be child rape, plain and simple. I also believe that the man and woman should be of SIMILAR age. This way they have similar levels of maturity as well as being able to relate to each other in all aspects of culture, history etc. Basically, growing up together.

Young birds don't breed with old birds, young lions with old lions. They breed with mates of similar ages. If you get two people together of different generations, they can't relate, and if they can't relate, they will have a loveless marriage. I understand Simpson is trying to work out the ideal situation where many children can be produced but you can't ignore the feelings of the heart and happiness. A couple in love makes for a happy family. Love is needed for the children to grow up happy and healthy.

If we look to The Oera Linda Book, young people were required to marry by the age of 25. That would include the woman AS WELL AS THE MAN. This would make them similar in age. And if we look to Hitler's Germany, there was no mention of men needing to be much older than their wives. Couples married of similar age and had happy and healthy marriages with many offspring.

Simpson goes on, stating that we should, allow men who are financially able, to have more than one wife, or to introduce concubinage.

Concubines? A Harem? Handmaid's Tale anyone? No way. Why even exist if we can't have love in marriage? Not a master-servant type role. Equals are what is needed.

Simpson even cites The Kinsey Report as if this is a good thing! Kinsey was a bisexual who didn't have a problem with having sex with children and had an open marriage with his wife and would have promiscuous sex. Simpson also says men can't be monogamous, but I think this is just an excuse for a weakness that Simpson has. In the time of The Oera Linda Book, men and women WERE monogamous. I wish Simpson had a chance to read this book for it could have helped him with his flawed thinking here. I almost stopped reading at this point, I was honestly disgusted. But I didn't want to throw out the baby with the bath water so to speak and I read on.

Simpson adds, Apparently the explanation is that when restraint is placed upon the sexual impulse of a population, there is a gradual accumulation of energy that finds an outlet in exploration, conquest of every sort, both material and spiritual, and every sort of cultural creativeness.

And I would add that yes, when man (and woman) behaves sexually as Wralda designed them, meaning in monogamous relationships without promiscuity, then that would open the doors to exploring and other creative outlets. Notice with the typical Fryan family they DID have many children, and the man WAS able to explore and do other endeavors. It is the sickness of the small hat where we get this promiscuity, through the use of drugs and pornography, among other social engineering. Because the small hat does NOT want us to follow our natural creative pursuits.

Little girls today are sexualized. The little girl feels that she has to look "sexy", like a prostitute, and that her most important goal in life is to "get a baby daddy." How awful and different from what Wralda intended. The days of the honorable and wise Burgh Matrons are a thing of the past, and the tender nurturer and teacher of the young known as the mother, is long forgotten. It seems even Simpson was ignorant to the true nature of Woman.

Internationalism versus Nationalism

INTERNATIONALSIM would break, or frustrate, or paralyze all the affinities and social structures by which individuals now band with others of their own kind for mutual defense against aggression, to ensure their security and independence, to shut out all human types they feel to be alien to themselves or inferior, and thus be free and able to work together toward the realization of their hopes, their dreams, and the destiny they feel stirring within them. By this means, NATIONALISM, they preserve their identity as a people and gain the collective strength to make of their common life an expression of themselves, something deeply satisfying, something in which they can take pride, something full of meaning and promise.

So, the International Bankers, the Jews, have to break all of our bonds so we are incapable of fighting back. Break us by country, by race and by family. We can see that going on today. Flooding our lands with Foreigners, with people of alien races, by having families turn on each other through religion and other social conditioning, until we are completely isolated individuals, with no bonds, no protection.

While on the other hand....

He (the Jew) may be the leader in the concerted and worldwide effort to break down segregation among OTHER peoples, but he certainly sticks to it doggedly for himself. In Israel, even today, marriage of Jews and gentiles is legally impossible; and in every orthodox Jewish congregation, any Jew who marries a gentile is marked off as dead.

Internationalism would atomize mankind... It would break down nations and people into a populace mishmash... Anybody could marry anybody. And in the end, there would be only one race the Earth over, the result of mixing all the races together. All men would become little more than slaves, fit only to labor under orders and to empty their pockets at the markets... The human being of the future is significantly and fittingly prefigured in the statue to Man that stands in the UN building in New York City- without sex, muscle, or any facial feature, and his hands behind his buttocks- where he can be easily manacled. The real and ultimate goal of the United Nations.

Twenty-five years ago (so over seventy-five from today) Dr. Einstein and President Hutchins lifted their voices to cry aloud to the world that after the atom bomb an international government was our only hope. Many other people have since followed suit. But through it all I have found reason to believe, that fear of the atom bomb was deliberately worked up in order to stampede the people of the Earth into the corral of a world slave state where, like cows, they could most easily and safely be milked- and in due time SLAUGHTERED.

Note what tribe Einstein is from. So, we know they are pushing this same program today with their fake Covid and Global Warming agendas.

Internationalism may hasten the day when red, white, yellow, and black will have so intermingled and intermarried, that there will no more be Americans, or English, or Russians, or Negroes, or Japanese, but only people only human beings... It is as though you would try to undo eons of evolution and would reduce roses, snapdragons, hollyhocks and Devil's paintbrushes- to one flower, reminiscent of each but preserving the beauty and fragrance of none.

The day is HERE when "there will no more be Americans". ANYONE can call themselves American today. You don't have to be White. You don't have to speak English. You don't even have to be born here. The American is extinct.

It is easy to criticize Hitler and the Nazis (quite apart from all the lies about them that we have been told), but as yet no one has pointed out how else the crushed German people could have got on their feet. American critics of Nationalism may regard it in a very different light when it comes to our turn to be the nation desperate.

The Necessity of Eugenics

Our national government spends over $300,000 per year to improve the genetic qualities of horses, cattle and pigs, but not a cent for the eugenic improvement of man.

Somehow it's okay to improve the genetics of animals but it is sinful to improve our own human race. Or has this social conditioning been put into our brain? What is the one tribe that IS doing everything they can to improve THEIR own race?

Our present social setup is steadily producing, as long as it lasts cannot fail to produce, a literal DEGENERATION of our kind, of the caliber of our national and racial stock. Our good and our best are being outbred by our mediocre and by our worst, and to be outbred means to be replaced, as surely as if they had been conquered by bombs and bayonets and then massacred. They are removed from the Earth. The masses multiply like rabbits, and our best- such best as we still have, though no longer the equal of our best of 50 to 100 years ago- are shoved into oblivion. We are steadily becoming a people of average lower intelligence, feebler character, and reduced stamina.

Inverse Eugenics Program

It reminds me of the movie Idiocracy.

The film tells the story of Corporal Joe Bauers, a US Army soldier of very average intelligence, who takes part in a government experiment that goes awry. Joe wakes up in the year 2505, when he finds out that he is the smartest person on the planet due to the dumbing down of the world from mass commercialism, rampant anti-intellectualism and the domination of what it calls low culture. But we know what is really going on, it is the INVERSE EUGENICS PROGRAM where Mass-man is breeding like rabbits and Higher-man is dying out, along with all of the social engineering promoting base culture of the lower races.

If we look to nature we do see the survival of the fittest in the species, where the weak die young and the strong reach maturity, mate and thus improve their offspring.

No one who sins against the laws of the universe ever escapes the consequences. And the law that I am particularly concerned about is this: Any organism that fails to excrete its waste products DIES.

But the greater tragedy is that most of us can look day after day upon this spectacle of obviously botched and sickly humanity without being overcome again and again by feelings of disgust and of dismay... More justly alarming and more ominous for the future of our country than even the prevalence of disease and ugliness in our midst is our INDIFFERENCE to them.

However, the problem of the insane is less disturbing than the problem of the feeble-minded. Feeblemindedness is a matter of a mind's failing to develop, whereas insanity is a matter of a mind's developing abnormally. There are several grades of mental defectiveness. The IDIOT has the intelligence of an average child of 2 to 4 years, and can learn to do only the simplest tasks. The IMBECILE, with the intelligence of a child of 3 to 7, is unable to earn himself a living. The MORON has a mental age of 7 to 12, and under direction can be more or less self-supporting and a humbly useful member of society.

These three grades occur in about the proportions of 3, 15, and 82 percent respectively of the defective population. Above this entire group comes the yet larger number of the border-line and dull normal people, who in many ways constitute the greatest danger of all, for the reason that, though they have a grade of intelligence little above that of children, they cannot be treated as children or be put under supervision, but on the contrary are endowed with CITIZENSHIP, (the RIGHT TO VOTE) and a degree of responsibility they are quite unqualified to bear.

Notice the MORON is the border-line functioning member of society. And notice how the OMICRON Virus is given to the ignorant and brainwashed. OMICRON is a perfect anagram for MORONIC.

Like in Brave New World, Alphas, Betas, Deltas and Epsilons (Morons).

No Homogeneity

But today, (in America), we have NO homogeneity. It is not only that so many of the faces look evil, brutish, slack, stupid and dirty, but they are foreign, they look alien, and they are alien to one another... Minorities write the law of the land. Minorities of aliens, multitudes of them, grow fat and rule, while the bulk of the people, many of them descendants of those who founded and built the country, who love it and would die for it, are turned into patient, befuddled suckers, who foot the bills to finance their own destruction.

We know this same program is going on in ALL White countries today. The recently elected Prime Minister of the UK Rishi Sunak is of Indian descent. Rishi means SAINT and SUNAK means DOG in Sanskrit- So SAINT DOG and DOG is the inverse of GOD. Saint Dog would mean MAN becoming GOD, which is exactly the philosophy of the ones in power today. Morals and DOGma. DOGMA backwards is AM GOD. And we know 10 is another way for them to write IO their androgynous Baphomet. The Masonic BLACK door with WHITE lettering flanked by the Masonic brickwork.

Rishi Sunak~ Saint Dog~ Morals and DOGma~ Am God

Notice the briefcase going from RED to GREEN. Green light? It's a "go" with Rishi?

Riffraff

The most disturbing feature of the population problem is the fact that the largest number of children per marriage is born to human riffraff, while the men who can most surely be counted upon to produce capacity in their children are not even perpetuating themselves... The land is being slowly handed over to the masses... Every nation has a proportion of people who, by their very existence and as long as they live, can do nothing but cause problems and be a burden on the back of the reset of society.

The Doctrine of the Thoroughbred

At least one out of every ten people, to put it very conservatively and safely, has to be carried by the rest of us. Year by year, the people approach ever nearer to the state of a confused and helpless horde. America is a veritable cult of the mongrel, of the hybrid.

On Inbreeding

Now here we get into another taboo topic. But unlike child-brides, I agree with Simpson on Inbreeding. We have to look at what Inbreeding actually is and not get triggered by the social programming placed on the word.

Simpson quotes Darwin stating, In England and many parts of Europe the marriages of cousins are objected to from their supposed injurious consequences, but this belief rests on no direct evidence. It is therefore manifestly desirable that the belief should either be proven false or should be confirmed.

Like should marry like. Kind should be with kind. Darwin married his first cousin, Emma Wedgwood.

First Cousins- Emma Wedgewood and Charles Darwin

The Kings of Persia intermarried with their sisters. The Athenians and Spartans intermarried. In the beginning when the tribes of Frya were first forming, brothers, sisters, cousins HAD to engage with one another to perpetuate our tribe. And if we look to nature, we don't see Red-Headed Cardinals mating with Full Reds or Red Bulbul Cardinals, not only that, birds are very territorial and they wouldn't even fly outside of their flock to mate. So essentially, they would have to mate with their siblings to perpetuate their "tribe", their flock.

But, we humans are more social and mingle outside of our immediate familial units and so if we mate with as like-kind as possible outside of our family unit, we can achieve similar results. We should look for a mate as close to ourselves as possible. So, for example, a blonde-haired blue-eyed Fryan with an IQ of 125, should look for a Fryan boy with blonde hair and blue eyes of equal intelligence. Like ATTRACTS like. So, this wouldn't be so hard if it wasn't for all of the social conditioning put upon us.

Inverse Eugenics

By not being conscious of who we seek for a partner and ending up with someone that is NOT like-kind, like the moronic saying "opposites attract", is detrimental to our gene pool. It is EVOLUTION IN REVERSE. It is INVERSE EUGENICS.

Simpson goes one step further on what it means to marry outside of our race and IQ level, by saying, Any system of values that consistently weakens, or poisons, or frustrates LIFE, by that single token is seen to be in fact the supreme IMMORALITY. To betray ascending life, the purpose of which is ever to surpass itself, ever to give birth to that which is beyond itself, THAT is the supreme crime- worse than embezzlement, worse than treason, worse than adultery or rape, worse than murder. This is what I think of any religion, or morality, or political doctrine that would sacrifice the whole to the part and betray the higher to the lower.

Hitler knew this and offered a most decent proposal to young men and women in Germany. To promote the making of big German families Hitler offered taxed breaks to young couples. They would pay a quarter less tax for the birth of each child, and so if the couple had four or more, they would pay no taxes. In addition, he had the German banks give loans at zero interest so the young couple could buy a house, and he oversaw the manufacturing of the Volkswagen Beetle, a car so economic, every German family could own one.

Racism ~ Eugenics ~ Inbreeding

So, it's this idea of breeding outside of our tribe that is killing our tribe. The small hats breed within their tribe. They perpetuate THEIR tribe, but somehow if we Whites do the same it is immoral for us. Breeding OUTSIDE of our tribe is IMMORAL, NOT inbreeding. Inbreeding is MORAL and follows the laws of nature. INBREEDING, another term that they have taken and used against us. RACISM, EUGENICS and INBREEDING are what keep our tribe whole and healthy, but through social programming we are taught the inverse of the truth.

Is Race a Reality?

The Jew and former Prime Minister of Great Britain, Benjamin Disraeli (D' Israeli means OF ISRAEL), actually wrote, All is race; there is no other truth. It is the key to history. And every race must fall which carelessly suffers its blood to become mixed.

In the case of the 'Dying Persian', where one can see at a glance not only the vast difference between Persian and Assyrian, Arab, Jew or Negro, but also that the ancient Persian and Greek were like enough to be cousins and obviously were sprung from the same Nordic and Aryan stock.

Yes, and The Oera Linda Book proves that they did. Persians were simply Fryans (Aryans) that had migrated to India and then over to Persia. These were followers of Gert, known as the Gertmanna, and today known as the Germans, who lived for thousands of years in these areasracially pure until at last they sailed back to Frya's land. The ones that stayed behind would have eventually mixed, by their free will or not, with the locals and so left some of their blood in the veins of the Indians and Persians with the lighter complexions.

Xerxes of Persia

Now let's look at what some of our Higher-Men have said on the topic.

What President Thomas Jefferson really said on the race issue: Nature, habit, opinion have drawn indelible lines of distinction between them. It is still in our power to direct the process of emancipation and deportation, peaceably, and in such slow degree, as that the evil will wear off insensibly, and their place be, 'pari passu,' filled up by free white laborers. If, on the contrary, it is left to force itself on, human nature must shudder at the prospect held up.

When Jefferson penned the term "all men are created equal" in the Declaration of Independence, as a rally cry of his fellow citizens against the King of England, It is referred to equality of rights as between two groups of Anglo-Saxons and it could scarcely have occurred to Jefferson and his contemporaries that future generation would strain these words to refer to equality of innate capacity among different races. Jefferson's published writings prove that he believed the Negro to be grossly inferior to Whites both in their mentality and in their character.

What Lincoln really said on the race issue was even firmer then Jefferson's comments since the Equalitarian Doctrine was being pushed on the American people all the more just sixty years later.

I have no purpose to introduce political and social equality between the White and Black races... I am not, nor ever have been in favor of making voters or jurors of Negroes, not of qualifying them to hold office, or intermarry with White people; and I will say in addition to this that there is a physical difference between the White and Black races which I believe will forever forbid the races living together on terms of social and political equality. And inasmuch as they cannot so live, while they do remain together there must be the position of superior and inferior, and I as much as any other man am in favor of having the superior position assigned to the White race... I give... the most solemn pledge that I will to the very last stand by the law of the State, which forbids the marrying of White people with Negroes.

Like Jefferson, Madison and Clay before him, Lincoln believed that the only sure solution of the race problem in our country was the complete removal of the Negro from our soil. He conceived a plan for it during the Civil War, and Congress persuaded to make the necessary initial appropriations. He also proposed an amendment to the Federal Constitution that would have authorized Congress to put his ideal of full repatriation into effect.

So, we saw Jefferson's stance and we saw Lincoln's stance when the race issue was even more dire. What about today? What do our Presidents of today do? They not only let our land be flooded with aliens, they HELP them by arranging for buses to deliver them all over our country. Put them up in hotels and give them credit cards to purchase food and other necessities. They talk about building a wall between the US and Mexico, but we KNOW it will never happen because these modern-day Presidents are completely controlled by the International Bankers- the Jews.

The Advancement of Communism

But no matter what may be said about the methods the equalitarians have used, all informed men must acknowledge that they have made enormous progress toward their goal of an equalitarian world. That which thirty years ago appeared only in books and papers is now preached, taught, proclaimed, accepted, ordered and enforced everywhere.

And this was in 1970! Look how much FARTHER they have come today. By their audacity and by using their superior position, they are drowning their opponents in noise.

On the History of the Negro

Despite what you've been told, Negro history has not been obliterated. There wasn't any. During the past 5,000 years the history of Black Africa is blank. Not just here. Everywhere. It's blank in Africa too. Until other races arrived, there was no literate civilization south of the Sahara Desert. The Black African had not invented a plow or a wheel, domesticated an animal or a crop. He had no written language (and therefore, of course, no literature whatsoever), no numerals, no calendar or system of measurement.

What cannot be too often and too forcefully stressed... is that all developments such as road, railways, bridges, irrigation schemes, mines, factories, schools, hospitals and so on in Africa south of the Sahara have been solely due to the initiative of Europeans. The still largely primitive Africans have not as yet acquired the necessary skill merely to maintain the legacy left by Whites, let alone to organize further developments.

In Rhodesia, back in the late '80's, now called Zimbabwe, they ran all the White farmers out of the country during the Bush War. And so, in just a few short months, the Blacks either didn't want to work the fields or didn't know how to, the farm equipment went to shit for lack of maintenance, and the farms stopped producing food. The Rhodesian government was begging for the White farmers to return to the country and farm. The country went from one that wholly was able to feed its people, to one that needed handouts from the world community, or its people would starve.

The History of Haiti

After the Negroes massacred the last of the White population in 1804, Haiti remained a part of Santo Domingo until 1844 when it became a separate 'republic'. Between 1844 and 1915 only one Haitian President completed his term of office. Fourteen were ousted by armed uprisings, one was blown up, one was poisoned, and another was hacked to pieces by a mob. Between 1908 and 1915 the revolutions and assassinations increased so rapidly that a United States military occupation was needed to restore order. This lasted from 1915 to 1934. Thereafter followed twelve years of rule by a mulatto elite which ended in the resumption of control by the black military in 1946. Since then, wholesale corruption and political murder have been the rule... As soon as he is left to himself, he everywhere falls back into the most absolute primitive African savagery... What all this reveals is not only lack of intelligence and long experience in civilized living, but inflammable emotions, absence of self-control and self-discipline, and raw instincts that border on the beast... When these observations are place side-by-side with the records of monstrous African savagery within the past decade, and we recall the inevitable genetic sequences that bind generations together, we know that to the extent to which any Negro today, in the United States, carries in him the genes that trace back to his savage African forebears, we must expect that, sooner or later, there or there, under provocation or without provocation, the beast in him will come out.

Our NATURE is built into our DNA. We ARE different under the skin. We can't make any species that have a particular nature into one without this particular nature. More prone to violence, living in the now, NOT understanding consequences, lacking EMPATHY, IS the nature of a particular race.

Negroes in America Today

Unrelenting propaganda has brought it about that any racial discrimination against Negroes is now almost universally looked upon as a sign of ignorance, and evidence of moral and spiritual benightedness and degeneracy. Befuddled and spiritless Whites have come to fear it as a kind of disgrace, of which they are at pains and always in haste to clear themselves. Hollywood, for decades, has been putting on an endless succession of plays in which the Negro males make love to White women- openly giving the impression that such relations are permissible, and even that they are now "quite the thing". Television brazenly pictures comely young blonde women in the embraces of the blackest and most devilish looking Negroes, who have the appearance more of apes than of men. This tends to give our women the impression not only that we are in a new moral world, where virtually anything is permitted, but-moreover-that affairs with Negroes are the vogue, and that thereby their social status can actually be improved. Negro men make the most satisfying sexual partners, they are led to believe, and since relations with them ceased to be shameful and need no longer be clandestine, they may with good reason be welcomed and even invited. Despite the Negro's inferior intelligence and his origin in what every civilized society in the world looks down upon as its lowest class, amours and even marriage with him serve as a means by which a White woman can demonstrate to the world that she belongs to the intellectual Avant Garde of the new age, that she is emancipated from conventions and champions the brotherhood of man.

Like Lambs to the Slaughter

All authority and force and machinery of the White man's world, which ought to operate for our own well-being and to save us, seems to be in the hands of those who seek our destruction... and as things are now-with the way to integration and to race-mixing laid wide open, made smooth and easy, and pleasant and even profitable, and with White people behaving like a drove of stupid sheep, being tricked, kicked, goaded and whipped into accepting and following it, the disaster must come swiftly. And it was this prospect of exactly this fate that made Jefferson shudder and Lincoln appalled.

The Fateful Crisis Confronting Western Man

Nowhere can one discern the slightest indication that in the great majority of our people the racial instinct of self-preservation has now been lost. The question remains unanswered, however, for we cannot yet determine whether the instinct has been extinguished or is merely in abeyance while our people are in a kind of cataleptic trance from which they may be aroused by physical suffering and acute privation when the time comes, as it assuredly will in a few years. We are born into this time, and there is no escape from it save in death. Our situation is desperate, and we can afford no illusions, no retreat into a land of dreams. Now, more than ever, OPTIMISM IS COWARDICE. ~ Revilo P. Oliver

Nothing can disturb their confidence that the United States is invincible, that an enemy who might assail their walls would be repulsed, and therefore they don't have even the shadow of a suspicion that the enemy who is most likely to destroy them has long been deeply entrenched inside their own defenses.

Symptoms of decay and breakdown from within include:

(1) A rapid increase in lawlessness and crime.

Just look at San Francisco for example, store employees don't even stop thieves from stealing whatever they want. And with most crimes in California today, once a perpetrator gets arrested, they let them back out on the streets, no bail needed, with just a court summons.

(2) The deterioration and breakdown of our entire system of education.

With big-breasted trannies teaching our children and reading books about how to perform anal and oral sex.

(3) The flabbiness and ill health of our children.

With boys commonly now developing breasts. Just a generation before we NEVER saw this!

(4) The promiscuity of our younger generation.

With their gutter mouths and complete defiance of authority.

And

(5) turning our young boys and girls into LGBTQ lost souls.

Who can't have a normal family with children. Another tool of theirs to lower the White population.

Civil War is Upon Us

The desperateness of the situation only grows upon us as we witness the universal turmoil and tension that pervade the country, turning one class segment of the population against another, until it seems we may be on the verge of tearing ourselves to pieces in a universal free-for-all civil war, in which each part of the population throws to the winds all concern for the general welfare in a struggle to establish its own dominance and promote its own interests.

It is precisely in this remorseless situation, when he is most desperately in need of getting his bearings, of ascertaining where he is, and how he can pull himself together to move with firm foot and with all the strength there is in him- it is precisely now, as never before in his history, that he finds himself most confused and shaky, about right and wrong, high and low, and even about himself, about his past, and about his worth as compared with the rest of humanity.

Amity vs Enmity

I have been saying that the primary fact of life is conflict and struggle. All significant human development has been the result of rising to meet some challenge. However, men very early learned to relieve the pressure of the struggle on the individual and to increase his security and well-being by the formation of groups of individuals- of like blood and experience, of like mind and interest, and united by allegiance to a dual code. WITHIN the group the rule was MUTUAL TRUST, loyalty and cooperation- in short, AMITY. This, in due time, produced homogeneity and a solidarity in which was massed a strength vastly beyond anything with the reach of the individual standing alone. Fortified with this strength the group faces OUTSIDERS, all those who did not belong to it- and this is the other side of the dual code- with indifference, SUSPICION, antagonism, and readiness for war. Here the rule was ENMITY.

Look how close ENMITY is to ENEMY.

Amity ~ Enmity ~ Enemy

I differ with Simpson here only in that we STARTED out as a homogenous group. We were BORN in a tribe of like-kind. We didn't have to gravitate together because of common interests etc. Each tribe was born in their particular Zoological zones, and only because of travel, due to natural disasters or exploration, did we come across each other and then eventually mix.

Lincoln's efforts to hold off the international bankers had ended in his assassination and the country was more and more given over to the looters. By 1920 America has taken in over 23 million immigrants, largely from southeastern Europe, from those of its peoples most alien to our original stock of blood. Since then, we have dumped additional millions of foreigners upon ourselves, from all parts of the Earth-Mexicans, Puerto Ricans, Hawaiians, Japanese, Chinese- and, of course, from the very beginning of our country, a steady influx of Jews, who by now have thoroughly honeycombed our society from top to bottom. The most gifted of all this non-Nordic immigration, the Jews and the Mongolians, have in any case, been so determined to maintain their racial identity as to make assimilation virtually impossible: they have simply become encysted as a foreign organism in our body politic. And thus, all this vast conglomeration of alienness was added to the great body of alienness that inheres in the 22 million Negroes in our midst. In consequence, the full-blooded Nordic man today often feels himself fairly swamped in alienness. He has lost his own country. It has passed out of his hands. In effect, he has been dispossessed and is now living in what has become a land of foreigners.

A Dirty Word ~ Conquest

Though he was born to conquer and has an immemorial record of conquering behind him, "conquest has been made a discredited word, almost a 'dirty' word, and the thing itself, a crime. Thus, the White man has been left not only split and confused but frustrated and even ashamed of himself- ashamed of his mastery, ashamed of his empires, ashamed even of his very ancestors TO WHOM HE IS SUPREMELY INDEBTED FOR ALL THAT HE IS AND FOR ALL THAT HE HAS.

Belief in equality has become the one orthodoxy that it is considered positively shameful and disreputable to question, and anyone that dares to challenge it will soon have all the New Inquisition beating down on him to cow him into submission, or even to destroy him.

Sword wielding black Viking Zulu warrior female princess with her Viking clan in front of a mountain range

You Racist!!!

The White man's own judgement as to what is true and false, right and wrong, have come to be shaken by the conflicting indoctrination he has undergone. It keeps him from acting upon his disgust, his indignation and anger when they seize upon him, is the fact that he does not know where or how to lay his hand, with any certainty, on those who are of his own kind, his own race, who could be counted on to stand with him. Without such solidarity, there is no way by which, in an hour of supreme peril, the strength of one can suddenly be multiplied into the strength of millions. There is no means, in fact, by which they can even find one another in a crowd. They have been gradually broken down into a loose collection of separate units each pretty much fending for himself, and often, it seems, virtually lost in a motley mass of humanity.

On the Jews

The Jews were the Magy of old, that the Fryans tried to warn us about. The Magy AND their Christianity were our enemies, even back then. But alas, a portion of our people were more concerned with service-to-self and sold out their countrymen for a more comfortable life and so, didn't listen to the warnings and embraced both.

We who have posed as the saviors of the world, we who have even boasted of having given it THE Savior, we are today nothing else than the world's seducers, its destroyers, its incendiaries, its executioners. ~ Dr. Oscar Levy

The TRAITOR Odin has been turned into one of our "gods" by the TRADERS.

Traitor ~ Trader

Their operation is so insidious that exceedingly few of our people have any awareness of what has been going on, and of what, in consequence, hangs over them. For one thing, they have lived in a false sense of security growing out of their very numbers. But more than that, it is a kind of warfare very contrary to their traditions and their instincts, and largely outside their experience. If a man clouts us on the head, as it were, we can pretty well be counted on to square off against him. But when we fight a man, we will do it openly. We are not looking for sneak attacks. We despise hitting below the belt. No matter what incidents may be told of Nordic men to the contrary, there is no denying that, from the days of the first Aryans in India and Persia down to the modern Scandinavians and British, the legends and sagas of our forefathers have held up before our people the ideals of honor, courage, truthfulness, and straightforward dealing. In consequence, when an enemy comes against us with poison bait, traps, lies, hypnotism, and plausible suggestions, we tend to fall an easy victim. We have never learned to be on guard against an enemy (especially an enemy within our gates) who had devoted the sharpening of his intellect to make him sly and wily, and thus we have left ourselves without adequate protection. Hence, our people's need today to be alerted to the almost invisible siege that was long ago laid against them... They have consistently succeeded in forcing their will upon our people, to THEIR great advantage and OUR great hurt.

Usurocracy

The Fryans also tried to warn us about Usury. They knew in their hearts it was immoral. But alas we didn't listen. In modern day, the Poet Ezra Pound raised the alarm as well. He coined the system USUROCRACY, which means – "the rule of the big usurers combined in conspiracy." They rewarded Ezra for bringing this awareness to his people by putting him in an insane asylum where he remained a prisoner until a few years before his death.

Our present Money System is the most fantastic, the most morally monstrous, the most treasonous and alarming affair in the history of mankind.

So much is the issuing of money a mark of a government's sovereignty, that whenever it is surrendered the government ceases to be the real ruler, ceases to be free, and becomes little better than a puppet in the hands of a power greater than itself, which it is forced to obey. The Constitution have to Congress the power to coin money and to regulate its value (to the end that the price level should remain stable) even from generation to generation.

Lincoln was killed, yes, because he wanted to send the slaves back to Africa, but ALSO because he issued Greenbacks, which essentially cut out the middle-man, the International Bankers, who couldn't profit off of them. Hitler did the same thing, he wanted to send THEM back to Israel, but ALSO, he issued his own version of Greenbacks, cutting the middle-man out once again.

What Lincoln gave the American people; Hitler gave the German peopletheir own paper to pay their own debts.

Remember the stories of no gold in Fort Knox? Or how there was all this gold in the basement of the World Trade Center that suddenly disappeared? Or how about Alex Jones selling all the newly awakened gold, explaining that Fiat currency is bad because it has no intrinsic value? These were ALL planted by the bankers, because they didn't want us to know that the best system is one in which is backed by the trust of the people in their government and is INTEREST FREE. No gold backing needed!

The Truth Behind WW2

Hitler began his rule by breaking with the international bankers. He believed that Germany could never be a sovereign and really independent state so long as she had to live on borrowed money. Instead of going to the bankers for money to buy what she had to procure from abroad, she bartered (that is, swapped) some of her surplus to obtain what she needed from the surplus of other nations- without debt being incurred on either side. And with this approach Germany was soon crowding out all competitors. Moreover, for the money required to finance here vast programs for a complete regeneration of the life of the German people and for making Germany the most powerful state in Europe, he simply issued what money was needed, on the authority of the German Government, and based it not on gold, of which he had none, but on the productive wealth of the land within German confines, combined with the productivity inherent in German brains and German labor.

And it proved sound. It worked. In less than ten years, Germany became easily the most powerful state in Europe. It worked so magically and magnificently that it sounded the death knell of the entire Jewish money system. World Jewry knew that they had to destroy Hitler's system by whatever means might prove necessary, or their own would necessarily die. And if it died, with it must die their dream and their hope of making themselves masters of the world. The primary issue over which the Second World War was fought was to determine which money system was to survive. At bottom, it was NOT a war between Germany and the so-called Allies. Primarily, it was a war to the death between Germany and the International Money Power. In this war, Germany fought for Europe, the racial homeland of Nordic White men and the cradle of Western civilization, while Britain, France and the United States were deliberately tricked into betraying their own kind and joining hands with their Jewish enemies to make this International Money Power the master of the world. The plain consequences was that we fought to fasten the manacles of slavery on our own writs, and we probably sealed the White man's doom.

The Jew-nited States of America

Other countries can see our Jewishness, but somehow the White man in all of his White countries is blind to this fact.

We have become so used to our Jewishness that it would almost require the clear eyes of a creature from Mars to perceive HOW Jewish we ARE. The Jew has taken our very land from under us and ruined it. He has take our civilization and our whole intellectual and spiritual world and perverted it, soiled it, corrupted it, and all but destroyed it. And he means also to destroy us as a people, utterly, beyond recovery, in body as well as in mind and soul. And he has done it in wanton betrayal of our trust, after he had sworn allegiance to the country of his adoption, after we had taken him in and given him harborage and opportunity and protection, as if he were one of our own kind. He has done it in every country of the White man's world, but worst of all in the heartland of our world, in Europe and Britain. He has always done it, wherever he went. He will always go on doing it, unless he is stopped. A friend of mine in New York, years ago, observed- in my judgment, quite justly- that the Jew has us by the throat and will see us dead before he relaxes his hold. Since the Jew has never yet, anywhere, built a great State or civilization, it is safe to assume that he cannot; it isn't in him. But he is the most fearful destroyer in the history of man.

For when our government is overthrown and the independence of the United States comes to an end, it will be only a matter of time until there will be that reign of terror and that mass liquidation of opponents which all modern social revolutions have used to consolidate their gains. If precedent in other countries may be accepted as a basis for reliable estimate, some 20 million American men will be dragged out to be done to death in one manner or another. The purpose will be to strip our country of all those whose brains, courage, drive and devotion might enable them to tear the Communist vampire off our backs.

But, after all, I just can't imagine that any Jewish world despotism will hold together very long. On the face of it, nothing could be more preposterous than the idea of a handful of people undertaking to put some three billion human beings in chains and to hold them there! The Jew simply does not know how to rule wisely and beneficently, with understanding, generosity and humanity. His rule would surely chafe and gall, then incense and finally infuriate to such a degree that no threats or punishments would long hold down the universal seething insurrection that, in the end, would surely sweep him away.

Which way goest thou, Western Man?

Unfortunately, there is nowhere TO go today. We are past the point of no return. The best we can do is wake up as many of our people as possible. So, they can get a firm footing to fight. Overcoming THEM is nearly impossible now, we need a reset. RESET is one letter off from REST. We need the reset so we CAN rest. So, we can enter the next phase on Wralda's Wheel- the Golden Age. But I don't like the word GOLDEN. It reminds me of our Usurpers. I prefer calling it the ARYAN AGE.

RESET-REST-PEACE

My fellow Aryans. All the best, Kat

